A Navy 'Gentleman' Objects

TO THE EDITOR: As an interested soccer fan I noticed in your edition of 6 November a write-up of your soccer team, and I quote "Navy squeezed through a 1-1 tie on a 'fluke' kick that rebounded off a Middie player and into Penn State's net."

I'm sorry that you were unable to see the game as you would have seen how close Navy came to scoring on other occasions, and how by only a very brilliant save by your goalie that a sure shot was reflected.

The kick in question—the "fluke" kick that scored the goal—was made by the wing crossing the ball in front of the goal, and having a Navy player, pick it out of the air and bound it in the corner of your goal.

You have only to ask your Coach Jeffreys about that goal; I'm sure that he will agree.

In the future it would be a good idea to get the facts on games that you're not able to witness, and not print the type of story that one would expect to find in a high school publication.

Yours for more accurate reporting,
A soccer fan
Annapolis, Md.

• If the "gentleman" from Annapolis had read the Navy-Penn State game account printed in the October 29 issue, he would have had a more complete explanation of the scoring. Since Collegian's soccer reporter could not be present for the contest, information on the scoring was obtained from Coach Bill Jeffrey and several of the Lion players who figured on that scoring play.

Limit Dance Ticket Sales

TO THE EDITOR: Now that the first big weekend of the semester is over, it may be a good time to call attention to several remediable evils in the sale of tickets for various functions.

First, we believe that a limit should be placed on the number of tickets sold for any big-name-band dance. In order to avoid the traditional sardine-like packing of Rec Hall, a set number of tickets should be sold on a "first come—first served" basis.

Second, it is, in our opinion, unfair to allow any individual to purchase as many as fifty or sixty tickets to a Players presentation. Just as the number of tickets that can be bought by one person for the Artists Series or the Community Forum is set at six and four respectively, some similar limit should be set in the case of Players.

Third, as much as we have enjoyed Thespian shows in the past, we've never enjoyed having to come an hour or more before the start of the performance to obtain desirable seats—or for that matter, any seats at all. We don't see why Thespian can't sell reserved seats.

We hope that you will support us in urging the respective organizations to institute these reforms in line with your program "for a better Penn State."

• The matter has been discussed with Mr. Donovan, Student Union manager, who points out that all Thespian tickets will be for reserved seats, and sales will be limited to six per student.

Also, Student Union desk has decided to eliminate the practice of accepting reservations by phone on the first day of ticket sales.

As to limiting the number of tickets to dances, the only reasonable solution does seem to be a "first come, first served" policy but so many students do not decide until the last minute that they can attend.

The problem of imports must also be considered. It would be most embarrassing for a student to have an import trek up from Philadelphia or Pittsburgh (having wired at the last moment that she had decided to come for the weekend) only to find that no tickets will be sold.

Building a Student Union would, of course, help to a degree.

A 64 Dollar Question

TO THE EDITOR: This is another of those "Who?" questions. What Phys-ed major on campus was formerly:

1. Star of his high school football and basketball teams?
2. National AAU welterweight champion?
3. Won (as captain of team) the ETO boxing championship?
4. Coached an Armored Division basketball team to victory?
5. Was discharged as S/Sgt.?

WHO IS HE?

• We have been asked the 64 dollar question but our sports staff will try to have the answer for Tuesday's issue.
