

Calendar

TODAY

Froth Editorial Staff, Froth Office, 4:30 p.m.
 Archery Club, White Hall, 5:30 p.m.
 WSGA Mass Meeting for all women students, 110 Home Ec., 6:30 p.m.
 All-College Student Union Committee, 121 Sparks, 6:30 p.m.
 Collegian Candidates, 8 Carnegie Hall, 7 p.m.
 German Club, 200 Carnegie Hall, 7 p.m.
 MI Society Meeting, 120 MI, 7:15 p.m.
 Treble Singers, 117 Carnegie Hall, 7 p.m.
 Penn State Club Meeting, 321 Old Main, 7:30 p.m.
 X-GI Club Nominations Meeting, 121 Sparks, 8 p.m.

TOMORROW

Baseball game with West Virginia, New Beaver Field, 4 p.m.
 IWA meeting, 401 Old Main, 6:30 p.m.
 Collegian Reporter's meeting, 8 Carnegie Hall, 6:30 p.m.
 Russian Club Chorus Practice, 200 Carnegie Hall, 7 p.m.
 Thespian Rehearsal, Schwab Auditorium, 7 p.m.
 Home Economics Club Fashion Show, 110 Home Economics, 7:30 p.m.

THURSDAY

Bowling Club, White Hall, 6:30 p.m.
 Campus Closeups, WMAJ, 6:45 p.m.
 Cabinet Meeting, Alumni Office, 7 p.m.
 Penn State Grange, 100 Horticulture, 7 p.m.
 Forestry Society, 105 Forestry, 7:30 p.m.

Dairy Goat Association Tests Milk Samples

Eighteen samples of goat's milk representing 16 herds were entered in the scoring contest held in conjunction with the annual Spring meeting of the Pennsylvania State Dairy Goat Association at the College on April 29.

The milk was scored by Francis J. Doan, professor of dairy manufacturing. Bacteriological tests determined that the winner of the contest was the milk entered by E. G. Wasson, State College insurance man who is secretary of the association.

Logan States Campaign For Educational Reform

American education today lags far behind the pace being set by modern science, according to Harlan Logan, Editor of Look Magazine. In his article, "The Failure of American Education," appearing in a recent issue, he launches a campaign for the complete reform of educational administration and revision of present curricula. He asserts that our schools and colleges, with a few notable exceptions, are habit-ridden and tradition-bound, and that they fail to prepare their students to meet the widening complications of modern civilization.

Parents To Blame

In his charges, Mr. Logan brings not only educators, but parents and citizens, within the range of his fire. Teachers, for the most part, are exonerated as being helpless in a system not of their own making; but he blasts the administrators — superintendents, principals, presidents, deans and department heads — who could bring about many necessary improvements, but who fail to act, he claims, through fear of upsetting the status quo and thereby endangering their own positions and salaries.

Although he accuses State Legislatures and Congress of consistent failure to provide more adequate funds for education, the bulk of the blame falls upon parents, citizens and taxpayers, in Mr. Logan's opinion. In the last analysis, it is they who permit appropriations for war, roads, dams, post offices and pork barrels to take precedence over school budgets. Ignorant, indifferent or bewildered, they have made too little use of their power as voters to demand educational reforms.

Attacks Old Techniques

In outlining the present weaknesses of American education, Mr. Logan attacks old-fashioned and inefficient teaching techniques; outdated methods of grading; and classrooms slow-paced within an arbitrary framework of terms and semesters. He charges our educational leaders with laziness, stating that many of our teaching methods "haven't changed in hundreds of years... haven't taken advantage of even so ancient a development as the printed drawing or the more recent photograph, or moving pictures of phonograph or radio." The revolutionary improvements developed by the Armed Forces in the teaching of languages, mathematics, and a dozen other subjects, could be adopted by our schools and colleges, he believes, to the immediate advantage of their students.

Teachers Get Low Pay

The low pay of teachers and college instructors is scored as another great weakness of our educational system, causing reduced efficiency, frustration and bitterness on the part of otherwise able, sincere and hardworking men and women. In this connection, Mr. Logan cites the national average salary for college instructors in 1942 as $1,872; for high school teachers as $1,902; for grade school teachers as $1,366; and for rural school teachers as $1,018. These, he points out, are considerably below the incomes of shipbuilders, petroleum refiners, printers, and cannot today be called a decent living wage.

