

Washington Guest Lists Good Points Favoring Prejudice

"I'm in favor of prejudices—preserving them and making them grow," stated Mrs. Ethel B. Gilbert of the Office of Industry, Washington, in her talk to coeds which opened the Mortar Board's Leadership Day Tuesday.

Mrs. Gilbert listed her prejudices as being in favor of the future, in favor of no inherent superiority of race, nation, country, or sex over any other, in favor of democracy, and in favor of women.

"We must not look back on former days as the 'golden age' or 'the good old days', the speaker explained. "The future is most important, the days to come will be exciting."

Mrs. Gilbert stated that women by nature can excel in particular jobs better than men. Women have always been able to go in and clean up, and they are never discouraged, she continued.

The speaker, who is in charge of 500 committees, outlined the three areas of work. One works with people, ideas, or things. Some persons are able to work with all three types.

Mrs. Gilbert worked her way through Albion College. Winning of essay and debate contests helped her out with expenses. She was the first woman member of Delta Sigma Rho, national debate honorary, and graduated as valedictorian.
