NEW YORK CITY—America is backing up Russia one-hundred per cent on those proposals to limit worldwide armament. Our chief delegate to the United Nations—Warren Austin—last night told the assembly that the United States is ready to cooperate in full with other nations in disarmament. Not only that—Austin carried the challenge even further. He asked that the UN adopt effective safeguards, such as inspections, to protect the disarming countries from violations and evasion in other nations.

However, just before Austin spoke, the Yugoslav foreign minister, Stanoje Simich, slammed into the western powers with one of the most aggressive speeches yet delivered at the UN assembly. He accused America and Britain of violating the UN charter by maintaining troops in friendly countries and voting against Albania for UN membership. He charged that certain circles are trying to use the atom bomb to intimidate the world. And he accused America of refusing to turn over to Yugoslavia thousands of so-called Quislings in displaced persons camps.

JERUSALEM—The British have rounded up 15 suspects for questioning about the bombing and machine gunning of the central railway station yesterday. Two persons were killed and one more is missing. Police blame the same underground extremists who blew up the King David Hotel last July.

LONDON—Scotland Yard disclosed two jewel robberies—this time from a Greek embassy official and from a daughter of the Duchess of Luxembourg. But the detectives also scored their first break in the "wave" of robberies. They arrested a man and woman who are said to have admitted the large amount of money they were carrying was from the sale of stolen jewelry.

Simpson Flies To Jamaica

As the first guest lecturer from the United States at the Social Welfare Training course in Jamaica, Dr. George E. Simpson, head of the sociology staff, will leave the campus Friday. Dr. Simpson will serve during the entire month of November.

This school, which opened June 15, and closes December 15, offers courses in various social theory and organization subjects. Previously the staff had been drawn from the British West Indies and Great Britain.

There are twenty-five students enrolled at the session at present. All are residents of the British Islands in the Caribbean, British Honduras, and British Guiana.

Dr. Simpson will make the trip from State College to the West Indies by plane. He will return about December 1.

Windcrest Council Bans Drunkenness, Disorder

A new ordinance, prohibiting drunkenness and disorderly conduct in Windcrest, was passed at the meeting of the borough council Tuesday night. Taken as a purely protective measure, the ordinance makes it possible to expel violators from the trailer community.

Heads of three committees were also appointed at the meeting. Joseph T. Fromme is head of public safety, Clifford F. Hocker heads health and sanitation, and public works will be in charge of Lawrence A. Doyle.

Carl F. Stokes, recreation chairman, will make plans for a dance to be held in Windcrest.

You're not too heavy to go home in a Chevy. Watch the passenger lists in Collegian. Vote on Tuesday.

Back Bridge To Buy Baby

In an effort to raise money to adopt a child on the Foster Parents' Plan, the Chi Omega sorority will sponsor a bridge party in the Southeast Atherton lounge from 7 to 10 tonight.

Foster Parents' Plan for War Children consists of a program whereby contributions from organizations are used to take care of needy children. Sorority groups at the College and all over the country have for several years donated sums of money to this cause.

The cost of providing for a child for one year is $180. The child is told of his Foster Parents in the United States, who receives a picture and a personal history of the child. Each month the Foster Parent receives a letter from the child and they are urged to reply.

Tickets will be sold by sorority members at 50 cents plus tax. The committee in charge consists of Gloria Coldenstroch, Laurie Munz, Phyllis Mask, Ann Nelson, Frances Rice, and Mary Burke Yahres.

Tau Beta Pi Aids Council

The Engineering Student Council has been reorganized by engineering honorary, Tau Beta Pi, with an interim council composed of three students from each of the six departments appointed by the department heads.

At the first reorganization meeting the officers of the council were elected, with Robert Barefoot president; Ken Harshbarger vice president; Felix Roth secretary; and Carl Lawrence treasurer.

This council will serve as a nominating committee and will supervise the elections of the regular council members to be held in mid-November. The council is to unite the various organizations and departments of the School of Engineering, and to foster cooperation and friendship between faculty and students.

Members of the council are Mechanical Engineers—Robert Barefoot, Ray Robb, Warren Yemney; Industrial Engineers—Jim Call, Felix Roth, Bill Levy; Architectural Engineers—R. A. Christenson, W. C. Skelly, J. R. Diehl.

Civil Engineers—Sallymore Rocci, Carl Lawrence, Ralph Calderone; Electrical Engineers—Ken Harshbarger, Vince Pettway, Ted Hissey; Aeronautical Engineers—Pat Donoughs, Tom Gerry, John Fogel.

There are so classes next Tuesday because of the election. Vote!

