BROOKLYN—The St. Louis Cardinals have won the National League pennant. They beat the Dodgers 8 to 4 yesterday afternoon in the second game of the series playoff.

The winning pitcher was right-hander Murry Dickson, who pitched eight innings before he was knocked from the box and relieved by Harry "The Cat" Brecheen in the ninth inning. Joe Hatten was the losing pitcher for the Dodgers.

NEW YORK—All 39 persons aboard an American Overseas Airlines plane are believed to have been killed when the plane crashed in western Newfoundland early yesterday.

An Air France transport captain who flew over the wreckage two hours after the crash said on arrival at New York that the plane burned completely and there was no sign of life nearby.

Reports to the Coast Guard also said the plane burned and that the possibility of any survivors was very remote. Of the 39 persons aboard the plane, six were children and 12 were women. If all those aboard are dead, it will be the worst tragedy in the history of American commercial aviation.

BERLIN, Germany—The storm stirred up by the acquittal of three Nazis at Nuernberg was reflected here where industry and public transport were tied up by a ten-minute union protest strike. The strike was called by the left-wing Socialist Unity party.

Meanwhile, the attorney for Julius Streicher, the notorious Jew-baiter, was trying to convince his client he should ask to be shot, instead of hanged. But Streicher is understood to have said shooting or hanging was all the same to him.

WASHINGTON—Henry Wallace issued his reply last night to Bernard Baruch's complaint regarding Wallace's views on United States atomic policy. Wallace's new statement marked a second round in his feud with Baruch, the United States delegate to the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission.

The former secretary of commerce declared that Baruch is merely trying to "intimidate" him, as he termed it, with his complaint that Wallace misstated the facts. He said, furthermore, that the financier still has not come to grips with the real problems behind atomic energy.

Political Round-Up

Both of the campus political cliques will meet at 7 p.m. Sunday to prepare a preliminary slate for the coming elections.

Key will meet in 10 Sparks while the Nittany-Independents will be upstairs in 121 Sparks.

Only those who attend the preliminary nomination meetings this Sunday will be eligible to vote in the final clique nominations, according to an announcement issued by Jack Branigan, chairman of the All-College Elections committee.

Members of the elections committee will sit in on both clique meetings, Branigan stated. Lists of those present at the meeting must be made and turned in to the committee.

The elections committee established the preliminary nomination meeting system this year to prevent any possible padding of meetings and attempts to push through candidates not backed by the entire clique.

Both cliques will find this coming campaign a tough one. Not only are both parties very evenly matched but people are beginning to ask questions about issues and candidates.

Gone are the days when students would vote blindly because one party had a group of famous football players. They want reasons today.

Sheehan Names Two Chairmen For Soph Hop

Cabinet Head Chooses Bi-Party Committee

Charles Prutzman, Campus-Key, and Richard Sarge, Nittany-Independent, were named co-chairmen of the Sophomore Hop. The appointment was made by James Sheehan, seventh semester president, at the All-College Cabinet meeting last night.

Sheehan, who is acting as president of the Cabinet until the coming elections, explained that the Sophomore Hop committee was usually chosen by the Sophomore class president, but in this case there would not be enough time to whip up a dance if the appointment were delayed until a president could be installed.

Four students were picked from each of the two parties. Others on the committee are: Campus-Key, William Jaffers, Mary Maggas and Morton Plesser, Nittany-Independent; Robert Hirsh, Theodore LeFevre and Richard McAdams.

An amendment was made to the All-College Cabinet budget which will provide compensation for the chairman of the Elections Committee. The chairman for the coming year is Jack Branigan.

An informal report was submitted by Lawrence Foster, Student Union committee chairman, through Sheehan, concerning the committee's ideas for a Homecoming Week promotion. Plans include an exhibit by architecture students of Student Union buildings to be held in the Library.

X-G-I Club Holds Sweater Dance

"Sweater Hop," sponsored by the X-G-I club, will be held in Recreation Hall on Saturday night, October 12, according to Ralph Lewis, publicity chairman.

A "State Sweater Queen" will be chosen at the dance, the winner to be announced during the intermission.

Ivan Faux and his orchestra composed of 13 men and 2 vocalists will provide the music. Faux's band is booked out of Harrisburg and has played Scranton, Shamokin, and other eastern cities.

Price of admission will be 75 cents per couple for X-G-I members and $1.50 per couple for non-members. Fred Barrouck, social chairman, is in charge of arrangements; Emory Brown is ticket chairman.

Artists' Course Ticket Numbers Due on Monday

Priority numbers for tickets to the 1946 Artists' Course series at the College will be issued between 4 and 4:30 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Dr. C. E. Marquardt, chairman of the Artists' Course committee, announced today.

Students may get their numbers Monday, faculty and townspeople Tuesday, and the remaining tickets will be issued Wednesday from the Athletic Association office window, Old Main.

