

Collegian Plans Pep Rally For Bucknell Game

Tentative plans for a pep rally and bonfire, sponsored by the Daily Collegian, are being made. The rally would be held on Friday evening preceding the football season opener against Bucknell University.

Football rallies, long a traditional part of Penn State campus life, were not held during the war period. In line with the Collegian policy of "For a Better Penn State," efforts will be made to complete plans in time for a Friday evening rally.

Since the Jordan fertility plots are not available for the affair, it will probably be held on the softball fields, south of the golf course across Route 322.

Included in the plans, as participants, are the cheerleaders, Blue Band, Coach Bob Higgins and members of his football squad, and a master of ceremonies.

Whether a bonfire can be held depends on the ability of the sponsoring group to gather sufficient wood. Fraternities and independent groups are invited to aid in putting the rally idea across and should get in touch with Richard Sarge at the Collegian office.

Wallace Tops Forum List

Among the six events scheduled by the State College Community Forum for its current local series is a presentation of domestic affairs by Henry Wallace on November 5. And though Mr. Wallace was procured for the series before his recent foreign policy speech, there is no doubt that interest will be high among State College and Campus residents in hearing and seeing this controversial figure, former Secretary of Commerce.

Mr. Jo Hayes, ticket manager, has announced that general admission tickets to the entire series are on sale for $4.40 tax included, at Student Union, Penn State Christian Association Office. Representatives of the nineteen organizations sponsoring the Forum series will also have tickets to sell.

Important Bulletins

BLUE BAND . . .

tryouts and first rehearsals of the marching unit will be held in 117 Carnegie Hall at 7 o'clock tonight. All students trying out for a post with the Blue Band are requested to bring their instruments to rehearsal.

Students interested in the concert unit of the Blue Band, the Symphony Orchestra, Treble Singers, Glee Club and Choir are asked to watch for future announcements in The Daily Collegian.

BOOK CARDS . . .

for veterans who registered on Friday and Saturday will be ready at the Bursar's office in Old Main between 7 and 9 p.m. this evening.

PHYSICS . . .

appointment courses hours will be arranged for in 110 New Physics at 4:15 o'clock today, instead of tomorrow as erroneously listed in the time table.

WOMEN'S DEBATE . . .

squad members as of the Spring Semester are requested to attend the first class meeting in Room 103 Home Economics at 7 o'clock tonight. Preliminary meeting for all women students interested in debate will be announced at a later date.

PLAYER'S TRYOUTS . . .

for the semester and first play, "Angel Street," will be held in the Little Theatre in Old Main at 7 o'clock tonight and tomorrow. Students with an outstanding ability in the use of English and cockney accents are especially in demand.

FLIGHT OFFICERS . . .

of the A.U.S. desiring a commission as Second Lieutenant in the Air Corps Reserve may obtain additional information from the Air O.T.C. officer in Room 104 Carnegie Hall.

Chew Gnaws Way Into Registration First

"In the Navy I was always first into the sack," says John Chew, Junior in Mineral Industries, first person in line to register for the fall semester at Recreation Hall Friday morning.

Anxious to beat the record-breaking rush of registrants after almost four years of standing in line in the U. S. Navy, Chew, who lives at 241 East Nittany avenue, arrived at Rec Hall at 7:25 a. m. and was first in line when the doors were opened at 7:40 a. m.

Through slips in the machinery wheels, however, Chew was not the first to hit the Nittany Valley air as a fully unburdened enrollee.

The 23-year-old ex-gob was lost somewhere in the vast confines of Rec Hall when, at 8:22.5 a. m., Ruth Kirk, 236 South Frazier street, and Elwood Rittenhouse, Colonial house, strode happily forth, first official Penn Staters for the 1946-47 fall term.

X-GI's Hold Smoker Tonight

Football Coach Bob Higgins will be guest speaker at the smoker for all ex-GI's in Schwab Auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight, according to Ralph Lewis, publicity chairman.

Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men, will also be present to address the group. Sonny Royce and his orchestra will entertain.

Moving pictures of the Penn State-Penn scrimmage held recently at the Hershey Stadium will be shown. Coach Higgins will speak on the prospects of the Nittany Lion eleven during the coming season and will answer pertinent questions from the floor.

All veterans are invited to attend this event which is being sponsored by the X-GI Club. The policy of the club will be stated and discussed at the conclusion of Coach Higgins' talk.

Present officers of the X-GI Club are Theodore Rozelsky, president; Eugene Fulmer, vice-president; Thomas Lander, treasurer; Eileen Casey, corresponding secretary; Robert McGregor, chaplain; and Thomas Turnbull, historian.

Extra Rooms Still Available

A few rooms are still available in town and at the Pollock Circle Dormitories, Daniel DeMarino, Assistant Dean of Men stated today.

In an interview, the assistant dean said, "Generally speaking, the demand for student housing is being successfully met." He also added that the number of admissions and the available room space appear to be running closely together.

Members of the college administration have already conducted a personal survey of the living

"In an effort to inform students how the new OPA regulations will affect them and their pocketbooks, we are bringing OPA Area Rent Director, Mr. Curtiss R. Schumacher, here to the college this evening," Ed Banay, Chairman of the American Veterans Committee, stated today. The meeting, which is being sponsored jointly by the Common Sense Club and the American Veterans Committee, will take place in 121 Sparks at 8 p.m. tonight. All students, faculty and townspeople are invited to attend.

quarters and eating facilities at the Pollock Circle Dormitories. After talking with several of the men now living and eating at Pollock Circle, we find the general attitude to be one of satisfaction, Mr. DeMarino continued.

He also emphasized a change in OPA regulations here which permits people in town with two or less rooms to rent their space without having to comply with OPA. When OPA was announced for State College last month, several town residents phoned Mr. DeMarino and cancelled the room space that they had originally made available to the college.

