WASHINGTON—The nation's capital gave a rousing reception last night to four Navy fliers who set a world distance record today. The fliers arrived in Washington at 5:20 p.m., EST. Distinguished Flying Crosses were presented to them by Navy Secretary Forrestal.

The pilots made aviation history by flying the Navy's twin-engine "Truculent Turtle" from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, O. The non-stop flight covered a distance of 11 thousand 237 miles in the time of 55 hours and 18 minutes.

ST. LOUIS—The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4 to 2, at Sportsman's Park yesterday in the first game of their two-out-of-three playoff series for the National League championship. The second game of the series will be played at Ebbets Field on Thursday, and the third—if necessary—also will be played on Brooklyn's home grounds on Friday.

NUERNBERG, Germany—Hermann Goering and ten other Nazi overlords will hang for their crimes which included murder, extermination and a long list of other inhumane acts.

The death sentences, pronounced yesterday by the International Military Tribunal, will be carried out in the Nuernberg jail, probably on October 16th. Martin Bormann was tried in absentia, and convicted to be hanged—but he hasn't been found.

Seven other defendants, including Rudolf Hess, were sentenced to prison. Three—Franz von Papen, Hans Fritzsche and Banker Hjalmar Schacht—were acquitted by the four-power tribunal, with Russia dissenting.

WASHINGTON—The condition of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull has taken a turn for the worse. Mr. Hull, who will be 75 tomorrow, suffered a stroke yesterday in the United States Naval Hospital.

The former cabinet officer, senator and representative had been in the hospital resting and undergoing a health check-up for the

Cliques Plan Nominations

Chairmen of both campus political cliques last night urged their members to check the eligibility of the students they plan to nominate at the preliminary nomination meetings Sunday night.

Candidates for all offices must have a "1" average for their entire college career and must be registered in the class for which they are to run. All-College candidates must be registered as seniors.

Both cliques will hold their preliminary nomination meetings Sunday night at the same time in different rooms at which time nominations will be made from the floor.

Final nominations will not be made until the next Sunday at which time the cliques must decide upon their complete slates. Jack Branigan, Elections Committee chairman, stated last night that copies of the revised Elections Code are being mimeographed and will be in the hands of the clique chairmen in time for Sunday's meetings.

Al Green, chairman of the Nittany-Independent clique has announced that Dick McAdams has been elected to the post of sophomore class clique chairman replacing Dick Sarge. McAdams, a member of the varsity Lacrosse team, All-College dance committee, and Paul Smith Memorial drive will head the cliques activities in the coming campaign for sophomore class officers.

Blue Band, Higgins Spark Big Pep Rally

The pep rally is on. A resounding push will be given the start of the 1946 football season in Schwab Auditorium at 7:15 p. m. Friday when a Collegian-sponsored pep rally will be held on the eve of the game against Bucknell University.

Final plans were completed yesterday afternoon when Coach Bob Higgins stated a definite approval and promised his personal attendance and the appearance of several members of the Nittany Lion varsity.

Robert Foote, chairman of All-College cabinet's Les Brown dance last spring, will be master of ceremonies for the enthusiasm display, which will feature the first full postwar appearance of Penn State's famous Blue Band under the direction of Professor Hummel Fishburn.

Blue Band held its first try-out last night and will practice every evening to be ready for Friday's rally, according to Prof. Fishburn. The cheerleaders under Hal Benjamin will be present along with the Nittany Lion mascot.

Short speeches will be made by the Nittany mentor Bob Higgins, and by Joe Colone, Larry Joe, Bobby Williams, and other members of the Lion's power-packed football squad.

Collegian will endeavor to print in Friday's issue the complete words of new State yells for use at the rally.

Hetzel Greets Students; Promises 'Greatest Year'

Speaking yesterday morning in Recreation Hall before an audience of 3,000 students and faculty members in the first all-college convocation since the war, Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president of the College, promised that the coming year would be "the greatest in the history of Penn State."

"We now have the largest group on campus in our history," the president stated. "10,000 young men and women are now enrolled with the College as students on campus and in the undergraduate centers and other colleges throughout the State. In addition, the Extension Services now bring classes to thousands more in all parts of the state."

"Our laboratories are now doing more work than ever, not excluding the war years," he continued, "and we expect this year to be a great year of accomplishment in all fields."

Delving into the local situation, President Hetzel stressed that "part of the aftermath of the war is the housing shortage, overflows

Sponsors of 'Fun Night' To Award Record Album

"Fun Night," sponsored by Independent Men's Association, will reign in Recreation Hall Saturday night beginning at 8 p.m., with dancing, ping pong, badminton, table games, and card games as the principal fun arrangements. This was announced today by Eugene Fulmer, president of IMA.

Salvatore Rocci, who has been named chairman for "Fun Night," says that an album of records will be given as a door prize. Chairman of the remaining committees are Frank Davis, publicity; Gabriel Harkowitz, tickets; John Nolan, dance; and Frank Tidona, games.

Coeds will be admitted free to "Fun Night," while the admission for men will be thirty cents, tax included.

