Table games will be provided for those who do not care to dance all evening. Admission is 30 cents, and the tickets will be sold at the door.

CHARLOTTE E. RAY

Mortar Board Sets Up Fund

A Charlotte E. Ray Scholarship honoring the dean of women is being originated under the sponsorship of the College chapter of Mortar Board.

Mortar Board has set a primary goal of $3,000, but plans to continue collections over a period of years. Only the interest on the fund will be used. No scholarship will exceed $100 for a complete school year.

At the request of Mortar Board, Miss Ray suggested that the scholarship winner should be:

1. A woman whose college education has depended largely upon her own effort.
2. A woman who has attained a fair scholastic record in addition to showing interest in better college activities.
3. A woman who has come to the attention of faculty and students by her promise of future usefulness.

The first scholarship will be awarded to a student at the end of her sophomore year. The choice will be made by a committee composed of one student member of Mortar Board, one town alumna of Mortar Board and one faculty representative.

"The scholarship," said Mary Fakoon, president of Mortar Board, is being named for Miss Ray in recognition of her service and devotion to the College as Dean of Women since 1923, and as a token of the esteem in which

PSCA Campaign Leaders Meet To Organize Drive

Pointing toward a successful finance drive, the Penn State Christian Association will hold an organization dinner for campaign leaders at the State College Hotel banquet hall at 5:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Dr. Victor Beede, head of the forestry department at the College, heads faculty solicitors. Mary Fakoon and Vaughn Stapleton are chairmen of the student campaign.

Proceeds from the canvass will finance all PSCA student activities for the coming year, according to James T. Smith, general secretary. Made possible by the incoming fund are all the Association's functional, social and recreational campus projects. Outstanding among these are Old Main Open House, entertainment for foreign students, Christmas and Easter watch services, the student handbook, recreation for underprivileged children at Millbrook, and conference work with other college Christian Associations.

1500 Vets Apply But College Has Facilities for Only 800

Only returning veterans who were students at the College at the time they left for military service can be admitted to the College at the opening of the second semester in March 1946, President Ralph D. Hetzel announced today, and it is feared, he said, that not all of these can be accommodated.

With every facility strained to the limit, the College can take care of only about 800 in addition to those now enrolled, the president revealed. These will be selected out of more than 2000 who have already applied for admission, with additional applications being received daily. Of the total applications, more than 1500 are from veterans.

NROTC Remains Until Summer

A $10,000,000 appropriation bill, recently passed by Congress and signed by President Truman, will permit continuation of the NROTC until July 1, 1946, on active-duty basis.

Before the appropriation was made, the Navy Department announced curtailment of the NROTC at the end of the present semester.

By July, Navy men now studying at the College will have made a choice of one of the following three courses of action:

- (1) Continuation in the NROTC, paying their own tuition and expenses.
 - (2) Enlistment under the Naval Air Corps V-5 program.
 - (3) Transfer to the fleet on active duty in an enlisted status.
- Those who remain in college will be placed on inactive duty

Osborne Heads Architecture

Milton S. Osborne, newly appointed professor of architecture and head of the department of architecture, has had extensive experience in architecture practice, Dean Harry P. Hammond said today.

The appointment of Osborne, effective May 16, 1946, was approved at the recent meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees on Saturday. Until his arrival, a committee, composed of E. L. Whitaker, L. A. Richardson, and Dr. H. E. Dickson will continue to administer the affairs of the department.

Since 1929, Professor Osborne has been director of the department of architecture and fine arts at the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, Canada. Students Pay Deposit Toward Fees Wednesday

All students, graduate, undergraduate, special, veterans, and part time, are required to pay a ten dollar deposit in Recreation Hall from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Wednesday, according to Registrar William S. Hoffman.

The fee will be used as evidence of a student's intention to return next semester and will help the College determine in advance the number of students which can be admitted. Students will receive credit for the deposit on their fees' statement.

At Recreation Hall, applicants will fill in a housing record form and pay the deposit at windows according to matriculation number, similar to the payment of fee procedure.

Unfortunatly, in order to do this, the president said, "it will be impossible to accept civilian freshmen students for the coming semester. This has made necessary the cancellation of some admissions already granted. The College deeply regrets that these limitations must be set up, but they are made necessary by conditions beyond its control."

Admissions will be made on the basis of seven classifications, but available housing capacity will probably be filled, it was announced, by veterans who come under these two highest priorities:

- A. Veterans who left Penn State for military service.
- B. Disabled veterans under the terms of Public Law 16 who are Pennsylvania residents and admissible to Penn State at a level above that of first semester freshmen.

The next three highest ratings will be given to veterans who were enrolled in college military training programs, on condition that they can be admitted at a level above that of first semester freshmen:

- C. Veterans who are Pennsylvania residents, who were enrolled at Penn State in the ASTP, V-12, and AAF programs.
- D. Veterans who are Pennsylvania residents, who were enrolled

WSGA Christmas Drive To Reach Goal of $550

Although all contributions have not been received, WSGA will reach its goal of $550 in its 17th annual Christmas Drive, it was announced today by Janet Taylor, chairman of the drive. Donations received to date total $520.

Contributions from major coed organizations were larger than in former years, the chairman stated. The drive was conducted through personal solicitation from December 10 to December 20, and checks have been mailed to the four projects sponsored in the drive.

Donations were apportioned among the Mifflin County Children's Aid Society, American Women's Hospitals, Mrs. Ralph D. Hetzel's Emergency Fund, and United China Relief.

Complete list of contributions has not yet been compiled, it was announced, but will be published at a later date. Miss Pearl O. Weston, assistant to the dean of women, acted as advisor for the drive.