Any More?

The College went to great pains finding a suitable name for the new temporary dormitories on campus and came up with Pollock Circle Dormitories. The male residents had far less difficulty thinking up these: "Mushroom Hill," "Boy's Town," and "Bellefonte Annex."

Famous Blue Band Makes Debut at Bucknell Game

Blue Band makes its first appearance at a football game in four years between halves of the Penn State-Bucknell contest tomorrow afternoon. Director Hummel Fishburn says, "In spite of three days preparation instead of three weeks, I think we will give the crowd a good show."

Scheduled to perform at all the home games, Blue Band will also travel to the Navy and Pittsburgh games. It will leave the day before in order to display its skill at the alumni smoker preceding the game.

The band has a varied history spreading over forty-five years. The first Cadet Band was organized as a drum and bugle corps in 1901, largely through the efforts of George H. Deike '03, now a trustee of the College, and financial contributions made by Andrew Carnegie.

Blue Band marched last in the 1942 football season. During the war Mr. Fishburn attempted to keep the band going, to play at football games although they did not march. High school students, college and high school faculty members, V-12 trainees, co-eds, and townspeople turned out to fill the vacancies. Alumni returned for week-ends to play with their Alma Mater.

Richard Beamer, the drum major, is one of twenty-six members who had experience in the marching unit before the war. A majority have played in Blue Band but not in the marching unit.

Arthur R. Warnock, Dean of Men, who saw the band preceding the war says, "I liked Blue Band because it had an excellent combination of marching figures plus good music."

Hal Benjamin, head cheerleader, adds, "At the time I was here I thought they were the best marching band that I had ever seen. I am very happy to know they are back since it will do a lot for school spirit."

Penn State, Bucknell Meet In Traditional Rivalry

Opening its 65th football season, Penn State will renew its traditional rivalry with Bucknell at New Beaver Field, 2 p. m. tomorrow afternoon.

In the Nittany Lion's oldest rivalry, which started in 1881 when the Bisons lost by a 9 to 0 score, 24 of the 35 games have been won by the Blue and White.

Out for revenge after the 21 to 0 licking last week by Cornell's Big Red, Coach Al Humphreys has been putting his charges through nightly drills stressing blocking. It was their inability to ward off the Cornell offensive that continually kept the Herd in the shadows of its own goal posts.

Coach Bob Higgins announced last night that Red Moore, 220-pound stellar tackle from the 1942 eleven, will be team captain for tomorrow's game.

The Lions, last night, went through a light workout with Coach Bob Higgins stressing signal drills and defenses against Bucknell's deceptive "T" formation.

Old Main Steps Scene of First Big Pep Rally

Higgins, Team, Band, Among Guests Tonight

Previously scheduled for Schwab Auditorium, the pre-Bucknell football pep rally will be held on the front steps of Old Main at 7:15 p.m. tonight.

A half-hour program has been made up in which the participants will be: Master of Ceremonies Robert Foote, the 80-piece Penn State Blue Band under the direction of Prof. Hummel Fishburn, and the Nittany cheerleading squad under head cheerleader Hal Benjamin.

Lion football coach Bob Higgins will be present to give a short speech and members of the varsity eleven will be introduced to the students by the coach. James Smith, Penn State Christian Association secretary, announced last evening that Student handbooks will be distributed at the rally on front campus.

Included in the rally program will be the songs "Blue and White," "Fight On State," "The Nittany Lion," and the "Alma Mater." Blue Band will begin a pre-rally program of music at 7 o'clock.

In addition to the album of Eddie Duchin recordings, featured door prize at the Independent Men's Association "Fun Night," opening in Recreation Hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, three new prizes are to be awarded during the course of the evening's relaxation.

Frank B. Davis, publicity chairman for "Fun Night," announced yesterday that the new prizes include a pair of sheer nylon hose, a leather tie clasp, and one free steak dinner. With the exception of the Duchin tunes, all prizes have been donated by State College merchants.

"Fun Night" Adds Prizes

The steak dinner is featured as second door prize while the nylon hose and tieclasp are to be awarded to the best jitterbugs.

Tickets for men can be obtained at Student Union tomorrow morning, or at the door tomorrow night, for 30 cents, tax included. Women will be admitted free.

Key Party Changes Name, Picks Chairmen

At the Key party meeting last night clique chairman Lloyd Barkley expressed with confidence that the newly named organization would "put into office impressive and confident candidates."

Appointed by Barkley to spots of responsibility for the coming campaign were the following party members:

Co-publicity chairman: Joan and Nancy Harrington; Financial chairman: Barbara McCleary; platform committee chairman: Fred Kecker; and campaign manager: John Maternis.

Barkley also announced that a meeting of the campaign committee members will be held at the Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity house tomorrow at 4 p.m.
