Court Squad Lists 17 Tilts

The Nittany Lions will open a 17-game basketball schedule on December 5 when Susquehanna invades Recreation Hall.

Four men have returned from last year's team which won ten games and lost seven. With these four men as a nucleus Coach John Lawther hopes to field a court squad which will better last year's record.

The Nittany Lions will play home-and-away games with West Virginia, Muhlenberg, Carnegie Tech, Bucknell, Pittsburgh, Colgate, and Temple and single contests with Army, Navy and Susquehanna.

The schedule:
December 5, Susquehanna, home; 8, West Virginia, away; 12, Muhlenberg, home; 15, Carnegie Tech, away; 19, Bucknell, home; January 5, Muhlenberg, away; 12, Pittsburgh, away; 16, West Virginia, home; 19, Colgate, away; 23, Temple, home; 26, Bucknell, away; 30, Army, away; February 2, Pittsburgh, home; 6, Navy, away; 9, Colgate, home; 13, Carnegie Tech, home; 16, Temple, away.

Nittany Radio Station Holds First Broadcast

The campus premier broadcast of AOFN, Nittany Party radio station, will be held in Schwab Auditorium, 7:15 Monday evening. Tap dancing, a skit and music by a college dance band will be featured on the program.

Recent appointments by the clique chairman are Gene Fulmer, assistant clique chairman, and the following committee heads: Edith Murray, social; Ruth Tisherman, publicity, and Edward Soza, contact.

Owl, Lion Series Tied

Two deadlocks will probably be broken when Temple clashes with Penn State tomorrow afternoon on New Beaver Field.

Both teams are now tied in the number of games won, each having won three of the six encounters. Temple won the first two games in 1931 and 1932 and came back to win again in 1941 by a 14-0 count. The Lions have held the edge in recent years, having won three of four games since 1940.

Harry Muckle's extra point decided last year's game and Lions won 7-6.

Another tie will probably be broken when Temple's Phil Slosburg and State's Joe Tepsic get together. Tepsic scored twice against Syracuse and Slosburg tallied once against Lafayette to boost their season total to 42 points and put both in a tie for the lead among the gridiron scorers of the state.

Hockey Series Opens

All coeds interested in participating in the Blue-White five game hockey series starting Monday at 4:10 p. m. should come out to Holmes Field today at 4:10 p. m. to get organized.

Only those girls who have had one practice and can present their medicals at that time will be eligible to compete in the series.

Booters End Home Season Against Big Red Squad

Penn State's soccer team, confident after its surprising scoreless tie with favored Army Saturday, will encounter a strong Cornell University squad on New Beaver Field, 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

This will be the Lion's last home game, as they close their season next week against undefeated Navy at Annapolis.

The Lions, from latest reports, will have to be at their best if they hope to atone for last year's 1-0 defeat at the hands of the Red Raiders. The Ithacans have a strong, fast team made up of Naval trainees and X-G's.

For the all-important clash, Coach Jeffrey will have six freshmen in the starting lineup. Three of them, goalie Jimmie Domen, right fullback George Emig, and right halfback Charlie Garcia, were outstanding in last Saturday's "upset."

Either Bill Dietrich, an ex-GI who played on the varsity two seasons ago, or Bill Folwell will open at left fullback.

Two Navy trainees, Tim Petroff and John Hamilton, will start at center half and left half respectively. The offense positions will be held by Don Rider, outside right, and Captain Herb Mendt, inside right.

All candidates for the wrestling team and those wishing to become assistant managers should report to Recreation Hall at 3:45 any weekday afternoon. Those trying out for the team should first get physical examinations at the dispensary.
