

Senate Approves Late Nominations For Frosh Senator

WSGA Senate voted to accept the following further nominations for freshman senator presented at the freshman mass meeting Monday: Wilma Brahm, Marjorie Gorham, and Nancy Smith.

Elections for freshman senator will be held in first floor lounge of Old Main Tuesday and Wednesday. Coeds nominated for the post by Senate last week include Joan Fox, Janet Lyons, Alethea Pottiger, and Betty Lou Reed.

Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, spoke briefly at the Senate meeting concerning the Christmas Drive sponsored by WSGA which will end Thursday.

Miss Ray stated, "Those people whom we help with money collected during the Christmas Drive are in desperate need. We are the fortunate ones. We never had our homes bombed."

The Christmas Drive divides contributions of the College coeds among the Mifflin County Children's Aid Society, American Women's Hospitals, Mrs. Ralph D. Hetzel's Emergency Fund, and United China Relief. Students of the College have been contributing to the American Women's Hospitals for the past 20 years.

Jean Nelson was elected secretary of the House of Representatives, it was reported at the Senate meeting.

Freshmen To Elect Delegates To WRA

WRA will hold election for the two freshman representatives in the first floor lounge of Old Main from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Tuesday and Wednesday. The preliminaries are on Tuesday and the finals on Wednesday. Only first semester coeds are eligible to vote.

The coeds up for office are Ann Fornbrook, Pauline Globisch, Lee Goodman, Mary Hodgson, Grace O'Donnell, Nancy Romig, and Betty Jean Sammons.

The nominees were chosen by their rank in their high school class, their activities in high school, and their interest shown in White Hall and WRA. They must also get a 1.3 all-college average to remain on the WRA Executive Board their second semester.

And More Weddings

Although June has been designated the traditional month of weddings, it would seem December has been selected as the favorite marital month of students and former students of the College.

Allene Babbitt, former Delta Gamma president, took the final vows with Ensign Donald Swanson, Phi Gam and former student at the College, in the Sarah Hearn Presbyterian church in Erie Saturday afternoon. The bride, attired in a floor length gown of white satin and white gold crown with a shoulder length veil, carried a spray of white gardenias.

Patricia Babbitt, sister of the bride and freshman at the College, was maid-of-honor. She was attired in a taffetta gown in watermelon color. Bridesmaids included Ruth Anders, former Kappa Delta president, and Gloria Swanson, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Anders wore a gown of pale blue and Miss Swanson, a gown of aqua taffetta. Best man was First Lieutenant James Ruby.

Sorority Facts

Along the sorority row we find that the Alpha Xi Delta alumnae entertained active members at a Christmas dessert party Sunday . . . Kappa Alpha Theta will have a Christmas party for a group of town children tomorrow . . . Kappa Deltas will entertain alumnae at a Christmas party in Atherton lounge, 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. Monday.

Theta Phi Alpha lists the following new initiates: Anne Kellenstine, Mary LeClair, Anne Patterson, Florence Seese, and Mary Margaret Patrick.

Merry Christmas

Members of Zeta Tau Alpha have decorated their suite in the Christmas theme. Chief feature is the Christmas greeting painted on the windows facing the front court of Atherton Hall. Inside, they have adorned the doors of their rooms with pine boughs, tinsel, and large red ribbons . . .

Delta Gamma province secretary, Miss Jane Cowell, visited the chapter this week . . . Gamma Phi Beta members will have their annual Christmas party for active members Thursday . . . Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained Alpha Chi Omega members at an informal coffee hour Sunday and members of Delta Tau Delta at a party Saturday afternoon . . .

Phi Mu pledged the following coeds Monday: Jean Baily, Grace Bevan, Bettie Decker, Mary Ann Graham, Marjorie Oakes, Margaret Paxton, and Jean Wilcox. There will be a Christmas party for actives and pledges Saturday night, and Mrs. Ben Clouser, formerly Lois McColl, entertained members of the Sorority at her home Sunday.

Mmmmm . . . Turkey

Date of Christmas dinner to be served in Atherton and McAllister Halls has been changed from Monday to Tuesday evening. The coffee hour in Atherton Hall lounges is scheduled from 5:45 p. m. to 6:45 p. m. Mrs. Vera Furst, Miss Elisabeth Laird, Mrs. Grace Hall, and Mrs. Anne Searle, all hostesses in Atherton Hall, will pour.

