

Student Courts Interpret All College Regulations

Tribunal and Judicial are the judiciary boards that try men and women students respectively for violation of regulations set by All-College Cabinet or Women's Student Government Association.

Tribunal is composed of eight men students, all appointed by the Cabinet chairman with the approval of Cabinet. Two of the members are eighth semester, and the rest are chosen from the fifth, sixth, and seventh semester classes. Chairman of Tribunal is also appointed by Cabinet.

The committee has the power to punish any man student found guilty of breaking customs or rules set by Cabinet and to investigate charges of conduct detrimental to the College. Penalties for violations can include expulsion if the action is serious enough to warrant it. Tribunal meets every Wednesday night, and tries from 5 to 20 cases during the evening.

Members of Tribunal this semester are: Guy Newton, chairman; Patrick Brennan, Frank Brown, Edward Carson, Stanley Chadwin, Martin Cohn, Judd Healy, and Michael Lynch.

Judicial committee performs the same duties for women students that Tribunal does for men. The committee interprets dormitory regulations and the code of rules set by WSGA, and deals out punishment when the rules are violated.

Judicial is composed of eight members, all chosen by the Dean of Women in their freshman year to serve on the committee four years. This semester's members are Betty Robinson, chairman; Lois App, Kay Badollet, Anna Harwick, Theresa Haskins, Patricia Meilly, Marie Schanbacher, and Joan Schearrer.

The committee meets every Tuesday night to try women students who have entered the dormitory more than 20 minutes late or who have broken WSGA rules. In addition to this duty, Judicial handles all special permissions requested by women students from the Dean of Women.

Judicial is part of WSGA. Its chairman is an ex-officio member of Senate, which supervises all its activities and approves appointments.

A special freshman customs board, organized last summer to alleviate the duties of Judicial, tries all freshman women accused of violating customs rules. Members of this board, all chosen from Freshman Council, are Kay Badollet, chairman; Virginia Gillespie, Marjorie McCall, Patricia Meilly, Janet Mollenaur, Jonelle Phillips, Susan Romig, and Marilyn Schaub.

Russian Club Will Meet To Discuss Geography

The members of the Russian Club will meet to discuss the geography of Russia, in the Alumni Association room, at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Margaret Baganich, president, will open the meeting with a speech on the topic, and a group discussion will follow. The College geography department will contribute maps to be used at the meeting.

The Alumni Association has granted the use of its room to the organization for all future meetings. No definite meeting place has been used by the club before.

Plans are being made to hold a party for the celebration of the Russian Easter which falls on May 6.

Drop-Add Checks Ready

Drop-add refunds are ready today at the Bursar's office.

Students who want deferment of fees for the summer semester may obtain application blanks May 1, stated Bursar Russell E. Clark.

Help for GI Joes

A 14-man committee has been created at the College to counsel returning war veterans.

Placement 4 Firms Interview

Representatives of four companies will interview students next week, according to George P. Leetch, director of College Placement Service. Arrangements for interviews should be made in 204 Old Main.

Monday—A representative of the Sylvania Electric Products Company will speak to electrical, chemical, and mechanical engineering and chemistry, physics, and mathematics students.

Monday and Tuesday—Miss Mary E. Aiken of the quality department of H. J. Heinz Company will interview coeds for summer work. Students majoring in home economics, ag-bio chemistry, medical technology, chemistry, and bacteriology are qualified.

Wednesday—Miss Mary Koss of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company will interview seniors majoring in commerce and finance, mathematics, secretarial science, and science.

Friday—J. E. Smith of the Armstrong Cork Company will talk with eighth semester students who graduate in mechanical, chemical, industrial, and electrical engineering, and physics, commercial chemistry, commerce and finance, and secretarial science.

X-G-I Club To Issue Cards To Identify Members

Members of the X-G-I Club will be identified by a membership card to be issued each semester to every member in good standing, Commander Pat Brennan announced at a recent meeting.

Brennan also declared that the X-G-I Club has no affiliation with any political parties and does not endorse any platforms.

All notices concerning X-G-I Club activities will be posted on bulletin boards at the Corner Room, Athletic Store and Campus Diner.

Penn State and Michigan State, opponents in 1945, faced each other in football only once before.

Dr. Tietz Leaves for Dept. of Agriculture

Dr. H. M. Tietz, associate professor of zoology at the College, has been granted a leave of absence to work with the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, United States Department of Agriculture.

He has been assigned to the United States National Museum, Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D. C., where he will arrange and classify a group of noctuid moths. The project was instigated at the request of the Surgeon General's Office which is concerned with disease-transmitting and crop-infesting insects being brought into the States—many of them on airplanes from South America, Australia, and New Zealand.

Dr. Tietz, who served as assistant entomologist for the Department of Agriculture from 1924 to 1926, will be on leave from the College from July 1 to September 15.

Members and prospective members of the Penn State Club are invited to attend a Dorn Dance, sponsored by the Penn State Club, at the Anchorage, 238 W. College avenue, at 7:30 p.m., tonight. Refreshments will be served.

Chapel Yale Prof Speaks

Dr. Halford E. Luccock, professor homiletics at Yale University Divinity School, will address the Chapel congregation on "Sleeping Through a Revolution" in Schwab Auditorium, Sunday.

Before accepting his present post in 1928, the 60-year-old clergyman served as contributing editor for the Christian Advocate and as editorial secretary for the Methodist Board of Foreign Missions. He is a former instructor at Hartford Theological Seminary and registrar and instructor in the New Testament at Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J. He has also served as pastor in a Windsor, Conn., church and in St. Andrew's Church, New Haven, Conn.

Dr. Luccock is a graduate of Northwestern University. He has done graduate work at Union Theological Seminary, Columbia University, Syracuse University, Allegheny College, Wesleyan University, and the University of Vermont. In 1910, he was ordained into the ministry. He is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

STARTING SATURDAY AT THE CATHAUM

Joseph Cotten and Ginger Rogers in a scene from the forthcoming picture, "I'll Be Seeing You," co-starring Shirley Temple with Spring Byington.

Chilean Graduate to Address Frosh Club

America Albala, Chilean graduate in fuel technology, will speak to the First Semester Club of PSCA in the Hugh Beaver room, Old Main, at 7 p.m. Monday evening. "South of the Border," a technical movie produced by Walt Disney, will also be shown.

At a meeting of the Second Semester Club Tuesday evening, a scavenger hunt will be featured, according to Sara Achenbach, upperclass chairman of the group.

Zipper

Note Books

&

Brief Cases

Now

In Stock

KEELER'S

On Record ...

Tchaikowsky
Symphony No. 6
(Pathetique)

Artur Rodzinski conducting the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra of New York.
Columbia Masterworks MM-558

Also:
TCHACKOWSKY FIFTH
SHOSTAKOWITCH FIFTH

The COLLEGE BOOK STORE

129 W. Beaver State College

