

Board Appoints Russell, Whisler

Dr. Seth W. Russell has been named assistant dean of the School of Liberal Arts and professor of sociology by the Board of Trustees and Dr. Benjamin A. Whisler has been appointed head of the department of civil engineering and professor of sanitary engineering.

Dr. Russell, a graduate of Dickenson Seminary, Williamsport, and the College, has been in the department of sociology since 1937. Prior to 1937 he was minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Spring Mills. He served as a U. S. Navy chaplain for four years during World War II, with two years aboard the light cruiser U.S.S. Santa Fe. He earned eight campaign stars during his service in the South Pacific.

Dr. Whisler, who received his doctor science degree in sanitary engineering at Harvard in 1936, was formerly associate professor of civil engineering at Iowa State College. He served over three years in the sanitary corps in World War II, with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Women Won't Play, Men Form Own Club

Wandering unwanted through WRA domains a few weeks ago, several male Bridge addicts were shown that a least one war-time shortage was over. It was then that the idea of a Men's Bridge club was born.

"No, you can't join the bridge club," they were told. "It is sponsored by the WRA. You have not the qualifications. You are not women."

"But—" interposed one of the frustrated.

"If you want a club tell it to the IFC or the IMA, or the AVC, but as for the WRA, we can do nothing for you."

The following morning the proposal was brought to the notice of Ray Conger, of the Physical Education department, and the Men's Bridge Club met for the first time last night.

ROTC To Fill Vacancies

Army R.O.T.C. is giving competitive examinations for the appointment of permanent cadet officers to fill the 19 vacancies in the R.O.T.C. battalion.

These examinations consist of three parts: actual tests in the field, personal interviews, and the all-college average of the contestant.

Army, Navy Air Corps Vets Fill Campus Political Posts

It's all over now — even the shouting. Cliques are quiet. Nittyany songs have ceased. Key tags fade from notebooks—posters, have been torn down. Yes, election's over.

Notable statistics show that Army, Navy, and Air Corps ex-GI's split campus elections evenly with three offices filled by each branch of the service.

Three Navy V-12's, Robert Foote, Charles Willing, and James Sheehan, were all trained at the College. Ted Lefevre, Charles Pilegor, and Russell Smiley were former Air Corps men while the Army inducted Eugene Fulmer, Albert Green, and Richard Sarge.

Victors Comment Robert Foote, all college president, remarked, "Although the election was successful, I believe it would have been much better if a larger percent of the students had voted. The Nittyany-Independent party intends to carry out every plank of its platform as soon as possible.

"I intend to back those policies

Football Send-off

Classes will be dismissed this morning from 8:50 to 9:10 o'clock so that the student body and faculty may join in a send-off rally for the football team as they leave from the rear of Old Main for their game with Colgate Red Raiders.

All students are asked to meet at the buses at 9 o'clock for the rally. Nine o'clocks will begin at 9:10 and the program will be very short.

Late AP News

Courtesy Radio Station WMAJ

WASHINGTON—General Dwight Eisenhower — mentioned as a possible new ambassador to London—says he is willing to discuss the rumors that General Omar Bradley might take over his job as chief of staff. Eisenhower's four-year term as army staff chief has more than another year to go.

WASHINGTON — The national mediation board has opened conferences which it hopes will settle the four-day strike of AFofL pilots on the transworld airlines. The walk-out by 14-hundred flyers has left an additional 15-thousand TWA employees without work. The company said it had refused offers by some of these 15-thousand idle employees to work for nothing.

FRANKFURT, Germany — American military intelligence authorities commented yesterday on Winston Churchill's charge that Russia has two-hundred divisions mobilized in eastern Europe. Asked for an opinion, their answer was short and pungent. Said one spokesman, in part: "We can't spy on our allies."

NANKING, China—The chief of the Chinese military mission to Japan, General Chu Shih-Ming, is expected to arrive by air from Tokyo. General Chu is bearing gifts from the Japanese for Chiang Kai-Shek. The gifts are intended as thanks for what is termed Chiang's "merciful policy toward Japan."

