

Sorority Rules For Rushing Released By Panhel Prexy

Rushing rules for all sorority women and those interested in joining a sorority have been announced by Jeanne Weaver, president of Panhellenic Council.

These rules, which went into effect last week, apply to first semester freshmen and new transfers, women students who were first semester freshmen or transfers last semester, and those who were first semester freshmen during the spring semester.

Free association is permitted now on campus only, Miss Weaver stated, with the exception of sorority houses or suites and the creamery. Silent period must be observed off campus.

Sorority women may have free association with their little sisters, however, but there must not be two or more sorority women with a little sister.

Panhellenic Council will meet in 305 Old Main at 7 p.m. Tuesday for the election of a secretary and a treasurer.

Senior Honorary To Give Fellowship

Announcement of the $500 Katherine Willis Coleman fellowship, open to members of Mortar Board graduating in 1946, was made this week to the local Mortar Board chapter by the national organization.

The fellowship, awarded for the last five years, will go to one or two applicants to be selected by a committee of deans and a committee of national Mortar Board officers. The number of awards, to be $500 each, will depend on the number and quality of applications.

Candidates must be unmarried, less than 25 years of age at the time of application, and able to qualify as candidates for the master's or doctor's degree in an accepted graduate school.

Information and application blanks may be obtained from Miss Katherine E. Kuhlman, Mortar Board National Council, 40 Wisteria Drive, Dayton 9 Ohio, before Jan. 15, 1946.

Winner of the 1945 award was Ruth Charlotte Pierle, University of Cincinnati, now doing graduate work in organic chemistry at the University of Illinois.

Home Ec Group Holds First Meet.

Home Economics Club will hold its first meeting of the semester in 14 Home Economics at 6:45 tomorrow night it was announced by President Balsbaugh this morning.

She pointed out that it is particularly important for members of the club to attend this meeting as representatives to the Home Economics Council will be elected and committees will be set up. Plans for club activities for the semester will also be discussed at the meeting.

Coed Scripts

By Pat Turk

It would seem the old Penn State spirit is very much alive as hordes of coed alums and former students at the College trooped back for the Temple game. Sorority houses and dormitories were crammed with guests for the weekend, all apparently making the last big effort to see State's final home football game of the season, even though it often meant sleeping on the crack between two dorm beds pushed together.

Get Acquainted Frosh!

Orientation for the new frosh coeds is now taking shape in the form of visits from upperclassmen, teas and gatherings sponsored by the women's organizations on campus. Sunday evening upperclass coeds received a warm welcome from the freshman coeds when they called upon the ribboned students during the traditional "pop in" night, extracting a promise of the frosh to return the call next Sunday night.

Other events slated for freshman women are the elections of house officers, the president of each house being designated as a representative in Freshman Council, and a tea Sunday afternoon. Cwens, sophomore women's activities honorary, will be in charge of both events.

Hello Spirit Lagging

And what has happened to the "hello spirit?" Senate members were asked at their meeting Tuesday night. It has been the custom for frosh to speak to all upperclassmen, so frosh, if you're given the "I didn't get away with it when I was a freshman" stare when you pass an upperclassman, you'll understand why.

Lost . . . One Kitty

Has anyone seen Kitty? Perhaps he happened to see Players' presentation of "Blithe Spirit" and has tried to affect a similar vanishment. After spending several nights in different sorority houses and dormitories and even winding around the feet of coeds eating in Mac Hall last week, he seems to have suddenly disappeared.

X-G-I Wives

The X-G-I Wives Club has begun a bowling club. Although not entered in a league, members bowl each Tuesday night. Of the average attendance of 25, ten members have enrolled in the Home Nursing Course and will meet in the Home Economics building each Monday and Wednesday for three weeks.

Budget For Senate Receives Approval At Meeting

Senate, at a special meeting Friday night, approved a budget totalling $1850 as submitted by Jean Nelson. This sum will come from the 2200 coeds on campus, each one of whom in her fees pays one dollar. WSGA receives 55 cents and WRA receives 45 cents.

The annual Christmas drive has been scheduled for the second week in December and will be under the chairmanship of Janet Taylor. WSGA hopes that this year's drive will exceed the $500 mark attained last year, for it has been decided to include China Relief in the present goal.

Nominations for the representatives of the coed dormitories to the house of representatives were accepted and, through a waiving of the week of posting nominees' names, the representatives will be elected in time to attend the first meeting of the house in 305 Old Main at 5:15 Thursday.

A recommendation that the custom of purchasing bracelets for members of Judicial be revived was accepted, and it was approved that five bracelets be bought at once. Jane Healy was appointed to serve as WSGA's representative at Community Forum, and Rita Grossman was elected secretary of WSGA.

Women In Sports

A cabin party for freshman coeds sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association is slated for the weekend of November 17. The group will leave from White Hall at 2:30 p.m., Saturday for the WRA Cabin in Mt. Tussey and will return Sunday morning.

Freshmen interested are requested to sign up at Student Union and to pay their 75 cents as soon as possible, since only the first twenty signing up will be able to go.

All coeds interested in playing intramural basketball for their respective sororities and dormitories should come out to the organization meeting in the White Hall gym at 7 p.m. this evening, announced Ann Baker, intramural chairman.

GSO Club To Open New Fall Activities

The GSO will hold its first meeting of the fall semester Thursday evening. Members are asked to watch posters for time and place. This evening there will be a meeting of the new officers and senior hostesses at the Gamma Phi Beta suite in Women's Building at 8 o'clock.

Alums Invade Tri-Dorms; Right Building, Wrong Sex

There's never a dull moment in the Tri-Dorms and this weekend wasn't unusual. It was a little after 1 p.m. Saturday and the girls in basement Jordan were just back from lunch and rushing around like mad getting dressed for the game. No one was exactly indisposed, but at the same time no one was dressed for company—male visitors at that.

"Anybody home?" boomed a voice from down the hall. Suddenly there was bedlam—doors slammed, girls shrieked. Luckily, one person was dressed and she poked her head into the hall. She gasped at the group of men standing near the steps.

"How did girls get in here?" one man asked, after recovering from his surprise.

"We live here!" was the coed's reply.

"Where are the fellas?" The men quickly explained that they were old alums and they decided to look over "ye old dorm" before the game. After all, how were they supposed to know women had taken over.

The girls came out of hiding as the visitors made a hasty and somewhat embarrassed retreat. It was just one of the many small incidents that helped to make the weekend so exciting.

Alpha Lambda Delta To Tutor Freshmen

Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman woman's honorary, will hold its first meeting of the fall semester, in the WSGA room, White Hall, 6:30 o'clock tonight, announced Jean Alderfer, president.

The honorary is going to offer free tutoring to freshmen women who are having difficulty in the following fields: chemistry, education, home economics, medical technology, and physical education.

Lists of girls who are going to tutor will be placed in the freshman dormitories by Thursday.

Cwens Hold Tea In Frosh Honor

Cwens, sophomore honorary society, are planning a tea for freshman girls in the east lounges of Atherton Hall from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday, announced Mary Lou Waygood, president of Cwens. Carol Pruess is chairman of the tea.
