

3500 To Register for Summer

Bruce To Assist Football Staff

Earl J. Bruce, 41-year-old Brownsville High School football coach, today was named a physical education instructor and assistant football coach at the College.

Dr. Carl P. Schott, dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics, said the new appointee would assume his duties August 16. Jim O'Hara, former Penn State athlete, had previously been named to a like position at the College.

Bruce, first non-alumnus to be named to the football staff in ten years, played three sports at California State Teachers' College before transferring to Washington & Jefferson College for his last two years. He played under Andy Kerr at W. & J. He was a back.

After his graduation, Bruce accepted an athletic coaching position at Ball Township High School, where he coached for eight years. Next he went to Brownsville as an assistant to Carl Aschman, now at Altoona, and moved into the head coach's job in 1944.

The 1945 team won NEPALE championships and during the season the Browns won 35 while losing 10 and tying 5.

Bruce is married to the former Mary Whitesell, of Salina, Pa. and they have three children—Susan, Jerry, 10, and Dick, 14. Although the first non-Penn State coach of football at the College since Neil Walke and Mike Leslie were members of the staff, Bruce has been interested in Nittany Lion football for years.

Among the players he has sent to the campus from Brownsville were Johnny Potstkan, John Simon, John Wolosky, Fred Reuter, Ross Herron, and the Mazenovich brothers. Potstkan and Wolosky are expected to return to the College this fall, while the others also have eligibility left when they are discharged from the armed services.

Great Demand For Teachers

"There is a greater demand for teachers now than at any time during the war," said C. O. Williams, head of the College teacher's placement service.

There are many opportunities. This is especially true in certain fields such as elementary education, home economics, industrial arts and vocational subjects as well as in the field of education for exceptionally intelligent children.

"Many who come here this summer may have jobs but not as good jobs as they would like," continued Williams. "Any Summer Session student interested in a new job may register in 106 Burrowes. Perhaps something can be done for them."

Particularly in the academic fields we are anticipating a demand for good teachers who have started on their graduate work for positions in junior colleges and colleges, Williams said. The teacher placement service is a part of the College Placement Bureau.

Persons interested in positions in industry or business are invited to interview George Leech of the Placement Service in 204 Old Main.

Sessions Head

MARION TRABUE
dean of the School of Education at the College, also heads the Summer Sessions. Trabue is a graduate of Northwestern University and has a master's and doctor's degree from Columbia University. He has been a member of the faculty at Columbia and was head of the division of education at the University of North Carolina.

Session's Registration Starts In Rec Hall, 8 a.m. Monday

Approximately 3500 undergraduate, graduate and special students will register in Recreation Hall Monday as the first peace-time Summer Session begins, according to Dean Marion R. Trabue.

Classes for both the Main Summer Session and the Twelve-week Courses will begin at 8 a. m. Tuesday.

Registration for both courses will be held from 8 a. m. to 12 p. m. and 1:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. on the main floor of Recreation Hall. Application forms, catalogs, etc., will be available at the information desk just inside the door.

Regular undergraduate students at the College will file their applications with the Dean of their School. All course programs must be approved by faculty advisers who will be present at the registration.

Matriculation cards, for those who do not already have them, will be obtained at registration.

Veterans' Information
Veterans will leave a copy of their schedule at Table 10 in Recreation Hall and will then report to 2 Carnegie Hall to file a supplementary registration form for benefits under the GI Bill of Rights. Letters of Authorization or Certificates of Eligibility and Entitlement should be present at this time.

Fees will be payable at the Office of the Bursar in Recreation Hall July 16.

A varied recreation program for those attending the Summer Sessions has been arranged by Sherman P. DeGuz, instructor of physical education. Softball, golf and tennis tournaments will be held, as well as swimming parties, dances and sightseeing trips.

Dancing Class
A class in Social Dancing has been organized and will be held in 101 White Hall on Tuesday and Thursday nights. A fee of $2.50 will be charged and registration for the class will be held 7 p. m. Tuesday.

Lectures and panel discussions will round out the program. Clifton Padiman, former literary critic for the New Yorker and master of ceremonies on the radio quiz, "Information Please" will speak at Schwan's auditorium, 8 p. m. Friday. His subject will be "The United Nations—A Step Toward World Government." Admission will be by registration receipt, official schedule or faculty identification.

