Warnock Heads Welfare Council

Dean of Men, Arthur R. Warnock, will chair the re-established Council on Recreation and Welfare that is charged with the duty of surveying the needs of students in the fields of physical and social recreation, health, entertainment, and organized activities.

Twenty-two members of the faculty and administration, and eight students will comprise the committee. The student members will be named following student elections on October 22 and 23.

The council was established during the war to provide recreation and welfare service to the students who were predominately servicemen at that time. Present conditions prompted President Ralph D. Hetzel to re-establish the council to adjust existing procedures and meet new situations.

Members of the committee named by the president include L. H. Bell, Dr. H. S. Brunner, R. E. Clark, A. C. Cloetingh, D. A. DeMarino, G. L. Donovan, G. W. Ebert, H. Fishburn, N. M. Fleming, Dr. H. R. Glenn, E. K. Hübshman;

J. O. Keller, G. N. P. Leetch, W. P. Lewis, H. W. Leman, C. E. Marquardt, Dr. B. V. Moore, F. D. Morris, Dean C. P. Schott, J. T. Smith, Dean A. R. Warnock, and Dean P. O. Weston.

Players Select Crews For Next Production

Players have selected crew members and begun work on "Angel Street," their next production, according to Warren Smith, professor of dramatics and technical director for the play.

Advertising crew is managed by Joan Harrington with Karl Van D'Eden as assistant. Members are Paul Flick, Nancy Harrington, Betty Horn, Barbara Keefer, Joan Kranich, Sarah Nichols, Rosemary Schrieder, and Eva Winters.

Robert Wickus is manager of construction crew and the members are Ernst Beutner, Doris Brenner, Barbara Cooper, Velma Creitz, and Mary Ann Kemper. Costume will be handled by Ruth Eister with Margaret Breece, Pauline Schmitt, Alice Shade, and Leroy Weidner as her assistants. Light crew is headed by Edgar Eddins with William Bensch as assistant. New Campus Custom—Cwens Become Hat-Women

"Hat women" were created on campus last night.

Men's activities societies have always monopolized the "hat wearing" custom at the College, wearing them as a symbol of the group to which they belong. Cwens, women's sophomore honorary, has broken all precedence and become the first hat women society on the campus. They began wearing grey hats bearing the Cwen crown and scepter insignia in red this morning.

Last year's active Cwens interrupted the present Cwens weekly meeting last night bearing the hats. The hats were ordered last spring but plans were kept unknown.

Women are tapped for Cwens at the completion of their freshman year. They must have a 1.5 average, be outstanding in activities, and show qualities of leadership. Aletha Potteiger is present Cwens president.

Cwens Sponsor Dungaree Drag

The Cwen dance Friday night will be strictly a girl-lark-boy Dungaree Drag, announced Sally Henry, chairman of the dance, yesterday.

Tickets went on sale at Student Union yesterday, and will be on sale all week. The price is $1.50 per couple.

The following committee chairmen were named at a recent Cwens meeting: Terry Klosterman, orchestra; Nancy Romig, tickets; Susan Bissey, finance; Mary Grace Lovett, decorations; Clair Lee, invitations; Patricia Kincaid, publicity; Betty Worrall, intermission.

Blue jeans and plaid shirts are the only approved attire, said Miss Henry.

Three Days Remain In Cheer Contest

Three days are remaining in the contest for new cheers! Several cheers have been turned in to the Student Union desk but not enough for the judges to be able to make a wide choice. Cheer

Clique Chairmen Announce Class Election Platforms

CAMPUS - KEY

The following platform, designed to better reflect the intent of the Campus-Key candidates as well as to serve as guideposts for Cabinet endeavors this school year, is a set of major objectives enlarged upon by actual work samples which will attain these ends.

1. Make Penn State one of the leading educational institutions of the country. How?

a. Foster improved educational standards through higher admission requirements, more effective exams, and integrated course structures especially in the School of Liberal Arts.

b. Serve as a nucleus for campus drives which would reflect Penn State students' attitudes and needs.

c. Include aviation as a credit course which would reflect Penn State's reputation as a pioneer in modern education.

2. Increase Penn State's institutional facilities. How?

a. Further organize and implant new spirit in the fight for a Student Union.

b. Procure the necessary money for the proposed Ski

NITTANY - INDEPENDENT

The Nittany-Independent Party, again pledging itself to support the policies which would benefit the majority of students, submits the following platform:

1. We urge that an Advisory Board to the All-College President be appointed by him after elections and to be composed as follows—All-College President; two members of Cabinet to represent each political Party and two members outside of Cabinet from each Party.

Purpose: The purpose of this Board would be to attain political unity as far as possible by the following methods: the Board would advise the All-College President as to the selection of committee members and other appointments which he might make subject to approval of Cabinet; the Board would also act in an advisory capacity concerning policies of Cabinet which might be considered as partisan.

