

Actors Rehearse Nightly For 'Guest in the House'; Tickets Go On Sale Monday

Tickets for "Guest in the House," Players' production to be presented in Schwab Auditorium at 8:30 p. m. August 3 and 4, will go on sale at Student Union Monday.

Meanwhile, the cast is rehearsing nightly to assure a polished production. Betty Shenk is the smooth sophisticate required by her leading part as Ann Proctor. Jack Reid emits witty clichés spontaneously, giving no sign of long hours of rehearsal that frequently produce forced statements rather than natural ones.

WSGA Stages 'Frosh Frolic' In Armory

"Frosh Frolic," an informal viedance for all first semester men and women, is being sponsored by the Women's Students' Government Association in the Armory from 7:30 to 10 o'clock tonight.

Cabinet Witnesses As Hatton Installs President Lynch Butz To Serve Group As Secretary Pro-Tem

Cabinet members served as witnesses Tuesday night when Michael Lynch was officially sworn into office as All-College President by Elections Committee Chairman Helen Hatton. The ceremony had been postponed one week because Dean Arthur Warnock was out of town and according to the constitution the dean of men must be present at the event.

Jean Butz, eighth semester secretary, was appointed by Mr. Lynch to serve as all-college secretary during the absence of Vaughn Stapleton, all-college secretary. Mr. Stapleton has been granted the Danforth Fellowship and his studies will take him off campus for a month.

Jeanne Barinott and Leon Erdman's nominations for the fifth semester representatives on Judicial and Tribunal were approved by the majority of Cabinet.

Judicial Chairman Mary Haines and Tribunal Chairman Judd Healy announced plans to distribute copies of the student government constitution among the freshmen and transfers. The two frosh-customs-enforcers stated that questions concerning the constitution would be included in the freshman bluebook scheduled for Monday.

The constitution-conscious cabinet also voted favorably to the motion that cabinet recommend that the next student handbook include a copy of the constitution.

Joseph Steel reported that his committee had located some available rooms for the establishment of a student book exchange this fall. He stated that all that was needed now was the "cooperation of the students."

Approximately an hour of discussion followed Jess Panar's committee report on the possibility of reviving "Swing Inn." As Mr. Panar put it, he had run into a "stone wall." The main obstacle seems to be the difficulty of procuring a suitable dance floor. All the possibilities were thoroughly investigated but Cabinet was forced to delay its decision another week.

President Lynch reminded Cabinet that freshman elections are set for Wednesday, August 1.

3 Students Speak On Liberalism

"Liberalism . . . As I Have Found It" was the theme of the forum that highlighted the first assembly meeting this summer of Common Sense held in 10 Sparks on Wednesday.

The speakers who participated in the forum were Pvt. Robert Sieves, ASTP student, who spoke on his experiences in Germany; A. E. Wetherford, Negro graduate student in health education, who spoke on the racial problem in this country; and Thorlief Iolster, student, who gave his views on the conditions in Argentina.

Due to political reasons, Pvt. Sieves and his parents were forced to leave Germany in 1938, and through the aid of a liberal chemist, they were able to escape to Czechoslovakia. At this time, Germany had invaded the Sudetenland and was laying the groundwork for the complete occupation of Czechoslovakia.

Again, through the aid of liberals, the Sieves managed to leave before the Nazis moved in and made their way to Russia, where they spent ten months. Pvt. Sieves stated that there was a great deal of liberalism in Russia, in some respects. The Russians acknowledge no differentiation in race or religion and find it hard to understand people who do.

A. E. Wetherford started his speech with the story of a woman who, after asking advice as to how to get rid of the dandelions in her yard, was told "It's true that you have a great deal of them. I guess the only thing you can do is to learn to love them." With this as example, Wetherford said that there are many Negroes in the United States and that, as a solution to the racial (Continued on page seven)

College Sets Up Center For Veteran's Guidance

A Veterans Advisement Center, designed to aid any veteran of World War II who is interested in vocational rehabilitation training, will be established at the College, according to an announcement from the Pittsburgh Veterans Administration Regional Office.

Dr. Everett Alderman, vocational adviser in charge of testing from the Pittsburgh office, is now in State College setting up the center. Its offices will be located in the old zoology building on central campus.
