

Key Crumbles as Nittany Captures 13 Posts

Officers Inspect Facilities For NROTC Unit At College

A party of officers from the War Department, headed by Capt. A. S. Adams, visited the College last Friday to explain the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps to be established on campus on November 1 and to explore the physical facilities that will be available to the navy.

Captain Adams addressed a meeting attended by members of the faculty, administrative, and naval officers, and army personnel stationed at the College.

In his address, Captain Adams explained the general purposes and needs of the NROTC. He said that such a program, established in 1926, was very successful in pre-war years when six thousand officers, some of the most valuable men the navy had at the outbreak of the war according to Captain Adams, were trained in 27 colleges throughout the country. After the United States entered the war, the program was continued as the V-12.

In reestablishing NROTC units on college campuses, the navy has as its goal the training of a considerable proportion of the future officers for the regular navy as well as officers for the Naval Reserve and the Marine Corps. It is expected that the Naval Academy at Annapolis will not be large enough to provide the officers needed by the Navy, and in NROTC offered at colleges, students will receive instruction that is parallel to that given at the Academy.

Captain Adams stressed that the Navy asks that maximum interest (Continued on page seven)

Comdr. Trusdell Wisner, V-12 commandant who will head the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps when it starts at the College on November 1.

X-G-I Club To Inspect Campus On Motor Tour

The next meeting of the X-G-I Club will be held in two parts, announced Commander Patrick Brennan today.

A regular business meeting will be held in 405 Old Main Tuesday at 7 p.m. The second half of the program will be devoted to a motorized tour of the campus.

Mr. Edward K. Hilsbman, who will conduct the tour, will point out to the group the many historical points of interest that dot the campus. One stop on the agenda will be at the Dairy Building where refreshments will be served.

The purpose of the tour is to acquaint ex-servicemen, and particularly those who have just arrived, with the vast Penn State campus and its surrounding countryside.

All ex-servicemen are invited by the X-G-I Club to attend and join in the fun.

Students, Faculty Give $600 To WSSF Drive

Students and faculty members contributed approximately $600 to the World Student Service Fund. This announcement was today made by James T. Smith, executive secretary of the Penn State Christian Association which conducted the annual drive.

Solicitors, using the slogan "Give That Students May Live," joined PSCA at the end of the spring semester to collect $500. The other $100 was the money contributed at the Old Main Open Houses and at the Annual Christmas Carol Sing.

The money will be used by the WSSF to aid the students of war devastated Europe and Asia. Most of it will go into books, clothing, food, medical aid, and study supplies for faculty people as well as students.

Wilson Assumes Duties As Agronomy Head

H. K. Wilson, new head of agronomy in the School of Agriculture, assumed his duties last week. Dr. Wilson came to the College from St. Paul, Minn.

He has been a member of the department of agronomy at the University of Minnesota since 1927 and has served as chief of agronomy there since 1936.

Keefe, Stout Co-star As Evelyn In Players' 'Guest In The House'

Margaret Keefe and Marjorie Stout have both been cast as Evelyn, the menace in "Guest in the House," modern drama by Hagar Wilde and Dale Eunson to be presented by Players in Schwab auditorium, August 3 and 4. Each coed will play in one performance.

Evelyn, a cardiac invalid with a psychopathic terror of birds, is taken into the home of her cousin, Ann Proctor. Once settled, she starts to drive the entire Proctor family mad, by continually playing Liszt's "Liebestraum" on the victrola in her room, makes the servants quit, and finally disrupts the marriage of the Proctors (Betty Shenk and Jack Reid) in the hope that she can get Doug Proctor for herself.

Henning Nelms, director of the play, says that rehearsals are shaping up very well. Much experienced in theater direction, Mr. Nelms is very pleased with the cast. He was director of a community theater group in Harrisburg for six years, then worked at the Little Theater in Houston, Texas. He has also served as director of the Springfield, Ohio, Civic Theater, and headed a drama department in Middlebury, Vt.

In addition, Mr. Nelms has written a pamphlet entitled "Building An Amateur Audience," a book, "Lighting the Amateur Stage," and "The Primer of Stagecraft," to be used as a text in drama courses at the College.

His play, "Only An Orphan Girl," which he describes as a modern burlesque drama, was recently printed, and has already broken three long-run records in (Continued on page seven)

Lynch, Stapleton Take All-College Positions

Nittany party swept elections held Tuesday and Wednesday by placing its candidates in 13 of the 16 offices voted for.

Michael Lynch, Nittany candidate, won the office of All-College president by an almost two-to-one margin over his opponent, Patrick Brennan. Serving with him as All-College secretary-treasurer will be Lynch's running mate, Vaughn Stapleton, who defeated Key candidate Paul Ameal by a vote of 424-212.

Gerry Reinhardt, Key candidate for fifth semester secretary-treasurer, was disqualified by an All-College average that is not the 1 required by the Constitution for officeholders. Her Nittany opponent, Doris Cone, won the office by elimination.

In an election participated in by 659 out of a possible 1098 second through eighth semester students, the Elections committee imposed only one penalty for infraction of the elections code. Key party had a one-vote deduction for having a poster in Old Main on Monday afternoon.