WASHINGTON President Truman tonight laid aside problems of state to make a personal request that the 18 Estonian refugees who crossed the Atlantic in small open boats be permitted to remain here. Said the President: "This is the type of pioneering spirit that built this nation."

WASHINGTON — Henry Wallace made his stand clear yesterday before a luncheon meeting of more than one-thousand Democrats. The former secretary of commerce declared that he has no regrets about the administration upheaval set off last month by his foreign policy speech in New York.

which are most beneficial to the student body regardless of their political origin and sincerely hope that the senior class will take an active interest in their student government," stated Jim Sheehan, senior class president. Cooperation Needed Junior class president, Eugene Fulmer, announced "If the junior class continues to cooperate throughout the year as they did in the election, the class of '48 will be the most outstanding class to ever graduate from the College."

"The results were, of course, gratifying," commented Richard Sarge, Sophomore class president. "Much credit is due to those who worked for Ted, Pat and I during the campaign. Now we must get to work — there is much to be done."

"We wish to thank all loyal supporters and candidates of their respective parties for their cooperation and freely given time," stated Lloyd Barkley, Campus Key chairman, and Bill Douglas, Nittyany Independent chairman in a joint statement yesterday.

Sophs Sign Ray McKinley For Houseparty Weekend

Plan Fun 'Nite' Program Featuring Dancing, Games

Another "Fun Nite" program will be held in Recreation Hall tomorrow night featuring dancing and games.

Tickets will go on sale at the doors for 30 cents including tax. Dancing to records will be in fashion from 8:30 to 11:45 p.m. as well as ping pong, checkers, chess, card games and kick-it.

Fun Nites are held each Saturday when there is no All-College dance and is sponsored by Student Recreation, School of Physical Education and Athletics.

Debate Team Adds Members

Professor Clayton H. Schug, coach, Mrs. Jack Williams, speech instructor, and Rose Anne Wilson, manager, who acted as judges in the try-outs have announced the candidates selected for membership in the Women's Debate Team.

Also announced is the annual topic for national intercollegiate debate. It is "Resolved, that labor should be given a direct share in the management of industry."

New members are as follows: Ruthmary Biery, Leona Bulak, Mary Louise Coleman, Jane Fouracre, Jo Fox, Rosemary Halpin, Patricia Highberger, Annette Lanning, Harriet Morgan, Shibley Rhodes, Bunny Rosenthal, Josephine Stanley, and Jane Staus.

Dr. Searle To Speak On 'Thy Kingdom Come'

"Thy Kingdom Come" is the title of the topic to be discussed by Dr. Robert W. Searle, guest speaker for the Sunday morning chapel services at Schwab Auditorium, 11 a. m.

Dr. Searle has been General Secretary of the Greater New York Federation of Churches since 1934. Prior to that he was Associate Minister of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church. Also an author, Dr. Searle has written several books pertaining to religion.

During 1944 Dr. Searle went on extended trips for the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Together with a Roman Catholic Priest and a Jewish Rabbi he spoke in more than 50 Army camps and Navy stations to some 300,000 men on the question "What Are We Fighting For?"

Choir music for the services is under the direction of Mrs. Willa W. Taylor. Accompaniment will be provided by Mrs. Richard W. Grant.

Russian Club Supper

A supper, sponsored by St. Andrew's Episcopal Sacred Heart Club, will be given for the American Russian Organization at the Episcopal Church parish house, 5:30 p.m. Sunday. Rev. John N. Peabody will be the main speaker. All members of the club are requested by Michael Fedak, president, to meet at the parish house, on Frazier and Foster streets, by 5:15 p.m. Sunday.

Collegian Meeting

All members of the editorial staff of The Daily Collegian are required to meet in 8 Carnegie Hall at 4 o'clock today, News Editor Lawrence G. Foster announced. Excuses for absence to the meeting must be phoned in to the editor by 4 o'clock.

Former Leader of Glenn Miller Air Corps Band Brings New Ex-GI Orchestra for Big Dance

Ray McKinley and his new band will furnish the music for the Soph Hop, a Houseparty Weekend highlight, at Recreation Hall, November 8th, it was announced last night by Charles Prutzman and Richard Sarge, co-chairmen.

