Ball Game Broadcast For a Sick Brother

Ralph Lewis, Tau Kappa Epsilon, confined to bed with a back injury, heard a play-by-play description via the "Mitchell Broadcasting Company" of the Teke-Chi Phi softball game played in the "Powerpuff Bowl" Tuesday night.

"Powerpuff Bowl" is located directly behind the Teke house, and is the home field for all Locust Lane League games.

Late Tuesday afternoon, Bob Poindexter and some of the brothers "fixed it" so Lewis could hear the game. They set a microphone up along the first base line and connected it to a radio beside the patient's bed.

Jimmy Mitchell, of the Plee-gor and Mitchell comedy team did the play-by-play, complete with commercials and wise cracks.

In spots the broadcast was a little unorthodox. Such remarks as, "Someone go up to my room and bring down a pack of cigarettes from the right bureau drawer, or "Plee-gor is chasing the fly in deep center, Chuck! watch out for that car;" were all part of the show. When Plee-gor caught a fly ball next to the mail box on the corner, Mitchell commented, "He really mailed that one."

Nevertheless, the patient got a complete description of the Tekes 3-0 victory over the Chi Phi's, one - minute interviews with the game's stars, and a lot of laughs. The broadcast made such a hit that Wednesday and Thursday night's games in the "Powerpuff Bowl" were aired from the "press coop" on the field to the convalescent's room 60 feet away.
