

Local European Relief Committee Sponsors Clothing, Food Drive

Joining a nation-wide drive, a campus European relief committee will conduct a campaign to start Monday and continue through the week. This was announced by the chairman, Jeanne Hirt.

The project will take the form of a "Penny a Meal" and a "Can a Man" program as well as a clothing collection and wheatless meals in the dormitories.

Under the "Penny a Meal" set-up, each coed will be asked to bring one penny to every meal for a week. Jars will be provided in the dining commons to receive the contributions. At the end of the week, the money will be collected and used to buy a heifer which will be sent overseas.

Supplementing the "Penny a Meal" idea, each coed will be asked to purchase a can of food of any kind or size. The cans can then be turned into Student Union. There they will be packed and will follow the heifer to Europe.

The dormitory dietitians have made arrangements to cooperate with the campaign. On Tuesday and Thursday nights, no wheat or wheat products will be served. It is planned to continue the wheatless meals after the drive is over.

Under the direction of the Penn State Christian Association, a new clothing drive will be started. Boxes will be placed at vantage points around campus where unwanted but clean, mended and serviceable clothing may be discarded.

The European Relief committee is composed of women from various campus organizations, WSGA, IWA, PSCA, Red Cross, and Philotes, as well as all sorority presidents.

In stating that it would be a coed project, Miss Hirt said, "We aren't ignoring the fellows altogether. They can help if they want to and we'd be glad to have them. It is just that we feel they have done their share and now it is time for us coeds to do the rest."

Fill Your Idle Hours Apply For Any Job At 423 Old Main

Jobs from soda jerk to farm work are offered by the Personnel Relations for the idle student. Although tempting with offers of room and board there are still unanswered positions.

Among the variety of calls are those for gardening, substitute waiters for fraternity parties, house-cleaning help and campus cop positions.

Room and board for a single or married veteran will be provided in return for farm work and transportation will be arranged if necessary. Although some experience on a farm is necessary one offer even included room and board for a married veteran with a child.

Further information on the positions still available for men and women students may be obtained in 423 Old Main.

Penn State Grad Club Meets Tomorrow Night

The Penn State Grad Club will meet at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in Room 401 and 405 Old Main, Richard D. Dresdner, acting president, announced today.

Following a business meeting, a social hour will be held. Leslie J. Tyler is in charge of the entertainment.

The meeting is open to all graduate students at the College.

Drop-Add Checks

Music Concert Features Pianist

John Kelly, pianist and student of Guy Woods, professor of music education, will play the Warsaw Concerto by Richard Addinsell, as the Glee Club concert gets under way in Schwab Auditorium, 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Presented by the music department under the direction of Frank Gullo, professor of music education, the third concert of the series will offer the Varsity Quartet, made up of William Parsons, first tenor; William Nesbitt, second tenor; George Bender, baritone; and John Holmes, bass. Gordon Kaltrider, baritone soloist studying with Mrs. Elizabeth Reynolds, will sing.

Three groups of selections will comprise the Glee Club's part of the program. The first is a Sigmund Romberg set, "Stouthearted Men," "Lover Come Back to Me," "Drinking Song" and "Serenade" from "The Student Prince."

The second series will be "Winter Songs," "Just a Memory," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," and "Rigoletto." "Eric Canal," "Roll Chariot," "One World," and "The Shadow March" make up the third section.

ACS Honors Henry, Weyl

Dr. Edward C. Henry, chief of the division of ceramics at the College, and Dr. Woldemar Weyl, director of Glass Science, Inc., and professor of glass technology, were elected Fellows of the American Ceramic Society at its annual meeting in Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Henry was elected secretary of the whitewares division of the Society and also was appointed chairman of the standards committee.

Dr. Alfred Bastress, associate professor of glass technology, delivered a paper "Oxidation-Reduction Phenomena in Glass," and Dr. Samuel Zerfoss, assistant professor of ceramics, presented a paper by himself and B. A. Rugh, on "Reactions of Alkali with Kolin and Metakaolin." J. Raymond Hensler, research assistant, spoke on "The Examination of Polished Specimens of Refractories by Reflected Light," based on an article by Hensler and Dr. Zerfoss.

Members of the ceramics research staff attending the convention in connection with their research program were Paul M. Corbett, Robert L. Hess, Willard F. Mullen, James P. Poole, and Mrs. Betty A. Rugh. Dr. Henry also attended meetings of the Ceramic Educational Council and the Institute of Ceramic Engineers, organizations affiliated with the American Ceramic Society.

Thespians To Give Show

"Time Out for Trouble," the first Thespian show since 1944, will be presented as a feature of Interfraternity Houseparty weekend, June 14 and 15. J. Michael Kerns, production manager, announced last night.