Ray is lately noted as the G. I. bandleader who took over Glenn Miller's Army Air Forces band in England after Miller disappeared in an airplane flight over France. He did over 500 broadcasts while overseas, of which more than a hundred were the "Swing Shift," Ray's own program.

McKinley organized his own band in 1942 and opened in New York City's Commodore Hotel. The band did some guest spots on the Camel radio program and made a Hollywood film, "Hit Parade of 1944."

While overseas, Ray co-authored the hit song, "My Guy's Come Back" which became England's No. 1 hit and later swept the American musical scene with considerable success.

Rhythm Singer McKinley is noted as a rhythm singer after the Johnny Mercer style and was titled "Mr. Rhythm" for his lazy, drawing, nonchalant style of vocalizing. His vocal interpretation of "Beat Me Daddy, Eight to the Bar" and "Scrub Me Mamma with a Boogie Beat" helped these songs reach national fame. Bing Crosby nominated McKinley one of his five favorite male vocalists in pre-war days.

Now discharged from the service, Ray McKinley has organized a new band of ex-G.I.'s. Featured vocalists are Chris Adams and Teddy Norman, with arrangements by Eddie Sauter. To Play at Cornell McKinley and his band are booked for an engagement at Cornell University at Ithaca, New York, on the night following Penn State's Soph Hop.

Committee members making arrangements for Soph Hop, in addition to the co-chairman, are Robert Hirsh, William Jaffurs, Ted Lefevre, Richard McAdams, Mary Maggas, and Morton Plessler.

Trustees Ratify Change Of Department Names

The names of two departments have been changed and a scholarship fund that will benefit seniors in the School of Agriculture has been established, President Ralph Dorn Hetzel announced today.

The executive committee of the Board of Trustees at its weekend meeting approved the change in title of the Institute of Animal Nutrition to Department of Animal Nutrition. The Department of Naval Science and Tactics hereafter will be known as the Department of Naval Science, in conformity with Navy policy.

The trustees also approved the establishment of the Morell Smith Scholarship set up under the will of the late Charles B. and M. Anna Smith, of Philadelphia.

Electrical Engineers Gather for Conference

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers, district No. 2, will hold a conference for student members and counselors in 110, Electrical Engineering from 9 to 5 Saturday. Speakers will include Harry P. Hammond, of the School of Engineering, "Engineering Societies of America", and C. A. Powell, assistant to the vice president of Westinghouse Electric, "What Industry Expects of the Electrical Graduate."

Visitors will be shown the power plant and various research laboratories.

Pollock Circle Residents Elect Semester Officers

Permanent semester presidents to serve on Pollock Circle Council, representing the 800 dorm residents, were elected in polls at the mess hall at noon today. These men will replace the temporary officers previously elected. Presidents, vice presidents, secretaries, and treasurers of each dorm are and treasurers of each dorm are

Dorm No. 1—A. Serafini, P. J. Garm, W. Nutaitis, T. W. Pstrok
Dorm No. 2—J. P. Green, H. Smith, J. Repas, D. Foreman
Dorm No. 3—D. W. Mitchell, J. Paffrath, M. Peck, A. Siegler
Dorm No. 4—T. Reissmann, E. Hinkle, A. Pollard, C. Tendler
Dorm No. 5—G. Litckoff, J. Anderson, D. Gregory, R. Harris

Dorm No. 6—F. A. Ianni, T. Wilhelm, T. Kuinan, A. H. Brooks
Dorm No. 7—F. Maguire, G. Yeagley, A. Ostar, J. Trumbauer
Dorm No. 8—A. H. Lentz, John Kelly, Sol Roshal, A. Vigilante
Dorm No. 9—E. Koval, D. Jamison, J. Boreland, J. Bellas
Dorm No. 10—J. Hartman, B. Pollard, J. O'Grady, P. Boyle
Dorm No. 11—M. Phillips, K. Hayes, D. Mathews, W. Allwoerder
Dorm No. 12—P. Davis, W. Wood, A. Jenkins, W. King
Dorm No. 13—M. Shapiro, V. Cowell, S. Turley, and E. Taren (tie), L. Meyers
Dorm No. 14—W. Wilson, B. Barteaux, E. Rifkin, J. Dolan