

Koo Speaks At Chapel

Dr. T. Z. Koo, secretary of the World Student Christian Federation of New York City, will speak at the Chapel services in Schwab Auditorium, 11 a.m. Sunday. Special music will supplement the service.

Dr. Koo was in Hong Kong on December 17, 1941, and, with Mrs. Koo, endured near-starvation for three months before catching the boat for Shanghai where life was better. However, food was still scarce and activity greatly restricted. While there he served as lay-minister of the Community Church and superintendent of a maternity hospital. During these two years he observed the Japanese ways of bringing in their "East Asia Co-prosperity Sphere."

In September 1944, Dr. Koo left Shanghai for Chungking and didn't reach there till December 1944. Much of the journey was made on foot through Japanese held territory and an attack of malaria forced him to take several weeks for recuperation.

The Chinese government sent him as an advisor to the Chinese Delegation at the San Francisco Conference in April of this year. For nearly 20 years, Dr. Koo has worked with the World's Student Christian Federation with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. He has been a leading figure in such world gatherings as the Oxford Conference, the Amsterdam Conference of Christian Youth, and the Madras Conference on the World Missions of the Church. He has addressed many colleges in the United States and abroad and has participated in a large number of conferences and international institutes.

Dr. Koo was graduated from St. John's University in Shanghai. After working nine years as an official in the Administrative Department of the Chinese Railway Service, he entered the work which made him a world figure. He became known as an advocate of Christian principles for international relations where he was Associate General Secretary and Student Executive Secretary of the National Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of China.

In 1924, Dr. Koo was a member of the Second World Opium Conference of the League of Nations. He has been one of China's delegates to four meetings of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

Penn State Lutheran—

Association will launch a financial campaign next week. Five hundred students will be canvassed in behalf of the proposed new student center. The Lutherans plan to break ground in the fall of 1947 to erect a $60,000 center. Vice-presidents Ernest Ratz and Dorothy Neiman head the committee. The goal for this year has been set for $500.

Art Lecture, Banquet, Religious Mass Meeting Highlight PSCA Weekend

An art lecture, Penn State in China Day banquet, and an All-College religious mass meeting are the highlights of the Penn State Christian Association's weekend activities.

Dr. Cheng of Harvard Lectures

"Nature in Chinese Art" is the topic of a talk by Dr. T. H. Cheng of Harvard University's Museum of Comparative Zoology in 304 Old Main at 4 o'clock this afternoon. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Penn State in China Banquet

A dinner, sponsored by the Penn State in China committee, PSCA, and student Protestant groups, will be held to celebrate Penn State in China Day in the State College Hotel at 12:30 p. m. Sunday. Dr. T. K. Koo, chapel speaker. Major K. Y. Loh, and 21 Chinese Air Force cadets from the Lycoming Engineering School will be guests of honor. Reservations at $1.25 per person may be made at the PSCA office until 5 p. m. today.

Religious Mass Meeting

Under the auspices of student protestant groups and the PSCA, an All-College religious mass meeting is planned at Schwab Auditorium on Sunday evening. Dr. Koo, introduced by Miss Mary Alden, will speak on "Our World Responsibility." Ann Berkheimer and Bob Jones will conduct the meeting. A report of the WSSF drive will be given by Larry Driskill. Regular evening service at all churches are cancelled this week so townspeople may attend this meeting.

Cabinet Meets Tomorrow

Commission chairmen, ex-officio members and officers of the PSCA Cabinet meet in the Hugh Beaver Room at 1:15 p.m. tomorrow.

Gamma Pi Epsilon

The women's pre-medical society, will have its first meeting of the semester in the southeast lounge of Atherton Hall at 2 p.m. Saturday. All new women pre-meds are cordially invited to attend as the older members will entertain the freshman women who are interested in a medical career.

The society was organized during the spring semester of 1944 to provide for the needs of the increasing number of women registered in pre-medical courses. In its meetings, the members discuss fields for women in medicine, admission to medical schools, and the courses on campus which are of value to those taking them. Guest speakers are frequently invited.

June Hause is the president of this society, with Alberta Finch and Pauline Rexford serving as secretary and treasurer.

Julius E. Kaulfuss, professor of highway engineering, has long been in demand as a Kiwanis speaker.

Firestone To Interview

E. W. Oldham of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, will visit the campus Wednesday and Thursday to interview seniors and graduate students for positions in the United States and foreign countries.

George N. P. Leetch, director of the College Placement Service, announces that Oldham will interview students in certain curricula who are graduating in February and June, and Ph.D. candidates in chemistry and chemical engineering who will receive their degrees within the next year.

Positions available with Firestone in both the United States and foreign countries are in the following departments: B.S. and Ph.D. chemists and chemical engineers in chemical research; chemical and mechanical engineers in tire engineering; electrical and mechanical engineers in the engineering department; industrial engineers in the labor department; and chemists and chemical engineers in the chemical department.

Arrangements for interviews should be made at once at the College Placement Service, 204 Old Main, Leetch said.

Ed Honorary To Enact 'Hansel and Gretel' Skit

"Hansel and Gretel," in the form of a radio skit, will be presented by 23 elementary education students and 13 juniors in musical education in 017 Carnegie Hall at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

This program, sponsored by Pi Lambda Theta, women's educational honorary, is open only to members of that group. Each year Pi Lambda Theta presents a Christmas musicale.
