

Delta Zeta Will Install Local Chapter

"Lampades have met the requirements to date and will be installed as the Gamma Delta chapter of Delta Zeta next fall," Mrs. Howard V. Hornung, national representative of Delta Zeta announced recently.

Organized in November, 1945, the local sorority had the ultimate purpose of qualifying for membership as a chapter of Delta Zeta. On December 11, 1945, Lampades was accepted by the College Administration, and in January 1946, was admitted to membership in the College Panhellenic Council.

Delta Zeta was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, October-24, 1902, by six of the first women students. This school is often termed the "mother of fraternities", being well known as the birthplace of the "Miami Triade." Delta Zeta, however is the only NPG sorority established on the Miami campus. Fifty-seven chapters have been founded at various colleges and 88 alumnae chapters. National membership to date totals 15,000.

Officers of Lampades are: Tamazine Crum, president; Fay Matulis, vice-president; Doris Dittman, secretary; Elizabeth Maynard, treasurer; and Beverly Joyce, Panhellenic representative. The membership includes: Mary Beswick, Shirley Bremier, Doris Brenner, Dorothy Cauffiel, Dorothy Coffman, Rebecca Cogan, Mary Alice Hodgson, Claire Horn, Mary Ann Kemper, Suzanne Lawrence, Jane Lee, Betsy Ross, Penny Stevenson, Patricia Trew, Alma Weir, and Lorraine Zimmerman.

The pledges are: Jane Healy, Catherine Liljegren, Gloria Ness, Harriet Schlee, Janice Stevenson, Betty Vanderbeck, and Marian Colver.

The next meeting of the group will be in the form of a weiner roast in Hort Woods May 27.

From up on Ag Hill comes the news that an old fashioned box social will be the leading event of tonight 'way up thar. It's a stag affair and attractively decorated envelopes will be auctioned off. These envelopes will contain the name of the coed whose box is won. Something new and different from the general round of formal dances.

DGs Entertain

The Delta Gammas entertained at a luncheon at the Nifty Inn Tuesday honoring Mrs. Ethel Gilbert, speaker for the Matrix Dinner. Mrs. Gilbert is a Washington OPA director, and all the BWOC's who heard her Monday night agree that if she's an example of the OPA... then here's to more of it. The DGs also pledged Pat Kinkead this week.

The Kappa Deltas have their pledge dance scheduled for tomorrow night at the Sigma Pi house featuring Dick Berge and his orchestra. The KDs also have a Sunday turkey dinner invitation from the Phi Sigma Kappas. Phi Mu has a weiner roast planned for 5:30 tonight, just for the Alpha Gamma Rhos.

Picnic News

And the Zeta Tau Alphas are going on an all-day picnic at Whipple's Dam tomorrow with the Sigma Phi Sigmas. Zeta Dorri Mawhinney, who celebrates a birthday this weekend, is looking forward to an unusual gift in the form of ex-Sergeant Frank Sheleton, who will come up from Philly to see Dorri over the weekend. And from Pottsville comes the word that a Zeta alum, Mary Haines, is wearing an SPE pin from former Penn Staier Carl Raring.

Chi Omega had a dessert party for the pledges Monday evening, and the ChiOs are initiating 29 pledges this weekend. The pledges of Gamma Phi gave a tea last week for the pledges of other sororities. Mrs. George Leffler, a sponsor, is entertaining the Gamma Phis at her home Sunday afternoon. The AChiOs held a dessert party for the Phi Deltas Tuesday evening.

Irons Missing

And from Atherton Hall comes the plea, "Please return the missing irons." It seems that two irons have been "borrowed" from the pressing room and the room has been locked until the irons walk back. "Borrowing" looks pretty bad in a college dormitory which is supposed to contain the "cream of America's young women." It's also mighty inconvenient for the coeds left without the use of the irons. How about it little "borrowers?" Let's take the necessary steps to bring about the reopening of the pressing room by sending the missing irons back to their original home.

The KDRs have their pledge dance slated for Saturday night. The Sigma Pis and the Beta Sigma Omicrons had a joint party last weekend at the Sigma Pi house, and the BSO pledge officers are: Norma Shantzenbach, president; Gloria Moulten, secretary, and Ellie Chapman, treasurer. The AEPH pledge class gave a tea for the actives last night, and Zeta Beta Tau has invited the AEPHs out Sunday afternoon for tea.

And More Pledge Officers

Spoudekastor: Loise Ingram, president; Marjorie Stout, vice-president; Sug Evans, secretary, and Jane Fournacre, treasurer. AEPH: Joan Kapnek, president; Ruth Kraftsow, vice-president; Elise Levy, secretary; and Irene Sheinberg, treasurer. Active officers of Phi Sig Sig are: Marilyn Lumitz, archon; Frances Sorin, vice-archon; Avis Goldberg, scribe; Lorraine Levy, tribune, and Elsie Harwitz, bursar.

And here's once again to Bob Hirsh, who the only time he ever saw his name in Collegian, saw it misspelled.

The Swimming Club, 44 girls under the direction of Miss Marion J. Whallon, presented their colorful "Aloha Lei" production before a capacity audience. Many of the girls participating also had swum in the telegraphics.

The original routines were composed by four members of the club, all physical education majors: Nam James, Mickey Barnett, Marjorie Dunmeyer, and Jacqueline Zivic. Swimming to Hawaiian recorded music, the coeds swam a fan routine, a wheel routine, several duets, and a grand finale. Narration for the show was done by Anne Dunaway.

Committees in charge of the aquacade were: properties, Suzanne Potter, Elaine Mahuran, Catherine Durne, Sherrie Fogg, costumes, Min Blank, Eunice Hurlburt, Laura Craig, Rebecca Walker, programs, Suzanne Potter.
