

3000 Frosh 'Farm Out'

Twenty-two state teachers colleges, undergraduate centers and cooperating colleges today are accommodating 2969 Penn. State freshmen, according to latest figures released by William S. Hoffman, registrar of The College.

Included in this group, who will transfer to the College next fall as sophomores, are 2497 male students and 472 coeds. The largest group of students, 1025 are enrolled in the lower division. Enrolled in the engineering curriculum are 912 students, in agriculture 421, in chemistry and physics 334, in physical education 98, in education 93, and in mineral industries 86.

The registrar's records show that 13 state teachers colleges, four undergraduate centers, four so-called cooperating colleges and Mount Alto are giving Penn State men and women their first year of college.

The largest group of State undergraduates is at the Altoona Undergraduate Center—433. The 243 students at Edinboro make it tops in enrollment among the state teachers colleges.

An item revealed by the statistics on freshmen is that there are 40 women in chemistry and physics, five women in engineering and two women enrolled in mineral industries.

New Windcrest Council Chooses Gilliland Prexy

Willard R. Gilliland was chosen president of the Windcrest borough council at the newly-elected council's first meeting Tuesday night. Mrs. Ruth Livermore was chosen secretary. Robert I. Bosnian, treasurer, and Carl F. Stokes, social and recreation chairman.

Permission has been granted Windcrest to operate a cooperative store, and plans were approved by the council. A mass meeting will be held tonight in the community hall to inform residents of the plan as it now stands.

A board of directors for the store will be chosen at the meeting, and this board will complete steps necessary to the opening of the store. The board will appoint a manager for the store, subject to the approval of all residents of Windcrest.

Froth Adds New Column

In response to the requests of many students, a new column will be presented in the Christmas issue of Froth featuring pinnings, depinnings, marriages, and engagements.

All students are requested to contribute any information they might have for the column to the Student Union desk or the Froth office by tomorrow afternoon or Saturday morning.

Robert St. John—

(Continued from page one) understanding and admiration for the "little people" of the war stricken countries has made him a top-flight reporter, a sound analyst and interpreter of the news.

Sponsored by 19 community organizations, reserved seats for the event for townspeople and faculty may be purchased tomorrow morning at the Athletic Association Office in Old Main according to priority stubs, Jo Hays, ticket manager, said.

Hetzel Appoints Wyand To New Assistant Post

Charles S. Wyand, professor of economics, was recently named Administrative Assistant to the President of the College by President Ralph Dorn Hetzel.

Increased presidential responsibilities in the postwar expansion of the College was the reason for the creation of the new office by the Board of Trustees. Professor Wyand will be in charge of general administration, specifically in matters stemming from the growth of the College.

The new appointee, a native of Waynesboro and an alumnus in the class of '29, has taught economics on the campus for the past 15 years. He has been consulted by numerous industrial and governmental agencies in his research field of pricing problems.

Club to See Films

Al Michaels, backfield coach, will show films of the Penn State-Michigan State football game at the Tuesday meeting of the X-GI Club in 121 Sparks at 8 p.m., Fred S. Barrouk, social chairman of the club, announced. Films of the Penn State-Colgate game will also be presented if possible.

Cows' All-College

The 38-cow herd of registered Holstein-Friesians owned by the College has recently completed a year of production testing with the average butterfat production per cow being more than two and a half times as much as that of the nation's average dairy cow, according to the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Fireside Hour

Mrs. Malcolm Brown, wife of the Westminster Foundation pastor, will lead a Bible study discussion at the Penn State Christian Association Fireside Hour in 304 Old Main from 4 to 5 p.m. today. The program includes music, refreshments, and discussions.

PSCA Plans Cabin Party; Few Vacancies Remain

An overnight trip to Watts Lodge, sponsored by the Penn State Christian Association, will start Saturday at 2:30 p.m. A few vacancies still exist for those who wish to sign up at the PSCA office. In case of inclement weather, transportation will be provided for all attending. Otherwise, the main group will hike to the cabin while blanket rolls will be transported by car.

Ralph Cromleigh and Barbara Keefer, co-chairmen of the overnight party are heading the committee which has planned the meals, square dance and the midnight hike to the top of Tussey Ridge.