Thespians, oldest organization on campus, produced semi-annual musical comedy shows on big weekends before disbanding during the war. Many members of the pre-war club have now returned from service and are forming the nucleus of the forthcoming production, he stated.

Written by Richard Frontman and William Reutti, the show is already in rehearsal. Principal roles have been assigned to Ruth "Tawnie" Hill, Vivian Judy, Martin Baum, and Ray Fontumato.

Bud Mellott is directing the dance chorus, the same job that he held before the war, while J. Ewing "Sock" Kennedy is again serving as faculty advisor for the group.

The plot, Kerns disclosed, will be woven around three ex-GI's who return to campus and the trouble and situations that confront them.

All songs, costumes, and stage designs as well as the book will be original, Kerns added.

Campus Patrol

... needs four patrolmen for part time jobs. Those interested are requested to inquire at 320 Old Main.

No Booths For Dance

"There will be no fraternity or independent booths at the all-college dance next Friday night," announced Robert Foote, dance committee chairman.

"Since the Les Brown band has many featured performers, the evening will be one of entertainment and few will want to occupy booths while the dancing and fun are going on," Foote said.

"Booths can accommodate only a small percentage of the couples attending anyway," he added. "Usually they are used to check coats and wraps."

An opportunity to preview Les Brown and his band is available to dance-goers this evening when the RKO-Radio musical, "Seven Day Leave," is shown at the State Theater, according to Dick Sarge, publicity chairman.

This musical has been engaged for a one-day run through the joint efforts of the all-college dance committee and the local theater manager.

Chairman Foote stated also that the All-College Spring dance next Friday will be distinctive in that there will be no queen selected to reign at the affair.

Les Brown and the entire Band of Renown will stay at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house next Friday night, according to Dick Lose, committee member.

Sigma Chi

... initiated the following on Saturday: Richard Flinn, Robert Jones, Lyle Root, and Raymond Schlosser. They recently pledged Robert McKillip.

Members who have returned this semester are Paul Cauffiel, Robert Gegenheimer, James Harwick, David Hill, Richard Kjellman, Robert Shattuck, Carl Stokes, and Rube Waddell.

Spanish Dancers Launch Latin-American Session

Teresta and Emilio Osta will introduce the Inter-American Conference with a program of dances and music on a Spanish and Latin-American theme in Schwab Auditorium, 8 o'clock tonight.

The conference for students, faculty, and grade school teachers will include lectures, seminars, movies, and an Old Main Open House tomorrow evening. Tickets for the Osta program may be obtained at Student Union and in dormitories for 50c.

Americana Movies

Opening the weekend will be movies on Argentina and Bolivia with comments by Thorlief Iolster of Argentina in 121 Sparks, 2:15 this afternoon. "Building Inter-American Understanding Through Education" will be the topic of the general session presented by John C. Patterson, formerly chief of the division of Inter-American Relations, U. S. Office of Education, in 121 Sparks, 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

A series of Latin-American seminars on music, literature, art, politics, and opportunities will be held from 10:15 to 12 a.m. tomorrow. Hirschel Brickel, acting chief of the division of international exchange of the U. S. Department of State, will speak to the luncheon meeting at the Presbyterian Church at 12:30 p.m.

Group Discussion

Following a general assembly three groups will discuss the presentation of understanding of Latin America to school students at 2:30 p.m.

Saturday night there will be an Old Main Open House and social dancing at Rec Hall with a Latin-American theme and the Sunday morning Chapel speaker, Kurt Singer, will speak on a Latin-American topic. The Men's Glee Club, sponsored by the department of music and directed by Prof. Frank Gullo will close the conference with a concert at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Sponsoring the conference are the Inter-American Demonstration Center, the Centro-Cultural Inter-Americano, and the Penn State Christian Association, in conjunction with the United States Office of Education.

Ag Students to Present Square Dance, Social At Stock Pavilion Tonight

Memories of days in the Little Red Schoolhouse may come back to coeds planning to attend the Old Fashioned Box Social and Square Dance tonight, as they pack their lunches for two.

Ag Student Council is sponsoring the program which will start in the Stock Pavilion at 7:30 tonight. In order that students may attend the South American Dance presentation at Schwab Auditorium before coming to the box social, auctioning of boxes will not begin until 10 o'clock.

Directions for the stag affair are as follows:

Coeds are to pack a lunch for herself and for the boy who will bid successfully for her box; it need not be fancy. Actual bidding will be done on the decorated envelopes which each coed will present with her box. These envelopes are to contain the coed's name, and will enable the purchaser to find his partner and his lunch.

Square dancing will continue until 10 o'clock when the auctioning will begin. During the time that the couples are eating their lunch, coffee will be served free.

Co-chairmen for the program are William Murray and Francis Turner. Master of ceremonies and auctioneer will be Joseph Kelly. Proceeds from the dance and social will go to Ag Student Council.