A program of lectures and panel discussions under the title "Building One World" will be held from time to time. Copies of the program may be obtained at the Office of the Directors of Summer Sessions, 102 Burrowes Building.

Office Changes Class Schedule

The Summer Sessions office has announced the following changes in the Time Table of Classes:

Chem 1.17 (Lecture and Recitation) meets daily, 3rd, 110 NP (Lab) M.T.W.T. 4th, 5th, 301 PL (July 1-Aug 10)

Chem 35.17 (3) meets M.F. 1st, 106 NE, T.W. 1st, 115 NE, M.W. 4th, 5th, 8th, 301 PL (July 1-Aug 10)

Ed. 470.25 (2) meets daily, 3rd, 106 ME (July 1-July 27)

Hist. 17.44 meets daily, 2nd, 7 Sp. (July 1-July 27)

I. E. Lab 131.48 (22) Engr. (July 1-Aug 21)

Ind. 104 (Chem) (July 1-13)

Journ. 15.53 meets daily, 2nd, 8 CH (July 1-Aug 10)

Phy. 479.78 has been added to program, meets daily, 1st, 3 102 (July 1-Aug 10)

Phy. 194 meets daily, 1st, 3 102 (July 1-Aug 10)

Phy. 21.40 meets M.W.F. 2nd, 3 Sp. (July 1-Sept 21)

Typ. 1.992 meets M.T.W.Th. 3rd, 9 Sp. (July 1-Sept 21)

Office Changes Class Schedule

The Summer Sessions office has announced the following changes in the Time Table of Classes:

Chem 1.17 (Lecture and Recitation) meets daily, 3rd, 110 NP (Lab) M.T.W.T. 4th, 5th, 301 PL (July 1-Aug 10)

Chem 35.17 (3) meets M.F. 1st, 106 NE, T.W. 1st, 115 NE, M.W. 4th, 5th, 8th, 301 PL (July 1-Aug 10)

Ed. 470.25 (2) meets daily, 3rd, 106 ME (July 1-July 27)

Hist. 17.44 meets daily, 2nd, 7 Sp. (July 1-July 27)

I. E. Lab 131.48 (22) Engr. (July 1-Aug 21)

Ind. 104 (Chem) (July 1-13)

Journ. 15.53 meets daily, 2nd, 8 CH (July 1-Aug 10)

Phy. 479.78 has been added to program, meets daily, 1st, 3 102 (July 1-Aug 10)

Phy. 194 meets daily, 1st, 3 102 (July 1-Aug 10)

Phy. 21.40 meets M.W.F. 2nd, 3 Sp. (July 1-Sept 21)

Typ. 1.992 meets M.T.W.Th. 3rd, 9 Sp. (July 1-Sept 21)

Jobs Offered To Students

The Personnel Relations Department, with offices in 423 Old Main, has a number of full-time permanent positions open for students' wives or other students. Secretaries and typists, particularly, are in demand.

These positions incur a five-and-a-half day week, but the employee may carry 8 college credits, 3 of them during working hours. Retirement and hospitalization insurance is also included.

For those who prefer only part-time employment, the Personnel Relations department also has a number of positions open.

Calendar

MONDAY
Summer Session Registration, Recreation Hall, 8 a.m.-12 p.m. and 1:30-5 p.m.

TUESDAY
Classes begin—8 a.m.
Lecture, "Vocational Education in the Years Ahead," Dr. J. C. Wright, Assistant Commissioner, U. S. Office of Education, Washington, D. C. 10 Sparks, 11 a.m.
First meeting of and registration for classes in Social Dancing. Ten lessons—fee $2.50, 101 White Hall, 7 p.m.

WEDNESDAY
Lecture, "Problems and Responsibilities of the Vocational School in the Rehabilitation of the Disabled," Mr. Mark Walter, Director, Bureau of Rehabilitation, State Board of Vocational Education, Harrisburg, 10 Sparks, 11 a.m.
Meeting of Summer Dames (wives of graduate students), Atherton Hall Lounge, 3 p.m.
Meeting of Iota Lambda Sigma Industrial Education fraternity, Alpha Gamma Rho house, 4:30 p.m.
Meeting of all men interested in forming a softball league, Recreation Hall, 7 p.m.
Open meeting of Phi Delta Kappa, Lecture, "England's New Educational Program," Dr. C. D. Champlin, professor of education, 121 Sparks, 8 p.m.
Meeting of Industrial Education Dames, home of Mrs. S. Lewis Land, 525 McKee street, 8 p.m.

