Thanks to the AXID's

TO THE EDITOR: Last Saturday afternoon a Halloween party was given by the Alpha Xi Deltas for the residents of Pollock Circle.

I want to thank the sorority and I believe I can speak for the rest of the Pollock Circle boys who were there.

Most of us got a big kick out of it and sincerely hope that this practice is repeated by other sororities.

Sincerely,
Carl Pender

Election After Thoughts

TO THE EDITOR: In previous elections when the voting in college elections was low the students were reminded that the turnout was poor. This year the number of people voting was not as high as is desired by many of us; however, I think compliments should be extended to the students who took the time to cast their ballots. According to the figures available, approximately 47 per cent of the seniors, 48 per cent of the juniors, and 41 per cent of the sophomores voted in this election. This means that approximately 44 per cent of the student body went to the polls.

This proves several factors: the students are interested in student government, that both parties did an excellent job of getting the students out to vote, and that contrary to predictions by the experts, the ex-GI is interested in student activities.

It is my opinion that a thank you is in order for the elections committee. They had a terrific job to do and did it well.

I should like to take this opportunity to thank each and every individual for helping. Jackie Zivic, Charles "Chuck" Willing and myself staged a successful campaign.

If, in the future, any of you have some suggestions for better student government pass them along to any of us and we will give them serious consideration.

Expansion Questions . . .

TO THE EDITOR: We read with interest the announcement of a $2,000,000 appropriation for the construction of five new buildings.

We see a definite need for a wing to mechanical engineering laboratory, the expansion of the power plant, and possibly a plant industries building. But why a new mineral industries building?

May we quote from the College Catalog, page 214, "In September 1930 the School moved into a new building which is one of the finest physical plants anywhere devoted to mineral industries education."

Perhaps the construction of a new wing to the present MI building would be more practical in the light of pressing existing needs for other buildings, such as chem eng, textile chem and journalism. The journalism building could include a much needed university press.

Instead of a new Armory, we see an urgent need for a new auditorium with a seating capacity large enough to accommodate a greater percentage of the student body.

I
I'm not the type of person who is griping all the time. Nor do I watch for errors just to put some words in rhyme.

But if I see a reason for complaining to the crowd I'll come out and say it quickly and I'll say it good and loud.

II
There's a group right here on campus

Striving for us all, fighting for a building that's the answer to a call. Do we need a social center? Where everyone can go? Do we need a Student Union? Can anyone say no???

III
There's a need and you must see it;

You must all your powers endow to aid in the erection of a STUDENT UNION NOW.

Zeigler Says Meat Prices Up

Meat prices, now zooming upward, will remain high for six to eight months. This is the prediction of Prof. P. F. Zeigler, of the college livestock staff, who has watched and studied the livestock market trends for many years.

Interrupted as he was slaughtering swine in the rooms beneath the livestock pavilion, Professor Zeigler answered the question, meat prices by stating, "Unless consumers themselves solve the problem by controlling their purchases, high prices will prevail until supplies are adequate to meet the demand."

He explained that the normal trends of marketing was upset by conditions this year. He told how normally meat packers place surplus supplies in cold storage between seasons of high and low production and one of the causes of present soaring prices is the complete absence of these buffer storage holdings.

The spring pigs are now ready for market and would have been marketed in increasing numbers during November and December regardless of the presence or absence of controls. He warned that consumers must expect short supplies of pork, however, since the spring pig crop was smaller than the previous year.

Lower grades of beef will prevail until grain-fed cattle come to market during the latter part of December and through the spring months. Lamb should be in normal supply.

The present flurry of high prices is strictly a condition of frenzied buying by a meat-hungry people, a scalper's market as he termed it.

Baruch plan offered by the United States for atomic energy control as selfish. And he said the plain people of the world do not agree with the philosophy, as he put it, "of Mr. Baruch who says that after war is ended peace becomes a nuisance." Baruch had no comment. As part of his own four-point program on reduction of armaments throughout the world, Molotov listed the abolition of atomic energy in war as a primary aim. In general, he proposed a universal diminishing of armaments under the direction of the United Nations.

WASHINGTON—The OPA extended its decontrol program yesterday evening, affecting many items. Price ceilings came off radios, lamps, electrical appliances, kitchenware, glassware and many other consumer durable goods. Earlier, OPA had lifted ceilings on fats and oils used in soaps, paints and var.
