WSGA Limits Customs For Incoming Frosh

A revision of freshman customs has been passed by WSGA at the suggestion of Judicial. In the future freshmen customs, composed of name cards and green ribbons, will be limited to two months. At the close of this two month period all customs will be removed.

This change in customs was considered necessary because when customs are extended over an indefinite period they lose their effect, and many freshmen stop wearing customs completely.

Jeanne Richards Resigns Position In Dean's Office

Miss Jeanne Richards recently resigned as assistant in the Office of the Dean of Women, it was announced today by Charlotte E. Ray, Dean of Women. Miss Richards has been appointed personnel advisor to women at the Standard Oil Company at Elizabeth, N. J.

Having transferred from American University, Washington, Miss Richards was graduated from the School of Education of the College in June 1941. Until February, 1940, she worked in the placement office of the School of Education as secretary.

Miss Richards worked as secretary in the office of the Dean of Women from February 1943 until July, 1943 when she became assistant in that office.

While associated with the College, she served as advisor to Cwens, national sophomore women's honorary, Panhellenic Council, and Alpha Chi Omega, national social fraternity.

The sorority will mark the fiftieth anniversary of its founding on Sunday. A formal banquet will be held at the Nittany Lion Inn tomorrow night. Pledges from other sororities will be guests of Chi Omega pledges at tea on Sunday.

DELTA GAMMA pledges gave a tea last Saturday for other sorority pledges.

KAPPA DELTA pledges and actives plan a roller-skating party tonight at the Coliseum.

PHI MU actives and pledges held an informal supper at their house last Sunday. New officers of the chapter were installed on Monday night.

Outside Jobs Help Mothers

Women who combine homemaking with outside jobs often prove superior mothers, a College child expert has stated.

"Most mothers enjoy their children more for having been away from them for a few hours, if the children are well-cared for in their absence," Dr. Winona Morgan, head of the nursery school, believes.

The important thing in family life, she emphasized, is not the total time the parents and children spend together but the quality of the relationship while they are together. A woman bogged down by housework, she added, may be less able to cope with her children than one who works part of each day.

When the mother has an outside job, Dr. Morgan feels fathers will assume more responsibility for the care of the children—"to the children's benefit," she added.

Last year, 164,906 persons in this country died of cancer.