Merle Miller

Former Yank Editor Named Head of VBG

Merle Miller, who is to be guest speaker at Schwab Auditorium on this Friday evening at 8 p. m., has been selected as chairman of the Veterans for Better Government, it was announced today. A non-partisan political organization, the VBG will be active this fall, as well as in 1948 in supporting both Democratic and Republican candidates who give the

Forum Slates Four Debates

Controversial issues and a controversial national figure will dominate the Community Forum series during the 1946-47 semesters.

Already having announced the scheduled appearance of Henry Wallace, whose recent actions and statements have aroused heated discussions and press comment throughout the country, Dr. E. V. Moore, chairman of the Forum Committee has now announced other lectures and debates that will be available to State College and campus residents.

Booked for January 9 is a debate between management and labor on the topic, "Industrial Peace." Speaking for labor will be Clinton Golden, Vice President of the United Steelworkers of America, while management will be represented by W. L. Batt, president of the SKF ball-bearing industries and former Vice-chairman of the War Production Board.

General admission tickets for the entire series will cost $2.40, tax included, instead of $4.40 as quoted in The Daily Collegian yesterday. They may be obtained at the Student Union or PSCA office.

The highly controversial issue of "Russia" will be debated by the famous newspaperman and commentator, H. R. Knickerbocker and the noted journalist and author, Walter Duranty. This program is planned for March 13. Preceding that program on February 21 will be Erika Mann, the daughter of the famous German refugee and author, Thomas Mann. Just recently returned from two years in Europe, Miss Mann has not yet announced her topic.

Other programs scheduled are a debate on Our National Health by Dr. Ernest B. Boaz, M. D., chairman of the Physician's Forum and by a representative of American Medical Association. The opening lecturer will be Herbert Agar speaking on "England Today."

Capt. Gagarin to Teach Reorganized Riding Club

The Penn State Riding Club is now under the direction of the School of Physical Education with Captain Gagarin engaged as a full time instructor.

An organization meeting has been called for 7:30 p.m. tonight at the Stock Judging Pavilion. At this time Miss Haidt will explain how the new program may be added to the student's curriculum for physical education credit or for recreation. Beginner, intermediate and advanced instruction will be offered.

Revenue Dept. Taxes Student Athletic Books

Cause For Assessment Recent Communication

Students who have been wondering about the $1.50 tax on their athletic book will have to be satisfied with the fact that the assessment was necessitated by a recent ruling by the Internal Revenue Department.

Prior to this, educational institutions were exempt from having students pay any tax on athletic books. However, a recent communication to the College from the Commissioner of the Eastern Collegiate Conference revealed that students would have to pay the 20 per cent amusement tax on the $7.50 cost of the athletic book.

"The tax itself is not on the College, since the institution is exempt from such taxes. But, the student must now pay taxes on athletic tickets or books just as he does on movie or other entertainment tickets," said the College Auditor.

The question of whether veterans were also subject to this tax or whether the Veterans Administration would pay it under the GI Bill of Rights has drawn a negative answer from the Wilkes-Barre office of the VA.

Representatives of the Wilkes-Barre VA referred the matter to the Philadelphia office and the same negative answer was received. However, the problem is

G.I. Bill Work Ban Lifted For Students

The full-time work ban on students under the G. I. Bill has now been lifted by the recently enacted income ceiling law which limits monthly wages and subsistence allowances to $175 for single veterans and $200 for veterans with dependents, the Wilkes-Barre Veterans Administration office announced today.

Under the G. I. Bill as originally passed, a student-veteran working fulltime forfeited his subsistence allowance, the VA said.

Hereafter, veterans may engage in full-time employment while still drawing subsistence benefits so long as their combined wages and benefits are less than the new VA earning ceilings.

Important Bulletins

All-College Cabinet

All-College Cabinet will hold a meeting in the Alumni Office of Old Main, 8 p.m. tomorrow. The meeting is for members of last spring's cabinet or their representatives, and does not include members under the revised constitution, announced James C. Sheehan, seventh semester president.

Topics to be discussed at the meeting, Sheehan added, will be Soph Hop, the recently approved budget, and other vital and pertinent business handled by the All-College Cabinet.

This announcement is being made through the facilities of The Daily Collegian, said Mr. Sheehan, because there was not time enough to notify representatives by post card.

Alone At Last!

"Here we are, alone in our trailer," number sung by Ray Fortunato and Tawnie Hill during last spring's Thespian show, has become a permanent duet. The couple was married during the summer and is now living in Trailer 323, Windcrest.

Prof. Robert E. Galbraith

Gal Got a Chaplain

Prof. Robert E. Galbraith, Faculty Counselor for Veterans who has spent years listening to male students wail and gnash their teeth about getting into the service, finding rooms, apartments, books, pencils, the way to personal salvation, etc., finally threw in the towel this summer (as well as his reputation as a die-hard bachelor) when he took the former Helen Savard of the Art Dept., to love, honor and obey. Incidentally, he now has someone to take his troubles to.