2. We believe that there is a greater need for three-way cooperation—cooperation between the students, student government and the administration, and suggest the following ways to achieve

President Truman announced tonight the immediate release of all meat and livestock from price control.

In a radio broadcast over all networks, the President also said the removal of wage controls will be "accelerated as we speed up the removal of price controls."

However, no immediate action was ordered on this phase of the stabilization problem.

The President coupled his action with a vigorous denunciation of a few men in Congress. These men, he said, "in the service of selfish interests have been determined for some time to wreck price controls not matter what the cost might be to our people." The chief executive mentioned no names.

The National Citizens Political Action Committee and the C.I.O.-P.A.C. are collecting less money for use in this year's elections than in any previous campaign. Officials made this disclosure today before the House campaign expenditures committee. For example: the C.I.O.-P.A.C. has so far collected only 17 percent of its one million dollar goal for a campaign chest.

The Allied Control Council has promulgated a denazification directive covering all four zones of Germany. The directive is aimed at the complete and lasting destruction of Nazism and militarism, and it is patterned after the denazification law in the American zone. By extending the law to all zones, hundreds of thousands of German war criminals and Nazi can be arrested and punished according to a single set of principles.

The Paris peace conference has finished its job—with nothing left now but the closing formalities tomorrow. But Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov isn't too well pleased with the results of the conference. Molotov today assailed part of the five peace treaties as not satisfactory to Russia.

The A. F. of L. convention heard a charge against Russia today. The charge was made by A. F. of L. European representative Irving Brown. Brown declared that Russia was using Communist-controlled labor groups in Europe as a political weapon until the Red Army is ready to start moving again.

Foote, St. Clair Compete In All-College President Race

Political campaigns go into high gear this week with Robert Foote and Clifford St. Clair vying for the post of All-College president at next Tuesday's and Wednesday's elections.

St. Clair, winner over Dean Moyer in the Campus-Key final nominations Sunday night, will have as his running mates, James Duff, All-College vice-president, and Raymond Shibley, secretary-treasurer.

Foote, unopposed in the Nittany-Independent nominations for All-College president, will have on his slate Russell Smiley and Albert Green for vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

14 Houses Enter Contest

Fourteen fraternities have entered IFC's annual lawn display, featuring a Student Union theme, which will be held during Homecoming Weekend, according to committee chairman James Jones.

Houses that will have displays Saturday include Phi Sigma Kappa, Alpha Chi Rho, Phi Delta Theta, Delta Theta Sigma, Phi Epsilon Pi, Lambda Chi, Sigma Phi Sigma, Phi Kappa Psi, Pi Kappa Phi, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Chi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Pi Lambda Phi.

Winning fraternity will be awarded a trophy with a second place house also being selected. Entries will be judged 50 per cent each on artistic ability and originality in treatment of the Student Union theme.

Judges for the display are Daniel DeMarino, assistant dean of men, a member of the College art department, and an alumnus. Winners are expected to be announced at the Penn-State-Michigan State game.

Displays will be limited to a $10 expense account. Deadline for entry fees was 5 p.m. last night.

Student Dies of Injuries Received in Accident

John L. Stewart, 18-year-old sophomore in agriculture education at the College, died Sunday morning at the Centre County Hospital, Bellefonte, of injuries received in an automobile accident at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

Stewart was riding in a car driven by Charles I. Williams, a junior in science, when the accident occurred near the Rockview Branch of the Western State Penitentiary.

Williams, the driver, escaped with a lacerated left elbow, although the car was almost demolished.

Both students resided at 508 S. Pugh Street.

Judges Elect Snyder Queen

"I thought he was joking," says June Snyder, State Sweater Sweetheart, of the approach of Stephen Sinichak, one of the judges for the Sweetheart contest at the X-G.I. Sweater Hop Saturday night.

Miss Snyder, a sophomore in the Lower Division, was chosen Sweater Sweetheart by popular acclaim over the other three finalists, Mrs. Lee Giles, Marie McFalls, Harriet Schlee.

"We hadn't decided where to go on Saturday night and just happened to come to the dance," said Miss Snyder. "And it was only by chance that I wore a sweater." She admitted, however, that she was surprised and pleased to have been chosen "Sweetheart."

June is a Gamma Phi Beta and lives at Irvin Hall. Her home is in Northumberland and she states that her favorite sport is swimming.

Troth photographers spent Sunday afternoon taking pictures which will be a feature of the Soph Hop issue of the campus humor magazine.

Judges for the contest were Michael Blatz, Robert Foote, Ben I. French, Stephen Sinichak, and Frank Tidona.

Windcrest Goes to Polls

Windcrest residents are voting today for borough officers to serve the remainder of the semester. Voting is from 8 a. m. to 12 noon and 1 to 7 p. m. in the community hall. A councilman for each of the seven zones will be elected, in addition to a burgess, who may be from any zone.