Cliques Name New Leaders

Both campus political cliques have new high commands today as the result of week-end reorganization meetings.

On Friday night Al Green was elected chairman of the Nittany-Independent clique replacing Evan Brown, who was forced to resign when he entered the Army, while on the other side of the political fence, Lloyd Barkley was elected chairman of the Key clique replacing Charles Pfeiffer at a Sunday night meeting.

Barkley, Tribunal Chairman in 1944 and a member of Parmi Nous, announced after his election that further plans for the coming election would be made at the next meeting of the clique Thursday night.

(Continued on page four)

Arrests Made In ZBT Theft

Four men students at the College were apprehended yesterday by the State College police and charged with the theft of approximately $1,313 in lumber, tools, dishes, and silverware taken from the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity house on Thursday morning, September 26.

The four men arrested were Stanley Wyglemdowski, 31, Robert Raymond Gehrett Jr., 23, John Nichol Crosbie, 22, and Robert Richard Ruth, 22.

The arrests were made yesterday by Police Chief John R. Juba and statements of guilt were signed by the four. A hearing before Squire J. D. Hart, Justice of the Peace, was held at 6 o'clock last evening and charges of larceny were filed. The four posted $500 bail each. The case will come up at the next term of court.

Only Once In A Zillion Zillion Times— Says Prof

"Once in a zillion, zillion times."

That is the comment Professor Static Statistician made upon hearing that Arthur C. Heineman, Phi Ep, won a new 1946 car in a raffle.

Stunned by this rare occurrence, Professor Statistician staggered out to the Phi Ep house to check on the accuracy of the report. Upon viewing the sleek, new Chevvie (which Heineman actually did win in a raffle in Pittsburgh), the Professor slumped to the ground and was pronounced dead.

Sports Editor Dies Suddenly

Leo J. Kornfeld, 21 year old seventh semester student at the College and newly elected Sports editor of the Daily Collegian, died Sunday at the Centre County Hospital at 5 p.m. His death was attributed to a total kidney failure, according to Dr. Herbert Glenn of the College Health Service.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kornfeld, he lived at 927 Monroe avenue, Scranton, and was graduated from the Central High School in that city. At the College he was a Journalism major in the school of Liberal Arts, and an active member of Blue Key Hat Society and Sigma Delta Chi, Journalism honorary.

Kornfeld became ill on Saturday afternoon while sitting on the porch of his rooming house at 226 W. College avenue. He fell from his chair and suffered a fractured nose and cut forehead.

He was admitted to the College Infirmary at 3:30 Saturday afternoon and treated for shock. Later it became apparent to hospital officials that his condition was worse and due to a long past history of kidney disease. He was moved to the Centre County Hospital where it was found that he suffered from a very serious kidney ailment.

His parents were present when he died, and it was later learned that they were opposed to his return to school, and had made an appointment for his admission to a hospital for examination. This appointment was not utilized and he returned to campus last week.

Late AP News

Courtesy Radio Station WMAJ

WASHINGTON — Last night OPA announced an increase of two and one-half cents a pound in retail prices of oleomargarine, cooking and salad oils, mayonnaise, salad dressing and shortening. The price hikes go into effect today. According to OPA, the food price boosts will add sixty million dollars a year to the nation's food bill.

The price control agency also announced boosts in retail prices of cotton textiles. OPA said this will boost the retail prices of bed linen and tablecloths about two per cent and cotton garments one per cent.

SAN FRANCISCO—General Jonathan Wainwright declared yesterday that the United States must maintain its military power at the highest peak of efficiency. Wainwright added that this country may be the first target should another war come, because of its great position.

The General, one of the heroes of Bataan, expressed his views in an address prepared for delivery to the American Legion National Convention.

NUERNBURG, GERMANY — Sentences will be pronounced individually today on 22 erstwhile Nazi leaders on trial before a four-power military tribunal here. During the day, 21 of the Nazis heard the court read the greater part of the scathing judgment which pronounced them as criminals. The 22nd, Martin Bormann, never has been captured or established dead.

The majority of the defendants, including Goering, seemed reconciled to the probability that they would be sentenced to death.

BERLIN, GERMANY — General Eisenhower told a news conference that there "is too much pessimism in the world about international relations." He called upon the world not to despair, and said "every intelligent man in the world knows that civilization can not stand another war."

Hetzel Calls All Students To Convocation

The first post-war opening exercises at the College will be held in Recreation Hall this morning at 10:45 a. m., when students and faculty members attend the convocation called by President Ralph D. Hetzel.

In order that all students may be present at the convocation, classes scheduled for 11 o'clock will not meet. However, 10 o'clock classes will be attended according to schedule, officials stated, but will not be dismissed later than 10:30.

President Hetzel has called the convocation so that student faculty, and college officials together may survey "the many new and acute problems facing the college community and the serious tasks ahead of the nation and the world."

It is planned to reserve a limited number of seats for members of the faculty who will march in a procession. All other seats will be available to both student and faculty members.

Students Run Book Sale

The Student Book Exchange, a non-profit student organization and Common Sense, is in its second day of operation for the fall term in the basement of the Library.

Books may be bought and sold by students between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., today, tomorrow and Thursday. Unsold books should be picked up on Friday or they will be sold to a large book firm for redistribution.

Remuneration for all books sold will be made by check, according to Jane Weigle, chairman. Checks will be mailed to students beginning Friday.

Originated mainly through the efforts of the late Charles O. Hill, 1945-46 freshman president, the Exchange is headed by Miss Weigle, with Gloria Ness as secretary. The committee includes Paul Harrison, Mary Alice Hodgson, Ann Lantz, and John Pfahl.