THURSDAY
Holiday—No classes. (In short courses, instructors will arrange with students to make up classes lost.)
Swim party, Whipples Dam, 2 p.m. (For reservations call Ext. 86-M.)
Community Carnival, sponsored by the Alpha Fire Company, Allen street, 7 p.m.
Social Dancing Class, 101 White Hall, 7:30 p.m.

FRIDAY
Registration for One World Conference, First Floor Lounge, Old Main, 8 a.m. (Copies of programs may be obtained in 102 Burrowes Building.)
Lecture, "Economic and Political Obstacles to Building One World," Mr. Donald Blaisdell, Department of State, Washington, D. C., 10 Sparks, 10 a.m.

(Continued on page four)

Penn State Room Displays Exhibit of Atherton Era

As the College grew, so grew the town.

With this theme, the library is now displaying an exhibit of the history of President Atherton's Administration, 1882-1906, in the main foyer of the library.

The exhibit was arranged by the staff of the Penn State room, in conjunction with the State College Commerce Club.

From the time of the College's founding in 1855 until President Atherton took over in 1882, the College was just a little-known agricultural school which had struggled through the administration of some seven presidents. President Atherton, however, was instrumental in expanding the school to a full-fledged college.

In the eight cases on exhibit in the Library, the display attempts to show the spirit of the period throughout their arid struggle of the first decade of the Atherton administration and to show the heights finally attained.

Many interesting personal items are shown along with the portraits and souvenirs of the old Penn State. One of these is a page from President Atherton's notebook, written the day of his arrival, October 10, 1882. Many of the portraits and lithographs also have personally inscribed notes from President Atherton and other important men of his era.

Of interest to sport-minded readers is a picture of the first football team, and the score of the Lions' first intercollegiate match, November 5, 1887, in which Penn State scored 54 and Bucknell 0.

The first coeds in the College were closely restricted, according to the copies of rules that are included in the exhibit. Men students had to receive permission from the Lady Principal to call on the coeds, and even then they had to leave by 9 o'clock. If a young man wished to have a coed accompany him outside of the Ladies Cottage (now a section of Woman's Building) he had to obtain special permission from the President himself.

Dancing was originally prohibited, according to the display, but in 1890 the Board of Trustees removed the ban in response to a petition from the student body. Dances were then held in the armory.

Many lithographs show both the interior and exterior of the new buildings erected on campus, such as Mechanical Arts, Biology, Chemistry and Physics, Engineering, the library in the fourth floor of Old Main.

Hill Killed In Car Crash

Charles O. Hill, second semester president, died Sunday night from injuries suffered in a three-car crash on the York road outside Harrisburg. Nine others were seriously injured.

Hill, 26, was hitch-hiking home to Baltimore at the time of the crash. According to State Police, D. K. Hall and W. J. Stanbury, Hill was riding in the car which was traveling south toward York. He suffered a fractured skull, crushed chest, internal injuries, and a fractured leg.

Hill came to the College in November, 1945, following his discharge from the Army. He had served as a lieutenant with the paratroopers. During his stay in the College he was elected president of the first and second semester classes, and was an active member in All-College Cabinet, serving as chairman of several committees. He is credited with the organization of the Student Book Exchange.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Martha Hill, and a sister, Mrs. Martha James, both of Baltimore.

Graduate Club Plans Picnic for July 4

Members of the Graduate Club at the College will hold a picnic from 10 to 6 o'clock on Thursday, July 4, in Hartswick Park, Mary Litis, chairman, announced today.

Other committee members are J. Robert Schabner and Melinda J. Flat, foods; Miss Litis, William E. Rittenhouse, Jr., Margaret G. Harrison, and John L. Frank, advertising and publicity; and John E. Steplein and Dorothea Ruth, program.

The club will contact graduate students at registration Monday and others who wish to join the organization may sign a roster at the Student Union Office starting Tuesday.

Activities that have been planned for the summer include a moonlight swimming party, hay ride, barn dance, card party, and a farewell party.

PSCA, AVC TO Sponsor Swim, Picnic July 7

The Penn State Christian Association and the American Veterans Committee will sponsor a swim and picnic featuring ice cold watermelon at Whipples' Dam on Sunday afternoon, July 7.

Undergraduate students at the College may sign up for the picnic at the Student Union Office or at the Christian Association Office.