Results of the elections are as follows:

ALL-COLLEGE PRESIDENT

President
Michael Lynch (Nittany)415
Patrick Brennan (Key)239

Secretary-Treasurer
Vaughn Stapleton (Nittany) ..424
Paul Ameal (Key)212

EIGHTH SEMESTER

President
Jack Davenport (Nittany)57
Stanley Chadwin (Key)43

Secretary-Treasurer
Jean Butz (Nittany)66
Mary Haines (Key)35

SEVENTH SEMESTER

President
Jack Seavy (Key)32
Thomas Smith (Nittany)27

Secretary-Treasurer
Lois Cleaver (Key)31
Eris Huntsinger (Nittany)28

SIXTH SEMESTER

President
Joseph Steele (Key)50
Herbert Currie (Nittany)44

Secretary-Treasurer
Ricky Grossman (Nittany)54
Jean Ford (Key)41

FIFTH SEMESTER

President
William W. Maginn (Nittany) ..35
Lee Edelstein (Key)19

Secretary-Treasurer
Gerry Reinhardt (K) Disqualified
Doris Cone, (N) Winner, elimination.

FOURTH SEMESTER

President
Gordon (Dusty) Miller (N) ...55
Charles Arnold (Key)49

Secretary-Treasurer
Ria Hanzlik (Nittany)66
Alice Mendenhall (Key)38

THIRD SEMESTER

President
Robert McGregor (Nittany) ...75
Robert Burns (Key)38

Secretary-Treasurer
Adele Ernst (Nittany)61
Lobby Doyle (Key)56

SECOND SEMESTER

President
James Holtzinger (Nittany)67
Fred Walker (Key)39

Secretary-Treasurer
Shirley Lyon (Nittany)66
Marjorie Griffiths (Key)40

Collegian Candidates

Underclassmen who are interested in the editorial staff of Collegian are asked to report to 8 Carnegie Hall at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Second semester freshmen, sports assistants and reporters will meet at the Collegian office at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, according to Helen Hatton, editor.

Vet Counselors Establish Office

The Veterans Administration has come to Penn State's campus. Using the remodeled and reconditioned Zoology Building as its home, the V. A. has begun to function with greater vigor in aiding the ex-servicemen at the College.

The great advantage of the Veterans Administration Building is that it centralizes under one roof all the necessary functions pertaining to veterans. Other benefits of the building are the more spacious quarters, a waiting room, and proximity to Old Main. Disabled veterans will no longer have to climb stairs as they did to get to the old office in Sparks Building.

The new setup is divided into three parts, separate from one another yet highly coordinated with each other. These divisions are the offices of Mr. Robert E. Galbraith, faculty advisor of veterans, Mr. Richard K. Foust, training officer for the Veterans Administration, and the Vocational Appraisal Clinic.

Mr. Galbraith will continue to do the work he has been doing in aiding veterans gain admittance to the College and in counseling them once they are students. Mrs. Andrew Case is his secretary.

Mr. Foust is the official representative of the Pittsburgh Office (Continued on page seven)

Frosh Bibles Arrive

A new supply of Student Handbooks has arrived and those freshmen who as yet have not received their copies are urged to obtain them in 304 Old Main as soon as possible. Tribunal and hatmen have announced that they will no longer accept the excuse of not having a Handbook as a reason for ignorance of songs, cheers, location of buildings, and other knowledge required of freshmen.

Enrollment Totals 2192 For Summer

Enrollment of civilians and servicemen for the summer semester has reached a total of 2192, of which 396 are ASTP's and 215 are V-12 trainees. This announcement was made by Ray V. Watkins, scheduling officer.

The first semester registration of 483 includes 139 women and 344 men, an increase over the spring freshman total of 276.

Of the 1581 civilian enrollment, men outnumber women, the figures being 934 and 647 respectively. Inclusion of the Army and Navy trainees raises the male registration to 1545, making the men vs. women ratio greater than two to one. There are seven transfer, 132 graduate, and 46 special students enrolled.

Of the seven schools, the School of Liberal Arts has scheduled the greatest number of students, 453, with 332 being listed under Lower Division. Registration in the other schools is as follows: Agriculture, 142; Chemistry and Physics, 233; Education, 209; Engineering, 242; Mineral Industries, 32; and Physical Education, 32. (Continued on page seven)

Intercollegiate Debating Tryouts Wednesday

All freshman and upperclassmen interested in intercollegiate debating are urged to try out in 316 Sparks at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Selection of members of the debating team will be based on five-minute talks by the candidates on the topic, "Should the federal government adopt a permanent policy requiring a full year of military training for all able-bodied male youths 17-18 years of age, or upon graduation, whichever comes first."

Prof. J. F. O'Brien, varsity debate coach, will choose the members on the quality and deliverance of the speeches.

July Engineer Features Original Student Articles

The July issue of the Penn State Engineer will be on sale on July 20 today announced Dorothea Fischer, editor.

Special articles in this month's issue include: "Powerless Flight," a feature on gliders, by George Paul Jones; "Formula for Flavor," the use of synthetic chemical compounds for flavoring, by Norma Lee Hoover; "Crews and Cues," behind the scenes with Players, by Claire Kohn; "Turbine Drives Take to the Sea," turbines on ships, by Barbara Pfahler; and a feature on the architectural and engineering libraries. As usual Dean Harry P. Hammond of the School of Engineering will contribute an article. "Sly Drools," "Talk of the Campus," and "New Developments" will complete the magazine.

Payment of Fees

The Armory will be open from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 5 p. m. July 20 for the collection of summer semester fees. This announcement was today made by the bursar's office.