IFC Completes Fall Rushing

Fraternities have finished a most successful rushing season, according to IFC President Frank Schneider.

"The success in pledging men this semester does not lie in the numerical figure," said Schneider, "but in the way fraternities cooperated among themselves. There was no evidence of cut-throat techniques, and the housing problem was greatly alleviated by fraternities. They all deserve a lot of credit."

Plans are now underway to hold the IFC pledge banquet in December. Although no definite date has been set, arrangements are being made to obtain a speaker of international renown. Charles Arnold is chairman of the committee, and only this semester's pledges will attend.

A tentative schedule of intramural activities for the Fall semester include competition in basketball, bowling, touch football, and bridge. These events will get underway shortly after committees are appointed to handle them.

On behalf of IFC, President Schneider wants to thank all the fraternities that had lawn displays for the recent Homecoming weekend. Pi Kappa Alpha won a cup for placing first in the judging of the decorations.

out in full force for Saturday's Temple game. All frosh must sit in the East stands and hatmen as well as other upperclassmen are asked to see that this rule is strictly enforced. In the same manner as at last Saturday's game, Freshmen must remain seated until all upperclassmen have left the field.

Hatmen are asked to sit in the East stands and keep an eye on the Freshmen during the game. It was suggested that if all upperclassmen cooperate to keep the frosh out of the West stands, there will be more and better seats available.

Phi Sigma Delta recently initiated 12 men. They include: Alan J. Amsterdam, Richard P. Clair, Donald I. Hecker, Maurice Hymowitz, Kenneth Jayson, Sandford Oxman, Edward S. Popky, Larry Preven, Austin Rozet, Edward Silverberg, Bernard Silverstein, and Norris A. Stein.

Fall Semester Enrollment Nears Prewar Peak With 5112

The College has successfully completed the first lap on the road back to the prewar enrollment peak, with 5112 students registered for the fall semester.

Once again, men outnumber women. The newly-registered student body is comprised of 2251 women and 2861 men—including 295 Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps students and an estimated 1000-1200 veterans. First semester freshmen number 1495.

Civilian enrollment has more than tripled since last semester and is approximately 1600 higher than during the fall semester last year.

During the summer semester, 1581 student—excluding service units—were enrolled at the College, and civilian enrollment in the fall semester 1944 stood at 3240.

Civilian students currently number 4817—still more than 2,000 short of the 7,124 students enrolled in 1940-1941.

Enrollment breakdown by schools is as follows:

Agriculture—358 men, 137 women; Two-year Agriculture—48 men, 2 women; Chemistry and Physics—372 men, 146 women; Education—77 men, 667 women.

Engineering—792 men, 23 women; Liberal Arts—785 men, 1044 women; Mineral Industries—106 men, 8 women; Physical Education—101 men, 121 women.

Twelve men and four women are in transition, and 41 men and 59 women are registered as special students. Graduate students total 169 men and 40 women.

Student distribution by semesters follows: first semester—1495; second—551; third—786; fourth—479; fifth—652; sixth—276; seventh—354; and eighth 160.

Drunken Driving Kills More Than World War

Drunken driving has taken a greater toll of American lives than has World War II.

This startling fact recently was disclosed after intensive research by a newly-formed local temperance committee. Interested in encouraging greater sobriety and promoting education about the ill effects of alcoholism on individuals, the group is composed mainly of townsmen, a few College instructors and a student representative of the Penn State Christian Association.

Augustus Thomas, Phi Delta Theta, student member of the committee, said although he is as yet unfamiliar with its whole platform, he is all for curbing reckless drinking.

"Too many people drink just too much," he laconically explained.