No Housing Problem for Joe; X-GI Puts Bed In Press Shop

A guy named Joe is one of the busiest men on campus this semester. Joe Kelly, who is a student, Quick Press man, and auctioneer, has also found time to enter other college activities. Last year he took part in "Macbeth" and "Curse of Gold," two of the Players' productions. He is also a member of the X-GI Club and the PSCA.

At present Joe is working hard in his Quick Press shop at 118 S.

Pugh street and trying to keep up with his sophomore pre-law courses. He has solved the room shortage problem and saved some time by fixing sleeping quarters in his shop. The business has increased so rapidly that a partner was necessary and plans are being made to expand the business to pressing women's dresses.

Auctioneering is Joe's real love and his Saturday activity. Once a week Joe takes the morning bus to Lewistown, his home town, and begins a day of auctioneering. He is still pleased about a recent auction in which he sold $85,000 of real estate in just 20 minutes.

Joe auctions everything from household goods and antiques to real estate and farm machinery. It all started the summer before

Takes Office

Newly Elected Cabinet Takes Office Tonight

The new All-College Cabinet, elected by the student body on October 22-23, will be officially installed tonight at 7:30 in 104 Old Main. Robert Foote, All-College President, will be the first to take the oath of office.

Tonight's inauguration marks a significant milestone in the history of student politics at the College. This Cabinet will be the first to operate under the rules of the newly revised constitution, which is considered more efficient and workable than any to date.

Only four class presidents will represent the student body during the ensuing meetings of Cabinet. This fall the College returned to the four class system which was in use prior to the war. It was substituted by the semester plan during the war years, and the emergency set-up called for the election of eight presidents, one for each semester.

Along with the reconversion of the legislative body new enactments have provided for an increase of votes among other representatives. Beginning tonight, there will be 23 official members of Cabinet who are eligible to vote on all issues. Some of the organizations whose representative is the recipient of the voting power are Inter-Fraternity Council, WSGA, the presidents of the seven school councils and the chairman of the Board of Dramatics and Forensics.

The ceremonies will be conducted by Jack Bannigan, chairman. (Continued on page four)

More Navy Tickets

"Moving the Blue Band from reserved seats plus an additional allotment of tickets from Navy will make it possible to sell several hundred tickets to students, Monday morning, November 4," Harold R. Gilbert, assistant graduate manager of athletics, said today.

Gilbert also said that an unprecedented demand for tickets to the Pitt-Penn State game have exhausted present supplies, but that sales will be resumed Monday morning for this game also.

Judges Choose Finalists; Dancers To Pick Winner At All-College Belle Hop

Five judges will roam Recreation Hall Saturday night searching for the coed who is to be crowned the "Belle of Belle Hop."

Five lucky coeds will be chosen by the judges and the audience will determine the winner by applauding for their choice.

The final winner, in addition to reigning at the dance, will receive a free room in one of Pittsburgh's leading hotels for the Pitt weekend.

Sponsored by the Junior Greeting Club, the Belle Hop will present, for the first time on campus, the music of Glenn Michaels and his orchestra from Wilkes Barre. Michaels' group has been hailed as one of the outstanding new orchestras in the East.

A hotel theme will prevail as the hotel administration students transfer Recreation Hall into a hotel lobby. Tickets may be obtained from any hotel administration major, at Student Union, or the door on the night of the dance for $2 including tax.

Veteran Housing Meeting Tonight

Plans for the erection of low cost housing for married veterans on campus will be discussed tonight at a mass meeting to be held in Room 10 Sparks at 7:30.

Announcing the purpose of the meeting, Royce Nix, chairman of the AVC housing committee, said, "The final decision as to whether or not low cost housing will be brought to State College within the very near future depends on the interest shown this evening by those married men attending the meeting." He also added that those men contemplating marriage might be concerned with the plans for housing.

Continuing, Nix stated, "we have been informed by the contractors that we can have these housing units ready for occupancy within 90 days from the date the orders are placed. However, this all depends on how many people are interested."

Tonight's gathering will mark the culmination of ten weeks of investigation and exhaustive research by the AVC housing committee. During this time, Nix, aided by two other AVCers, John Bowers and Francis Isenberg, has talked with hosts of contractors, financiers, housing expeditors, and economists. The contemplated arrangements have also been discussed with Mr. Claude Aikens, president of the First National Bank in State College.

Those attending tonight's meeting will be shown housing blueprints and will be explained the financial arrangements connected with each dwelling unit.

The units now being considered are of a Quonset type, containing a bedroom, living room, kitchenette, bathing facilities, space heater, clothes closets, and kitchen cabinets. According to Nix, (Continued on page four)