Mr. Logan, himself an educator and a former professor on the faculty of New York University before his appointment as Editor of Look, expresses the belief that our outmoded, inadequately financed educational system will gravely affect the future competence of the nation. From the ill-equipped and ill-taught children of today, the community will reap a grim harvest of socially maladjusted, bewildered and broken adults.

Senior Coeds—

(Continued from page four)

coeds do agree that attending classes regularly is necessary. Sara Masurovsky, a home economics student minoring in chemistry, offered the following suggestion:

Pay Attention!

"Pay attention in class, and be sure you understand assignments. You'll not have nearly as much trouble with your courses if you do your assignments regularly instead of putting off all your work until the last minute."

Several of the coeds voiced the opinion that liking your professor and his method of teaching is a big help to better grades.

"Naturally you like some professors better than others," says Jean Gedeon, who is graduating in the School of Education, "but they all have some virtues. I've always found that even if you don't like a professor's teaching at first, by being cooperative you'll get to like him before the semester is half over."

The honor students declined to set any hard and fast rules for being a perennial Dean's Lister. They did agree on one thing as being all-important. You have to be really interested in your field of study, whether it's chemistry or men or English, to come out on top.

CLASSIFIEDS

PERSON that took brown notebook from downtown Collegian office Tuesday is known. No action will be taken if it is returned immediately.

LOST: Car cigarette lighter from a 1936 Plymouth on May 14th. Reward. Call 2389.

WILL HOLD your apartment with cooking facilities for summer months. Will sublet. Settled couple. Call Kulp 4151.

LOST: Chi Omega sorority pin with the name V. Durbin. Call Chi Omega House.

LOST: Gray gabardine topcoat sometime last Thursday. Finder please call Earle at 4989.

LOST: Blue and gold Evershary fountain pen last Thursday afternoon, somewhere on campus. Call Ath Hall room-28.

Wright Gives Forum Talk

"The architecture of a democracy must be organic," emphasized Frank Lloyd Wright, internationally known architect, who spoke in Schwab Auditorium recently for the State College Community Forum.

"This organic architecture is a true architecture," continued Mr. Wright. "It is one of the mind, heart and brain and of the capacity for work. That is what democracy means."

He continued by explaining that upon looking around in America, it is easy to see that architecture has descended to the American people from tradition, especially the classical.

The speaker stated that the architecture of the mind is not just a blueprint, but it is the life every-one lives. It creates certain atmospheres in which future generations grow.

"I might say that this building, in which you are sitting, has no mind at all," exclaimed Mr. Wright, "and I might go a step further and say that very few buildings on your campus have any minds."

"The great message democracy has for the world is to get inside and see the nature of things," continued the architect. "See a brick as a brick and a board as a board. Everything in life is beautiful if looked at from the inside."

SU-Committee

will meet in 121 Sparks at 6:30 tonight. All fraternities, sororities, and independent organizations are requested to have representatives present. Plans will be drawn up for a concentrated campaign on June 8, for a Student Union building. The Board of Trustees will meet on campus that day.

for ---

- STATIONERY
- DANCE PROGRAMS
- INVITATIONS

It's the

NITTANY PRINTING and PUBLISHING CO.

STATE COLLEGE, PA.

NEW ARRIVALS AT THE

Book & Record Shop

- I Don't Know Enough About You -- Mills Brothers
- Love In A Greyhound Bus -- Vaughn Monroe
- Coax Me A Little Bit -- Andrews Sisters
- Every One Is Saying Hello Again -- King Cole Trio
- Any Place I Hang My Hat Is Home -- Johnny Mercer

Book & Record Shop

E. Beaver

Dial 4411

State College

L. G. BALFOUR COMPANY
 LOCATED IN THE ATHLETIC STORE
FRATERNITY JEWELRY

PRIMITIVE RED

by Du Barry

Primitive Red lipstick, a DuBarry lipstick brush, and a thirty-day supply of face powder. $1.50-plus tax.

For the woman who knows instinctively!

MCLANAHAN'S DRUG STORE

8. Allen Street

State College

The Corner

Unusual