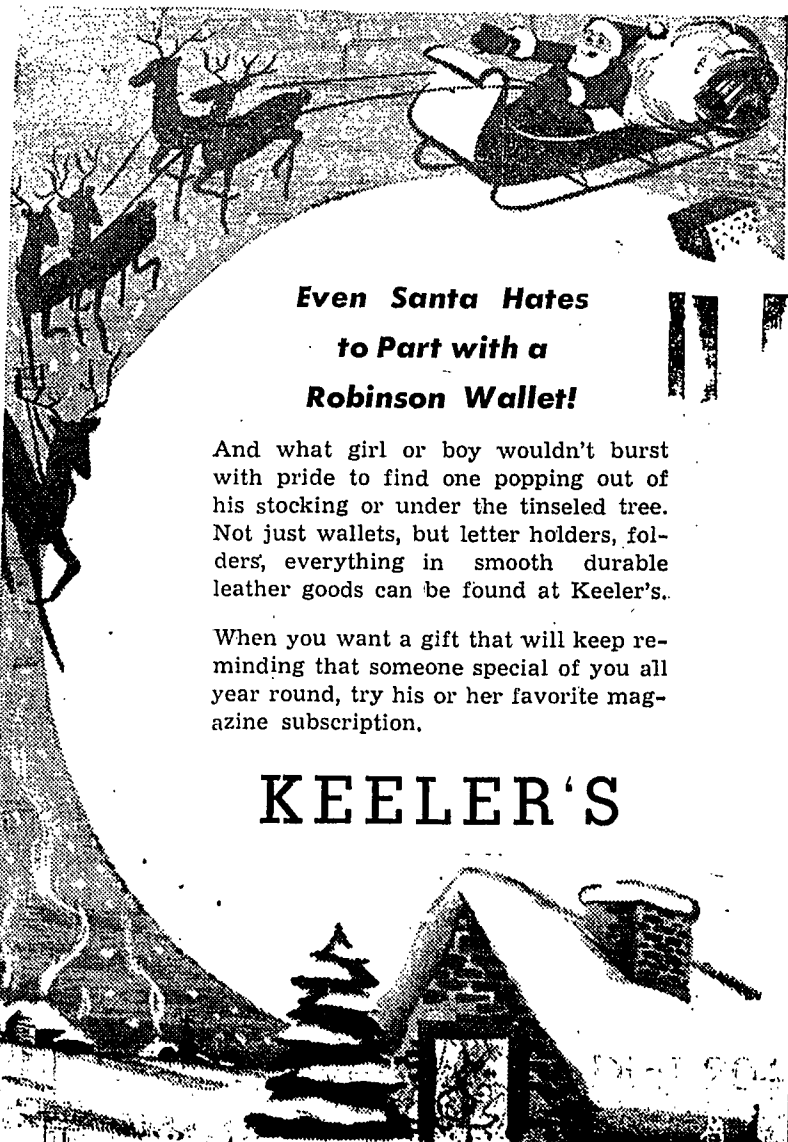

Coffee will be poured in McAllister Hall from 5:45 p. m. to 7 p. m. by Anne Berkheimer, Jane Healy, and Priscilla Wagner.

WRA Holds Party

A Christmas Party sponsored by WRA for the grade schools in the vicinity of State College every year will be held in White Hall from 2:30 to 4 p. m. today. This year about 80 children from the Stoney Point grade school will be entertained.

The committees are as follows: Lee Potteiger and Jo Biehl, gifts; Lou Martin and Nan James, decorations; Phyllis Smith and Helen Gumrot, checking; Madelyn Bush, entertainment; and Doris Handwerk, refreshments.

Coeds Talk Back To Anti-Slackers

We pity the ex-GI's who want their girls to look dream-worldish in skirts. We console those who had their illusions shattered when they saw some girls with slacks. Bowlegs, varicose veins, knock knees, and pigeon toes are things coeds can't overcome at this late date.

When the days were warm and Indian-summerish, we smiled when we heard comments about women in slacks. Most of us agreed that we shouldn't wear them on campus. One feminine little thing belittled slacks all summer and all fall. We met her on the Mall last night in brown glen-plaid slacks with a red jacket buttoned tightly over them. And her date agreed that she looked wonderful. After all the temperature isn't much like spring anymore.

The latest comeback we've heard about the slacks vs. no slacks question is one from a bitter coed who would probably look better without them. A hundred and sixty pounds look o.k. on a football star, but on a 5' 2" coed, they are not quite evenly distributed. She sits in her lonely little room in Atherton Hall every weekend and pines as she writes in her diary, "Well, some men around here don't look very well in pants either. Especially

Women In Sports

In the intramural basketball tournament the transfer students defeated Chi Omega, 62-33; Gamma Phi Beta eked out a 14-13 victory over the Phi Mu's; and Atherton stopped the Delta Chi girls, 70-26.

AEP dropped a 39-10 game to Frazier Hall; Cody Manor won over the town team, 49-26; SDT lost to the Miles street Dorm, 16-14; and Theta Phi Alpha defeated Kallozetia, 19-17.

Chi Omega and the town team won by default over Kappa Delta and the Delta Chi girls respectively.

the ones who insist upon having them pegged until they make pretty good imitations of girls' ski pants." That's what she says. We're just quoting her.

The solution seems to be either that the men accept the women in slacks by virtue of the motto, "Love me; love my slacks," or that the coeds freeze their beautiful—or otherwise—legs during the cold, winter months to follow. It's a vicious cycle, men. If the coeds freeze their legs, they won't be beautiful anymore when warm weather sets in and they no longer have a good excuse for wearing the—may I mention their hated name once more, please?—slacks.

And anyway, don't the sweaters make up for the slacks, huh?
