Hough to Speak At Chapel Service

Dr. Lynn Harold Hough, Dean of Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J., will speak at Chapel services, Schwab auditorium, 11 a.m. Sunday, on "The Land of Hearts' Desire."

Dean Hough is a graduate of Drew Theological Seminary and was ordained an elder of the Methodist Church in 1909. He has served as pastor of churches in Brooklyn, Baltimore, Detroit, and Montreal.

Dr. Hough was president of Northwestern University from 1919 to 1920. He has been Dean of Drew Theological Seminary since 1934.

The author of some forty books, Dean Hough has held lectureships in many sections of this country, England, and Australia. He was president of the Religious Education Council of Canada from 1929 to 1930 and was sent to Great Britain in 1918 by the Lindgren Foundation of Northwestern University to interpret the moral and spiritual aims of the First World War.

At the invitation of the British Ministry of Information, Dr. Hough spent 11 weeks in England during the summer of 1942 preaching to the congregations of the City Temple, London, and making addresses in army camps and to the general public.

Dairy Husbandry Class To Visit in Three States

Thirteen outstanding dairy farms in southeastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware will be visited on Monday by members of a dairy husbandry class when they make their first field trip since 1942.

The DH 32 class will observe management practices and judge cattle on their six-day tour through the three states. The students will see five different breeds of dairy cows on the 13 farms, including the national high Holstein herd.

Students making the trip are Donald Baldwin, George Heidlebaugh, Thomas Hutchins, George Portzline, John Thompson, James Williamson, and John Wilson. The group will be led by Dr. K. M. Autrey, professor of dairy husbandry.

X-G-I Club Cops Trophy In Dux Bowling League

By a 70 pin margin, the X-G-I Club bowling team defeated Sears and Roebuck in a play-off match to cop the trophy in the Dux Club Monday Night Men's Bowling League.

After winding up the first round of competition close to the cellar, the veterans finished the second half with a comfortable margin over their nearest rivals, Ordnance Research Lab No. 1.

With a season average of 159, Andy Patrick was one of the five league leaders. Bob Schilling rolled the third-highest three-game series, a 562.

Duplicates of the team trophy were awarded by the Dux Club to Ted Rozelsky, captain, Walt Christ, Ellis Losey, Andy Patrick, Bob Schilling, and Wes Turék.

Book collections numbering 250,000 volumes are housed in the central library and the four branch libraries.

Keep Insurance, Lucas Tells Vets

Veterans today were advised to retain their National Service Life Insurance until they're sure they can do better with private insurance companies.

George G. R. Lucas, economist who only recently was relieved from active duty as an Army Major, points out that it's virtually impossible to advise veterans in a general way, but contends "it's better to be safe than sorry."

Only the ex-GI himself can determine how much insurance protection he's going to need, and how much he can afford, Lucas says, in urging veterans to compare the advantages of National Service Life Insurance with that offered by private companies before permitting their policies to lapse.

He sees the lack of restrictions on occupation, residence, travel, and military service, possibly higher dividends, higher cash value, and the privilege of waiving premiums in the event of total disability, as the major advantages of service insurance. There are restrictions, however, such as payment of death claims in installments instead of a lump sum, but he thinks many of these objections will be overcome in impending legislation.

Chem Honorary Initiates Faculty, Grads, Students

Mu Chapter of Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemical society, held its initiation banquet at the Anchorage last night. Dr. Max Lauffer, this year's Priestly lecturer, was the guest of honor.

New initiates are Prof. R. V. Boucher, Dr. James A. Morrison, faculty; Donald Bailey, K. M. Barclay, William Burnett, Joseph Dixon, Herman Ellenberger, Remzi Gunkay, George Hunter, George Kerr, Robert McLaughlin, Edward Pietrusza, graduate students; Robert Barnum, Theodore Bye, Alden H. Emery, Jr., John Hoke, Alexander Kotch, Carl Lyons, Romulo Quintero, Joseph Selecky, William Vail, undergraduates.

