The Common Cold
The common cold is the most frequently suffered of all human ills and causes more difficulty and time loss than any other disease. Those who claim to know most about the common cold are the advertisers who sell drugs that supposedly cure colds. There is no known specific treatment for this disease. There are, however, a few drugs and treatments which can make you more comfortable or sometimes if you come early, when your cold is just starting, may even cure your cold quickly. Never neglect an ordinary cold.

AVC

According to a recent news release, the American Veterans Committee (AVC) has surpassed all other veterans organizations in membership and chapters on college campuses throughout the country. With an appeal to be "CITIZENS FIRST, VETERANS SECOND", AVC has been successful in securing the support of thinking veterans.

Last March, an AVC chapter was formed here on campus. Since that time, the local AVC has shown moderate and mature approach to the problems faced by a student body predominantly composed of veterans.

A leader in the campaign to bring rent control to State College and secure for the married veterans the right to register and vote locally, AVC has now won another "feather in its cap." College officials have announced, in reply to a request made by AVC during the summer, that classes will be suspended on Election Day, November 5, thus enabling Pennsylvania students to go home and vote.

Presently, AVC is working on plans for a temporary housing program designed to provide shelter for married veterans and their wives. Through a policy of cooperation with everyone in the State College area, AVC is hopeful of making some progress by next spring.

We commend the local AVC chapter for its activities up-to-date and hope that in the future AVC will continue to follow its slogan of "CITIZENS FIRST, VETERANS SECOND."

an Independent student, living downtown without social privileges? Then maybe you're pretty hot under the collar about the fact that we haven't a Student Union

Are you one of the Alumni who might just happen to be a little inclined to favor a Field House because your closest contact with Penn State is through the Sunday sports pages of your newspaper, and you think a field house would result in better teams? Then maybe you're hot under the collar about the fact that we haven't a field house.

These problems — SU, field house, more dorms — are merely a few of the many facing the College and you.

They must be solved, eventually. They can be solved sooner if you lend your time, patience and energies to one of them. The same holds true for Class elections. On October 22 and 23 you must vote for your class officers.

As an individual, the editor is interested in having good men win; the more qualified candidates, the greater the likelihood of having something accomplished.

We are printing the names of all the candidates elsewhere in this paper. Look the names over. Do you know the men running for the class offices? Some are very good. Some are mediocre. Do you know them well enough to go to the polls and vote for them with confidence?

It does make a difference whom you elect. If for no other reason, consider the fact that your money—class dues—pays these men and women. Maybe not a great sum, but remember that the All-College president does get $200; the All-College Secretary-Treasurer, $100; presidents of the classes, $100 each; Secretary-Treasurers, each $50.

And there is a sum of more than $5,000 to be disposed of by your class officers. That should be important to someone, several groups, or perhaps, everyone.

In order that the candidates up for the clique nominations Sunday night may be reviewed, Collegian is again printing the list of those proposed at the preliminary nomination meetings:

Edit Policy

Editorial policy is a subject for much discussion with all College papers. People ask what is the Daily Collegian's policy, most often implying, "What does the editor plan to push this year?"
As far as the editor of this paper is concerned, we have no policy—none unless you will concede that a "Better Penn State" is and can be more than a motto or tricky slogan.
What makes for a better Penn State? Here again it is hard to say. But if it is possible to get a Student Union or a field house or possibly enough permanent dormitories on campus in the very near future then in my mind we're on our way to a Better Penn State.
But which of these three would you pick as the thing most needed here at Penn State? Are you
