Nittany Party Elects Schulte Clique Chairman

Nittany party elected Charles Schulte clique chairman at a clique meeting Sunday.

Schulte appointed the following committee heads: Vera Owens, publicity; Dominic Acciarri and Dori Mawhinney, contact; Robert Barefoot, platform; and George Snook, publicity.

The party will complete nominations and elect candidates for the coming elections at a clique meeting, 401 Old Main, 7 p. m. Sunday.

Forty-seven foreign born students, representing 26 different countries are currently enrolled at the College.

Prize-Winning Wood Engraving

SPRING PLOWING, a wood engraving by Dr. Warren B. Mack of the College was awarded the Warren H. Manning Purchase Prize of the Southern Printmakers Society in 1943. It is now being exhibited throughout Pennsylvania by the College's Extension Library packet service.

PSCA Upperclass Club Announces Supper-Dance

Using the St. Patrick's Day theme, PSCA Upperclass Club will stage a Supper-Dance in the Hugh Beaver room, Old Main at 6:30 tonight. Reservations for the Supper-Dance may be obtained in the PSCA office for 40 cents, until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Students from other countries, X-G-I's, and new Upperclass Club members are invited to the affair.

Sara Achenbach, president, announces the following committee chairmen: Lois Smith, program; Marian Bryan, decorations; Patricia Reiff and Elvira Holmes, food; Nancy Sherriff and Herbert Mendt, hospitality; Joan Bower and Helen Howe, publicity; Rae Emerick, Ria Hanzlik, and Sally Knapp, tickets; Carolyn Currier, Florence Porter, and Stanley Coville, arrangements; Robert McGregor and Elmer McCurdy, dance.

Anyone who wishes to join the Upperclass Club may do so by contacting Miss Betty Farrow or James Smith in the PSCA office.

Second Semester Club

Louis Bell, college editor, will discuss "Penn State in the News" at the Second Semester Club meeting in 304 Old Main, at 7 p. m. Monday night. Mr. Bell, who is director of the College Public Information department, will explain how the names of Penn State men and women make news in local and nationally-known newspapers.

Prof. Joseph O'Brien will speak on "How To Make a Meeting Click" in the PSCA room, 8 p. m. Monday evening to all Freshman men. Nominations for officers of the Council will be made during the meeting. Upperclass councilors for the Council are George Paul Jones and Stanley Coville.

The Passover

Rabbi Victor Eppstein of Hillel Foundation will discuss "The Passover" at the weekly Lenten vesper service in the Hugh Beaver room, 4:30 p. m. Thursday afternoon. Bernice Nalven will be in charge of the meeting.

PSCA Commission Four, the community service commission, will entertain Milbrook children at a party next Saturday. Clare Morrison and Dorothy Colyer are co-chairmen of the commission.

50 Countries Represented

The botany greenhouses at the College contain more than 5000 plants representative of at least 50 different countries.

College Enrolls 138 Vets

One hundred and thirty-eight war veterans, including a former WAVE and a former SPAR, are enrolled at the College this semester under the GI Bill of Rights system.

Of that number, 43 are previous Penn State students who were here before either as regular civilian students or as members of the V-12 or AST program.

Last semester, 75 returned veterans enrolled at the College.

Davis To Discuss Postwar Papers

Donald W. Davis, associate professor of Journalism, will discuss "The Newspaper of Tomorrow" in 121 Sparks, at 8 p. m. Tuesday evening. Prof. Davis' talk will be the fourth in the current series of Liberal Arts lectures.

The major part of the newspaperman's lecture will be devoted to the impending trends and forces in the newspaper field, such as changes in news gathering, editorial interpretation, and the mechanics of newspaper production and distribution. In addition, Prof. Davis will mention the possibilities of the facsimile or home-recorded newspaper in the postwar world.

In illustrating his topic, the speaker will use screen slides and other display material. A number of slides that will be shown in explanation of the facsimile newspaper are the first to be prepared and released on this subject.

Professor Davis has been associated with newspaper problems and practices for 25 years. For 17 years he was with the Springfield (Mass.) Republican and affiliated newspapers, much of this time in an executive capacity. At present he teaches advertising in the journalism department.

William H. Gray, associate professor of Latin American history, is chairman of the Liberal Arts lecture committee. This group includes Stuart A. Mahuran, associate professor of journalism, Clayton H. Schug, associate professor of public speaking, and John C. Major, associate professor of English composition.

1845

Spickness and spanness were de rigueur in the colleges of the 1840s. This portrait depicts a member of the Class of 1845 attired for the Junior Prom. Observe the height of his stock and the costly ruffles on his shirt.

In that same year, 1845, the Mexican War was imminent. Railway Express service was 6 years old. The colleges were few. Now, a century later, America is fighting a global war, the colleges are counted by thousands, and our service is nation-wide.

Today, the colleges are training students for the armed services; and the rail and air facilities of Railway Express are being largely utilized for the speeding of war-goods shipments. So, to help all concerned, please do three simple things with your 1945 home packages and baggage: Pack them securely—address clearly and adequately—avoid abbreviating state names.
