

Dairy Students Sponsor Show; Schedule Events, Name Judges

Events have been scheduled, prizes arranged, and division managers and judges named for the annual Dairy Exposition to be sponsored by the College chapter of the American Dairy Science Association in the Stock Pavilion at 1 p. m. May 11.

John P. Wilson, a fourth semester student in Dairy Husbandry, has been named by the club to be show manager. He will direct the showing and fitting of dairy cattle, and handle the feature events of the show.

All Student Show

The Dairy Exposition is an all-student show, presented annually by College dairy students who show and fit the several breeds of dairy cows. Special events will include a calf judging show, a Dairy Products Exhibit, and the Coed Milking Contest.

In addition to Manager Wilson, officers for the show include Robert Drick, banquet chairman; Drusilla Hoke, Coed Milking Contest chairman; George Portzline, Dairy Products Exhibit chairman; and Kathleen Ryder, publicity chairman.

Eight classes of cows from five breeds of cattle will be shown. Managers for each of the breeds are: Ayershire, William Murray; Brown Swiss, John Wilson; Guernsey, John Walker; Holstein, John Thompson; and Jersey, George Heidebaugh.

Preliminary to the main show on May 11, a dairy cattle judging contest will be held in the Dairy Barn at 1 p. m. tomorrow. At this showing, one animal from each of the five dairy cattle breeds will compete. The judging of milk will be made, in preparation for the Dairy Products Exhibit, in 4 Dairy Building at 2:20 p. m. Tuesday.

Judges Named

Judges for the show include Professors J. C. Mageotte and Robert Olmstead, extension dairy specialists for the College; Lyle Bennett and J. B. McCool, county agents for Union and Clinton Counties; and Clarence Peters, a prominent Centre County dairy farmer.

The thirty students who are entered for showing of dairy cows will compete for cash awards and merchandise prizes which are offered by manufacturers of dairy products. One of the more unique prizes is a model of a "perfect cow," offered by the Guernsey Breeders' Association.

Officers of the Dairy Club, which is sponsoring the Dairy Exposition, are: Lee McDaniel, president; Carl Colteryahn, vice president; and Drusilla Hoke, secretary-treasurer.

Earn Flight In A Cub With Best Insignia For Flying Club

Would you like an hour's ride in a new Piper Cub? The Penn State Flying Club will award to the first prize winner of an insignia contest an hour's ride in their newly-purchased plane.

Designs may be submitted to Student Union until May 20, and should be drawn on paper approximately 8 1/2 by 11 inches. The Flying Club will use the insignia on the plane itself, by blowing up the design to cover an area of about two square feet.

Composed of 13 members who make their flights from the Bellefonte airport, the club is open to students and faculty members, regardless of whether they have had previous flying experience.

Don't be discouraged if your design doesn't win first prize of an hour's flight, as second prize winner will receive a half hour's ride.

KDKA Mobile Unit Transcribes Farm Broadcast From Campus

Homer H. Martz, Agricultural Director for station KDKA, Pittsburgh, set up the KDKA mobile radio unit at the College on Monday to make transcriptions for use on the "KDKA Farm Hour," a daily morning program of farm and market news.

The first of the transcriptions made at the College, which was used on the program, was that made by Dr. Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the School of Agriculture. Dr. Jackson spoke on "It's Your School of Agriculture" on the Wednesday morning program.

Mr. Martz, '33, is a graduate of the School of Agriculture. Before becoming Agricultural Director for KDKA, he served as assistant county agent for Centre County, and as a farm columnist on the Pittsburgh Press. Assisting Mr. Martz in making the transcriptions was Walter Dice, a KDKA radio technician.

The transcription recording set which "cut th platters" for the farm program was set up in the office of Elton B. Tait, radio editor for the College Agricultural Extension Service. In addition to Dean Jackson, Mr. Martz interviewed members of the Agricultural faculty and officers of the Pennsylvania Country Life Association, a group representing leading farm organizations.

Transcriptions on special topics which will be used on future Farm Hour programs were made by the following faculty members: William B. Connell, head of Animal Husbandry; William L. Henning, professor of animal husbandry; Robert P. Meahl, professor of ornamental horticultural; Robert H. Olmstead, head of Dairy Extension; and William T. S. Thorpe, professor of animal pathology.
