

PSCA To Hold Cabin Party

An All-College Cabin Party, sponsored by PSCA will be held at Watts Lodge Saturday.

Students who are going should see James T. Smith or Robert Dunlap, chairman of the affair, and sign up at PSCA. Ticket cost 60 cents. A second event on the CA calendar for Saturday is the Social Service Children's Thanksgiving Party, sponsored by Commission IV with Grace McMillen and Jack Styer as co-chairmen. The group will leave Old Main at 1:30 for Millbrook, near Lemont. Interested persons can see Betty Farrow or one of the co-chairmen for details.

Commission VI invites students and faculty members to an Evening Coffee Hour from 7 to 8 p.m. Friday. Co-chairmen Elizabeth Yeagley and Clayton Wilson will tell the story of the organization and development for the Fairmount House East. The purpose of the Commission is to study inter-racial and labor problems.

All transfer students are invited to the CA Welcome Party in 304 Old Main, from 1:15 to 2:30 p.m. Sunday, announced Janet Kurtz, chairman for transfers.

Also in 304 Old Main from 2:30 to 3:30 Sunday a Bible Study group will be organized in answer to popular request. Stanley Coville and Barbara Reinkemeyer will meet with students who wish to organize a course for which local pastors and faculty members will be the invited leaders.

On the PSCA calendar for this week is a "Get Acquainted Meeting" of the Second Semester Club in 304 Old Main, 7 p.m. tonight. Jean Hirt will preside at the "Coed Question Box"; a panel for freshman women, at 304 Old Main 6:45 p.m. Wednesday. Forum questions will be answered by BMOC and BWOC.

The Thursday Fireside Hour at 4:30 p.m. will have as discussion "The Cause That Refreshes". Barbara Reinkemeyer and Stanley Coville, of Commission III, will conduct a friendly hour of fire-light, music, poetry, and refreshments.

Undergrad Center Heads Attend College Council

David B. Pugh, supervisor of the College's undergraduate centers, has announced that he and the heads of the four centers will attend the annual meeting of the Junior College Council of the Middle Atlantic States at the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York City, November 22, 23, 24.

The heads of the undergraduate centers are: Merle E. Campbell, DuBois; Amos A. Goss, Hazelton; T. Stewart Goas, Schuylkill; Robert E. Elche, Altoona.

"Reconversion" will be the theme of the conference, which will be attended by representatives of junior colleges in New York, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and District of Columbia.

Pugh will also attend a meeting of the executive committee of the American Association of Junior College in New York City November 30.

Hooray! Thirty-six more points toward a discharge.

WMAJ Seeks Amateurs For Half Hour Program

Tentative plans for a student amateur program to be held one half hour a week on WMAJ are being made, according to Robert Walter, program director of the station.

"There is a great deal of talent to be found on the campus," continued Walter, "and, to coordinate this talent, a program of the Major Bowes type if necessary. If response warrants it, longer programs will be devoted to the students."

Faculty Members Return From War

Four faculty members, including three from the forestry department, have returned from war service to their positions at the College.

Arthur H. Reede, associate professor of economics, a major when discharged, has been on leave for two and a half years. He served in North Africa and Italy for 27 months with Headquarters of the Allied Control Commission for Italy.

Merwin W. Humphrey, assistant professor of forestry, has been on leave since September 1943 with the timber production war project of the War Production Board and the United States Forest Service, and since February 1944, with the Armstrong Forest Company.

Henry W. Chisman, instructor in forestry, was granted leave in December 1942 to join the Navy, where his latest assignment was in the anti-submarine service. He was a lieutenant when discharged.

William C. Bramble, associate professor of forestry, served in North Africa, Sicily, and Italy as a captain in the Army Air Corps.

Purple Quill Presents Miller As First Speaker

First guest speaker on the new weekly radio program, "Purple Quill Presents," will be Edward Miller, professor of English composition. He will offer selections from a humorous essay written during his 40-month service with the U. S. Army.

Miss Julia Gregg Brill, scribe for Purple Quill and professor of English composition, will make observations on the ballet as she observed it at the Ballet Theatre in New York during the summer.

"Purple Quill Presents" may be heard each week over WMAJ, at 8 p. m. Wednesday. Charles M. Barr, scribemaster of the club, will briefly outline the purposes of the organization and will serve as master of ceremonies on this first, and on succeeding programs.