Placement Interviewers Seek Seniors

John A. Nelson of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation will interview eighth semester students of mechanical and electrical engineering on Tuesday. He is especially interested in persons for foreign service.

A representative of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, Henry Goehring, will interview eighth semester students in the following curricula on Tuesday: chemical engineering; civil, electrical, industrial, and mechanical engineering; ceramics; and metallurgy.

Arrangements for interviews should be made in the College Placement Service, 204 Old Main, as soon as possible.

There are still opportunities for camp counselors during the summer vacation. A call has just come in for women to direct field and water sports at a camp in Brandon, Vermont, and a great many more are on file. Interested men and women can get names and addresses, and application blanks in the College Placement Service.

Hotelers Go To Harrisburg

Miss Esther A. Atkinson, chairman of hotel administration, Mr. Stuart Kines, graduate assistant in hotel administration, Charles Arnold, Donald Book, Charles Morton and Robert Park, all hotel students at the College were guests of the Pennsylvania Hotels Association at their mid-year meeting held at The Penn-Harris Hotel in Harrisburg, May 12 and 13.

At this meeting the Pennsylvania Hotels Association appointed an education committee which will work with the College on the hotel administration program.

Members of this committee are Mr. Franklin Moore, president and managing director of The Penn-Harris Hotel; Mr. James Johnston, manager of The Harrisburger Hotel; Mr. Philip Young of the Essex Hotel; Mr. Ned Shook, manager of hotels at Clearfield, Philipsburg, DuBois and Ligonier, and Mr. Charles A. B. Heinze, manager of The Carlisle Inn.

Penn State Chess Club Meets Faculty Members

Penn State Chess Club publicity chairman, Ruth Ann Friedman, has announced that the Chess team will play the representatives of the college faculty in Northeast Lounge of Atherton Hall, 7:30 p.m., May 27.

Any faculty member who would like to meet the chess team should contact Marion Schurnimer, club secretary, Room 114 Atherton Hall. This match is informal and for the betterment of the club members' skill.

Pennsylvania Co-ops to Meet

J. Kenneth Stearn, professor of agricultural cooperatives, will be in charge of the annual meeting at the College of the Pennsylvania Association of Cooperative Organizations. The group will meet on June 13.

The first report on the research program that the association is financing at the College will be given at this session. This report is noteworthy in that the College program is the first experiment at a land-grant college financed by a pool of both large and small cooperatives.

There are three experiments being conducted at the College under this program, including one in hybrid corn. The association selected projects which it thought needed more research than was being made at the time.

IMA Makes Arrangements For Fall Officers, Picnic

A meeting of the Independent Men's Association was held Wednesday night at which several plans were discussed, among them the forthcoming election of officers Wednesday, and the picnic to be held sometime next month.

Eugene Fulmer, president, urges all men of independent houses to attend the next meeting to elect officers and assist in the final planning of the picnic. Fulmer also asked that specific persons be nominated by those houses in order to elect the majority's choice.

The meeting will be held in 401 Old Main, 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 29.

Lafayette College Asks Meade to Identify Trees

Lafayette College officials recently called upon Robert P. Meahl, professor of ornamental horticulture at the College, to identify all trees on their campus.

Professor Meahl spent yesterday on the Lafayette campus at Easton, and will continue his work through today. He will provide both the botanical name and the common name for each tree on the campus.

Lafayette officials contacted Professor Meahl through Dr. Warren B. Mack, head of the department of horticulture, and an alumnus of Lafayette.

Photographers

... of campus publications will be present in sufficient numbers at the Les-Brown dance to insure adequate coverage, according to Dick Sarge, publicity chairman.

Fritz Troutman, photo editor of Froth, stated that the humor magazine will have two photographers on assignment at the dance.

La Vie to Use Pictures Of Summer Graduates

Students who will graduate this summer, may have their pictures put in the current La Vie, said Ruth Bollinger, editor, yesterday. They should make their own appointments at the Photo Shop, specifying at the time that they are seventh semester.

A deadline was also set on La Vie stories. A meeting will be held in 412 Old Main at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday for candidates who still have stories to turn in.
