Collegian Continues Polio Drive

Deadline for the campus "March of Dimes" campaign has been extended to February 8. A notable lag in the drive was shown the last four days with only an additional $32.64 contributed toward the $1000 goal. The total now stands at $400.78.

A "wishing well," constructed and decorated by William Whitehill and donated by Joseph Sommers, of the Warner Brothers circuit, has been placed in the lobby of Old Main, near the Student Union desk.

Passersby are asked to drop their dimes into the bucket suspended in the well. When depositing his coin, the contributor makes a wish, and according to tradition, it will come true.

Fraternities, sororities, dormitories, campus organizations, and town houses are urged to turn in their contributions as soon as possible. Collegian staff members will continue to solicit donations from faculty members and staff employees in the various campus classroom buildings and laboratories.

Contributions to date are:
Players' show	$168.58
Beta Sigma Rho	55.22
Phi Sigma Delta	45.00

Five Women's Groups Offer To Sponsor Opening Of White Hall For Dry Dock

In an effort to have White Hall opened for Dry Dock on Saturday evenings five women's organizations have offered to cooperate with All-College Cabinet by sponsoring Dry Dock. These groups are Women's Student Government Association, Cwens, Junior Service Board, Mortar Board, and Panhellenic Council.

Miss Marie Haidt, associate professor of physical education, has opposed opening White Hall for mixed recreation because it was built with the understanding that its facilities would be limited to coeds, or social affairs sponsored by women's organizations. Since these women's organizations feel that Dry Dock is a necessity they have offered to sponsor it if permission to use White Hall is granted.

The Cabinet committee for Dry Dock and the presidents of the girls' organizations have sent the following letter to Dr. Carl P. Schott, dean of the School of Physical Education, asking his aid in obtaining White Hall.

Forum Series Brings Hindus

Maurice Hindus, Russian-born author and lecturer, will discuss his native country in the third of the current Community Forum lectures in Schwab Auditorium at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Recently returned from a trip to Russia, Hindus says that it is ridiculous talk about "an inevitable war with Russia."

"No nation, unless it is led by a fanatic like Hitler, makes war on another nation without a prospect of success," he says. "There would be nothing to be gained by either side in a war between the United States and Russia."

Hindus came to this country from Russia at 14, educated himself in night school in New York, and was graduated from Colgate with honors in 1915. In another year he received his master's degree, and later did a year of graduate study at Harvard.

The speaker has published several books on his homeland, and is well-known as a lecturer.

Milholland Accepts Post

James Milholland, Pittsburgh attorney, was elected president of the Board of Trustees of the College at the annual meeting in Harrisburg Saturday.

He succeeds J. Franklin Shields, of Philadelphia, who tendered his resignation as president after serving on the board since 1905. He has been president of the board since 1929 and a member of the executive committee since 1916, and will continue to serve as a member of the board having been re-elected for three years by the alumni in 1944.

To honor Mr. Shields, the board created the office of President Emeritus of the Board and elected Mr. Shields to that position. To fill the vacancy on the executive committee created by the election of Mr. Milholland, the trustees named J. L. "Whereas, we all regret that he finds it impossible to continue active participation in the deliberations of the Board and to conform to his custom of personal contacts with the respective members of the Board and the College administration; and

Malcuzyński Cancels Date

The Witold Malcuzyński number of the Artists' Course series scheduled for Wednesday will probably be cancelled, Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, chairman, announced today.

Dr. Marquardt said that his committee and the representatives of the Polish pianist have been unable to arrange a mutually suitable date since Malcuzyński was forced to cancel his original date, December 17.

Malcuzyński was unable to keep his engagement when his wife became seriously ill and had to undergo an operation.

"Mr. Malcuzyński has since become committed to other engagements," Dr. Marquardt explained, "and because of this and transportation difficulties, I feel certain that the concert will have to be cancelled."

The committee will know definitely, Dr. Marquardt said, within a day or two.

"I want to assure our patrons," Dr. Marquardt said, "that if we replace this number it will be with talent equal or superior to the original artist. We shall obtain the very best number we can regardless of the additional cost."
