

DU Topples AGR To Regain Lead

Delta Upsilon bowlers regained the top rung in the Fraternity Bowling League with a decisive triumph over Alpha Gamma Rho at the State Bowling Center Tuesday. With an average for each member of 503 for the three game match, DU replaced Delta Chi as leader of the league with their 2516-2137 victory.

Delta Chi, as a result of a set back at the hands of Beta Theta Pi, dropped into the second slot in the standings. Beta Theta Pi, with a total of 2517 points, posted the team high score for the night.

Joe Hurvitz, Beta Sigma Rho, notched the high score for the third time as he rolled a 236 final game. Three game total scoring honors were also recorded by Hurvitz with his 164-169-236-569 mark. His kegling greatly aided his team as Beta Sigma Rho edged Theta Xi 2395-2289.

Third place in the standings was retained by Lambda Chi Alpha as Phi Sigma Kappa fell victim before it, 2256-2164. In a close match Alpha Sigma Phi, led by Pidluski, edged Phi Sigma Delta 1915-1913.

The Alpha Chi Sigma and Tau Kappa Epsilon match was decided in the former's favor 2173-2025, with TKE's Wallek rolling the night's second high game score of 222, as his team was defeated.

By virtue of a 2191-2155 win over Delta Tau Delta, Theta Chi joined Beta Theta Pi in a tie for fourth place.

In the evening's final encounter, Triangle decisively Sigma Phi Sigma, with its 2248 score superior to the latter's 2176.

Karver To Compete In X-Country NCAA

Gerry Karver, whose leg injury forced him to drop out of the IC4-A cross-country contest in New York Saturday, will be ready for the NCAA meet to be held in East Lansing, Michigan on Monday, said Coach Chick Werner.

The harrier ace, held out of the team's last two dual meets, has been suffering from what Dr. Griess, team physician, describes as severe muscular spasms.

Daily infirmity treatments seemed to have cleared up this condition and Karver will journey to the Nationals with Horace Ashenfelter, Howie Horne, Curt Stone, Don Longenecker, Fred Lennox, and Mitch Williams in the team's attempt to capture its first NCAA title since 1942.

Gridders Hold Defense Lead

Holding Navy's offense to only 109 yards on the ground and 49 yards in the air, the Nittany Lions, for the second straight week, are the national leaders in total defense.

The Higginsmen again placed fifth on rushing defense behind Mississippi State, Harvard, Oklahoma, and South Carolina.

In total defense Penn State has held its opponents to 139.6 yards per game while Notre Dame, who ranks second, held their opposition to 143.9 yards.

The Lions' seven opponents have been held to only 76.4 yards per game by rushing.

Lions Meet Duke in 'Telegraph' Match

Duke University will be the initial opponent in a "telegraph" match with Penn State's NROTC pistol and rifle squad scheduled for November 23. Each team will fire at home and scores will be exchanged through the mail.

"So far 80 matches have been scheduled and possibly 15 additional contests will be fired later," said Marine Sergeant Henry R. Marshal, team coach.

A .22 calibre pistol and rifle will be used in the matches; two practice periods per week are required for each member.

Sports Shorts

Ray Ulinski, of Ambridge, blocking back on the Penn State squad, is one of three brothers playing major league football this fall. The eldest of the three, Eddie, plays guard for the Cleveland Browns of the new All-America Conference, and the youngest, Harry, is quarterback on the Kentucky College eleven.

Nate Cartmell, who has been in virtual retirement since his last coaching job at Penn State, is the new track coach at LaSalle Military Academy. Cartmell gave up the sport in the early '30's, after years of success at Penn State.

Earl Hewitt Sr., of Indiana, Pa., a member of the State House of Representatives, still likes to reminisce about his football-playing days at Penn State. He captained the Lion eleven that won five and lost three in 1901.

Woodside, McLaughlin Spark Undeclared Owl Booters

Bob Woodside and Ben McLaughlin will be two Owl booters the Jeffreymen will have to watch closely when the undefeated rivals meet Saturday in Philadelphia.

Center Woodside and inside left McLaughlin have played outstanding ball for Coach Leanness, while Dath at the outside left spot has also done well in keeping the Philadelphians undefeated this year.

Temple does not count too heavily on these stellar players to keep the opponents on their toes, for a second string team, which has seen action in a majority of the games, presents the Owls with a continuous offensive.

Coach Jeffrey's squad, first period scorers, may keep the Cherry and White offensive under hand throughout the game or concentrate on tallying a few markers in the second half. The Lions have tallied only seven goals in the last two periods of all their games.

It will be the last game for Temple, while the Blue and White will have to contend with the Penn Quakers following Saturday's tussle.

Last Saturday the Bisons from

Bucknell gave the Leannessmen from Philadelphia their toughest battle of the current season even though they lost to the Owls, 5-3. Prior to the Bucknell classic, Temple's goalie allowed only three scores. Lafayette tallied one, while Army scored two markers to tie the Cherry and White, 2-2.

In comparison, Coach Jeffrey's soccermen are playing a better brand of ball. In seven games, the Lions have chalked up 28 goals against a meager two for the opposition. Penn State scored five shutouts in six wins and deadlocked Navy, 1-1.

Opponents' Scores

Following are last week's scores of Penn State's 1946 opponents:
