

WSGA Announces Frosh Move-Ups To Start Today

Move-up Day for second semester freshman coeds is effective this morning at 8 o'clock. This was the announcement of Joan Shearer, Judicial chairman, at the WSGA Senate meeting Tuesday night. This means that beginning this weekend these coeds will be entitled to upperclass privileges.

Miss Shearer also stated that it is the ruling of Judicial that there will be no postponements of penalties and campuses, this weekend because of Winter Fantasy.

"It seems harsh, but it hardly seems fair to those who have been good all semester that it should be otherwise," continued the Judicial representative.

The time of the Big-Little Sister tea has been set for 3 to 5 p. m., February 17. Senate also approved a motion that WSGA contribute $10 to the campus polo drive.

Additional plans have been laid for the WSGA Dance to be held in Recreation Hall, from 9 to 12 p. m., March 9. Jane Healy, chairman of the affair, said that the Campus Owls have been engaged for this first dance of next semester.

It was voted that Senate should send a letter to Prof. Carl E. Marquardt requesting that a Negro artist be substituted in the Artists' Course Series for the cancellation of Maluczynski. Following a discussion of Sunday movies for the campus, the meeting was adjourned.

Kappas Will Offer Three Fellowships

Three $500 fellowships will be offered by Kappa Kappa Gamma to women graduates of any one of the 74 Canadian and American colleges and universities having Kappa chapters. Eighth semester coeds may also apply.

The fellowships, which have been awarded by Kappa since 1936, are available to fraternity and non-fraternity women alike and usually, although not necessarily, are divided into the fields of science, art and human relations.

Application blanks may be gotten at the office of the dean of women and at the office of the dean of the graduate school. They should be obtained at once, filled out, and returned by March 1 to Mrs. Bernard L. Lilljeberg, Box 924, Lamar, Colorado.

Blood Typing To End Thursday

The second and final night for blood typing will be Thursday from 7 to 8:30 p. m. This project is being sponsored by House of Representatives, and is open to anyone on campus.

Janet Taylor, speaker of the House, urges that students avail themselves of this opportunity and register at Student Union for next week's typing. Only 250 people can be typed in one evening, and after the quota has been signed up, no other applications can be accepted.

This typing will be done in the dispensary by Mrs. Grace W. Koch, and the cards bearing the person's blood type will be issued the night of typing.

Shall I go sorority? Shall I join now or wait until later in my college career? And how am I ever going to remember all those Greek names?

Whether to affiliate herself with a Greek sorority perplexes the potential rushee as she walks down the mall or drops in the Corner, and is cognizant of the searching glances of active members of these societies.

Another Openhouse Coming

Prospective rushees were given the first glance into sororities on Saturday, when the members entertained at the traditional open houses which are part of rushing. On Saturday, February 16, another open house is scheduled. Coeds may then revisit the houses and suites, or take a peek at those they missed.

If a coed decides to join a fraternal organization, she will want to register in the office of the dean of women on March 11. At this time she'll need to bring her transcript.

A new Panhellenic book which lists the sororities, their members, fees, and pins has just been published. It can be secured from the office of the dean of women.

Notes from Sororities

New notes this week include an informal party held by Gamma Phi Beta for ex-servicemen Sunday night—Kappa Kappa Gamma will entertain the midshipmen coming to the College for the meet in Recreation Hall tomorrow night. Mrs. Douglas Mead spoke at the last meeting of Phi Mu. She discussed the history of the organization's chapter. Spoudekastor recently pledged Marian Evans, Elsie Federoff, Penny Hamann, Gloria Parks, and Shirley Roberts. Alpha Chi Omega entertained Kappa Alpha Theta at breakfast Sunday morning. Chi Omega held an informal party for graduating seniors of the chapter Monday night.
