

"I had to wait in line for two hours today to get this seat."

Departments-

(Continued from page one)
German at the University of New Hampshire.

Mrs. Margaret Newman, instructor in zoology. A graduate of Oberlin College, she was associated with the College zoology department about 25 years ago. She had taught school earlier at Friendship, N. Y., High School.

Mrs. Mabel E. Krom and Miss Anna Jesnak, instructors in physical education, effective November 1. Mrs. Krom is a graduate of West Chester Teachers College, and formerly taught at Reading High School. Miss Jesnak was graduated from Women's College, University of North Carolina, and during the past summer served as camp counselor at Camp Virginia and Camp Runds.

Resignations include:
L. A. Peacock, assistant professor of English composition, to accept a position as head of the English department at Ottawa University, Ottawa, Kan.

Dean Kennedy, instructor in engineering drawing, effective October 31, to devote his full-time to business interests.

Lewis C. Cavalier, assistant professor and supervisor of metallurgy extension, effective October 31, to accept a position as metallurgist with the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, Pittsburgh.

J. W. Decker, instructor in agricultural education, to devote full-time to business interests.

Mrs. Louise C. Dix, extension representative in home economics.

Robert L. McCormick, research assistant in petroleum and natural gas, to accept a position as petroleum engineer for the Standard Oil Company, Cleveland, O.

Nora Wittman, instructor in German, was granted a leave of absence, November 1, 1945 to June 30, 1946, to study for her doctorate at the University of Wisconsin.

Aid Needy Students
More than 25 established loan funds provide financial assistance for needy students at the College.

WRA Offers Sports Opportunities

Every woman student is a member of Women's Recreation Association, which offers opportunities for individual and team recreation and skill development for women interested in various sports and activities.

Individual clubs invite coeds interested in particular sports to join. The clubs are archery, badminton, bowling, bridge, dance, fencing, golf, outing, riding, rifle, swimming, and tennis. No dues are required, with the exception of the riding club whose fee is $15 a semester.

Intramural and interclass competition in team sports and all-college tournaments fill an extensive program. An intramural cup is awarded to the group that has the highest number of points for participation in intramural games of one spring, summer, and winter semester.

A Social Activities Board of WRA organizes and conducts functions such as banquets, parties, and dances not connected with any particular sport or activity.

The WRA Cabin, located about five miles from campus is a center for co-recreational activities, where parties, bicycle trips, weiner roasts, hikes, and overnight cabin parties are held.

Ornamental Gourds Can Be Harvested, Cured Now

Ornamental gourds should not be harvested until stems have begun to turn brown, or until leaves begin to die, reminds A. O. Rasmussen, extension ornamental horticulture specialist at the College.

Political Parties Vie To Place Officers In College Posts

"Hey, Frosh, you votin' Key or Nittany," will be one of the first questions asked of any Freshman as soon as he hits campus. Key and Nittany are the names of the two political parties on campus, and it is through either one or the other of these parties that a student gets elected to class office.

Any student at the College is eligible to become active in campus politics. All he has to do is to become affiliated with one or the other of the parties, attend clique meetings, and be in.

Fraternities, sororities, and independents are represented on both the Key and Nittany parties. Any group of students may form a third party at any time, but it is seldom that more than two parties survive. The general idea of each party is to enlist student support, and around election time competition for prospective voters runs high. Each party undertakes a spirited publicity campaign, complete with posters, banners, painted automobiles, street dances and bonfires—in fact any new idea to "get 'em out for the party."

Elections are held at the beginning of each semester to choose a president and treasurer for each semester's class. An All-College president and treasurer are also elected. Any student is eligible to run for office in his semester if his All-College average is at least a 1. Winning semester presidents become members of All-College cabinet, the student self-governing organization; elected treasurers are members of the Interclass Finance committee.

Elections are under the jurisdiction and supervision of All-College Elections committee which is appointed by Cabinet for one semester to set up and carry through the elections code.

The elections code establishes rules and penalties concerning campaigning and voting. The code states that any group may become a political party once it decides upon a name, elects an official chairman and secretary, and submits a list of members to the Elections committee. A clique must have nominees for at least a majority of the positions in an election before it can submit candidates for that election.

Every student is eligible and expected to vote for his own class officers and the All-College president and treasurer. The candidate receiving a plurality of votes cast for his office wins the election. Elections are held in the first floor lounge of Old Main.

MORRELL'S THE FRIENDLY STORE

College & Pugh St.

Freshmen!

VISIT THE

Penn State Photo Shop

214 E. College Ave.

Turf Experts Meet
Group committee representatives of the Pennsylvania Greens Keepers' Association were here Monday and Tuesday to discuss with the School of Agriculture the experiments on fine turf which the College is conducting in the interest of better golf courses.

Jack Harper
HAIRER HADENPASHER TAILOR

SHOP AT Center Hardware

FOR

Wax—liquid, 5 gal.; paste, 1 and 3 pounds

DISINFECTANTS

Lucas Paints and Stain

LIGHT BULBS

Nails—Screws—Bolts—Tacks

Mops of All Kinds

GENERAL LINE of HARDWARE

A New Arrival

Charles' Shop

Is Always Welcome

Shopping here for better fashions

is becoming the thing to do.

CHARLES SHOP
STATE COLLEGE

NEW COLLEGE DINER

"Between The Movies"