gether in close coordination. Bud and his wife, "Pete," have a trailer in Windcrest. Both were active in shows before the war. "Pete" was one of the charter members of the Masquerettes, sister organization of the Thespians.

Bill Reutti and Dick Frontman wrote the book for "No Time For Trouble." Bill was end-man for the famous "Three Stooges" comedy trio. Mellott was also in the "Stooges." In 1943, the trio was offered a contract at a Harrisburg night club but turned it down to continue their studies.

PSCA-Secretary Goes On Leave of Absence

Miss Elizabeth Farrow, Associate Women's Secretary of the Penn State Christian Association, was recently granted four- and one-half months' leave of absence, reported James T. Smith, General Secretary. While she is on leave, Miss Alden will take her place for the rest of this semester while expanding features of the program will be guided by the new Associate Men's Secretary, Mr. Eugene Floyd, ex-Navy lieutenant and former secretary of the YMCA at the University of Nebraska.

Miss Farrow's plans are uncertain. At the present time she and her mother will prepare at their home in Lewisburg for an extended trip to Hollywood, California, where Miss Farrow will visit with her cousin and do some painting and writing. She also plans to find the time to visit a number of campuses including the University of Southern California, the University of California at Los Angeles, and others.

In 1873 the College had five courses of study—general science, agriculture, mechanical and civil engineering, literature, and metallurgy, mineralogy and mining.

Minnesota Ballroom

All dances at the University of Minnesota are held in the beautiful main ballroom in the Coffman Memorial Union. A popular stopover for name bands, this modernistic hall is equipped with indirect lighting and air-conditioning for dancing comfort. A balcony-lounge borders the room on three sides.

Completed in 1940 at a cost of $1,500,000 the Coffman Union is one of the finest in the country.

The proposed Student Union building at Penn State would provide a similar ballroom designed for dancing. Ample lounge space, eating facilities, rest rooms, check rooms, and possibly an out-door terrace, will provide the perfect atmosphere.

Letters To The Editor-

real student paper instead of the all social sheet it has been.

Abe Lapowsky

Again

Dear Editor:

I enjoyed reading your editorial on OPA. At last the Collegian is becoming a conscientious organ of expression for the student body.

Ben Gorelick

Again

Dear Editor:

More issues like that of May 14. Be liberal, that's the idea. As it is now you have the stereotyped version of a paper that is dictated to by the National Association of Manufacturers.

Leonard Margolis

Again

Dear Editor:

Keep up the courageous and fine work like your editorial on OPA. Bravo!

W. J. G.

Again

Dear Editor:

I was very glad to see that in Tuesday's issue you printed material about the OPA.

I think in a college newspaper such as ours, we should more often print articles about local and national problems.

Dottie Brell

Again

Dear Editor:

Your paper as of Tuesday, May 14, is a masterpiece. Please frame it and model succeeding issues on it. The directness and force of that issue does much to amend previous low opinion of Collegian. Please, keep up the good work. Especially hang on to C.J.R.

D. M. M.

Again

Dear Editor:

Three cheers for the Collegian and C.J.R. We'd like to see things like that little piece on price control more often. Since any "outside" gnashing of teeth and flowing curses over prices and rent are to little avail, how about helping the little guys along more often in this respect?

Betty Wissler

And Again

Dear Editor:

Thanks for putting out an issue that was readable, (May 14), especially to C.J.R. for the editorial on OPA. I personally don't give a damn who gets married or pinned etc., but would like to see more issues like the one on May 14 dealing with problems that affect us.

Eugene Jaffe

May Day

Dear Editor:

I'm sure everyone enjoyed the "Dark and Bitter Look" outlook on the May Day ceremony this past week. But I think some mention and credit should be given to those who worked so hard to bring back the May Day tradition. It was entirely a student organized activity and I for one want to congratulate those responsible.

With the short time for preparation and the inadequate facilities, I think they did a swell job and with a little student support next year, we can easily bring May Day back in its full glory.

Froth-

two" had left off.

"We're also running some terrific book and movie reviews; plus the usual assortment of 'frothy' cartoons and jokes; man, this magazine has everything," Ben modestly admitted.

We attempted to get a statement from the women's editor, Lois Marks, but all she gurgled was, "If you quote me, I'll spit." So rather than have the office linoleum soiled, we retreated.

Just then the junior and sophomore boards attempted to get a word in; but we dashed out of the Froth dungeon into the open air.

Terrific! Sensational! Unsurpassed! Out of this world! and other exclamations were still floating out of the Carnegie Hall basement, as we headed down the Mall.
