

Panhel Lists Open Houses

Panhellenic Council has announced that the first sorority open houses will be held tomorrow from 2 to 4 p. m. No personal invitations to the open houses will be issued, but all freshmen, transfer, and upperclass women interested in joining a sorority are urged to attend. The council stated that it is desirable to visit as many houses as possible to become better acquainted with the girls in each house.

Each open house will last for two hours; all houses must be empty by 4 o'clock. In keeping with the informal atmosphere casual sport clothes with no hat or gloves will be the attire. Freshman Coed Chalks Up 71 Flying Hours As Hobby

Eleanor Kelly, a former tombstone carver and freshman at the College, is a licensed flyer. Eleanor, better known to her friends as "Kelly," began her flying career on Memorial Day, 1944, and received private lessons for the following ten months. She then became a sergeant in the Civil Air Patrol.

"There is no thrill like your first solo flight and later knowing that you can take your friends up for a ride," she says.

Miss Kelly says that flying is the "third dimension" in her life and feels the sky is a new world to love and to conquer. With a total of 71 hours, including ten hours of cross-country flying, she has flown various types of planes such as Taylorcrafts, Cubs, and Aeronaes.

Finding life exceedingly dull during the war, Miss Kelly began to fly merely as a hobby. After graduation from high school in 1942 as salutatorian of her class, she obtained a job lettering and carving tombstones to help out in the man-power shortage.

Someday Eleanor hopes to own her own plane so she can spend a Sunday afternoon in New York, Maryland, or Virginia and be back in her home town, Hastings, Pennsylvania, for dinner. Another of her aims is to organize a flying club in the future.

Although her hobby is flying, Miss Kelly is mostly interested in becoming a journalist. However, she hopes that every student, no matter what field he is planning to enter, will keep his mind in the sky and make the post-war sky a better one.

WSGA Plans Dance; Changes Tea Hour; Restricts Permits

Committees to plan an informal dance that will be held in Recreation Hall, March 9, were appointed at the weekly meeting of Senate of WSGA, Tuesday night. Jane Healy will head the affair assisted by Jean Nelson, Anne Berkheimer, Rita Grossman, and Suzanne Romig.

The hour of the Big-Little Sister tea February 17 has been changed to 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. to avoid conflict with other campus functions. The dates for the sorority open-houses have also been changed. The new dates are February 2 and 16.

It was announced by judicial head, Joan Shearer, that from now on freshman women will not be given late permissions for events that fall on Friday nights. Those girls wishing to attend such functions will be forced to use their 1 o'clock. The weekend of February 8 is an exception, the freshman coeds having already received late permissions for that weekend.

Priscilla Wagner, Panhellenic representative, announced that the council has accepted representatives for Lampades, local sorority. Plans were made for blood typing, February 7, and 14, from 7 to 8:30 p. m. Applicants should sign up at Student Union before these dates.
