Ag Co-ops Pass Price Resolution

A resolution urging the removal of price controls from farm woducts was passed by leaders of agricultural co-ops who attended the thirteenth annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of Cooperative Associations at the College Thursday.

Frank Gorham, a Bradford County dairy farmer was elected president of the association. Reclocted to office were G. A. Boger of Allentown, vice president. and L. A. Thomas Jr. of Harrisburg, secretary-treasurer. President Gorhan succeeds K. M. Souders of Coatesville. Foreign Agriculturalists Speak

The meeting took on an international air when two foreign agriculturalists spoke. The first, H. M. Duckham, agricultural attache of the British embassy, was visiting the Agriculture Experiment, Station. The other was H. Shill, supervisor of the Farmers' Bank of China, who is doing a six-weeks study of agriculture extension in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the School of Agriculture, spoke heidily at the luncheon program. Eugene Hensel, attorney and general counsel for many Ohio co ops, reviewed evidence submitted recently at Washington to the Small Business Committee of Congress.

Trends Affecting Co-ops

In tying together the purchasing and marketing angles of cooperatives, both of which were represented at the meeting, J. Kenneth Stern, professor of agricultural cooperatives, presented an analysis of trends affecting these co-ops. Professor Stern had charge of local arrangements for the meeting.

In the Upper College, the stu-dent may take courses in any of the other colleges in Columbia University. A student may change his course to any of the professional schools, if his interests and obilities lie in that direction, taking a degree in bachelor of science.

Freshmen Advisers

Each student is assigned to an dvisor on the basis of his scholasic interests. Each freshman is assigned to an upperclassman, usually a senior, to act as his personal advisor during his first year. In the middle of his sophomore year, the student is invited by the dean's office to present a confidential report on his further vocational and scholastic plans, and on his impression of the direction of the college as it has affected him in the past two years. Reports of his achievement and aptitudes are submitted by his advisor and professors, and these reports, supplemented by conferences with the student himself, serve as a basis for his choice of a major field. Graduation Req

attion director, offered Calbinet a choice of two budgets to be used next year, one with cash scholarships for the class and All-College officers, as well as committee heads, and one without compen-sation. Cabinet approved the first budget, and added the chainman of the Book Exchange to the committlee heads who will receive compensations.

In the two-hour session Cabinet cleared a great deal of the work that has been hanging fire during the semester, since the group will have only one more meeting this semester, to be held in the Alumni office in Old Main at 7 p.m. Thursday. Other action taken by Cabinet follows: SUNDAY ENTERTAINMENT:

Charles Hill suggested that Cabinet charter busses for Whipple's Dam, selling tickets at 50 cents. Although Clabinet approved of the idea in discussion, no vote was taken on the suggestion. COMMERCE CLUB: Robert Mc-Gregor was named a standing committee of one for next semes ter, and upon Dean Arthur R. Warnock's suggestion, all action on having student members in the Commerce Club was tabled until next semester. MOONLIGHT MAGIC: Robert Foote, chairman, reported that an estimated $311.71 profit was made on the dance (itemized report on page 1). The profits were added to the $6000 already in the treasury.

INTER-CLASS FIINANCE CAM-MITTEE: This Committee suggest ed an appropriation of $39.50 for an advertisement in the Student Handbook. All action on the appropriation was tabled until the next meeting. CABINET AWARDS: President

Stapleton appointed the following committee to choose the 20 seniors to receive awards from All-Col-lege Cabinet at the Class Day exercises, June 27:

Robert Faloon, chairman, Woodene Bell, Rulth Bollinger, Herbert Mendt, Vaughn Stapleton, and Joseph Steel.
