

Lions Meet Pitt At Stadium

Hope To Break Traditional Jinx: Win Would Match 1921 Record

Pasqua, DePasqua, also an outstanding punter, passed to Skladany for the tally that beat Marquette.

The Nittany Lions will go into the game tomorrow in top physical shape, according to Dr. A. H. Griess, team physician.

Center Bronco Kosanovich, who bruised his knee in the Navy encounter, has been working out without pads but will probably be ready for tomorrow.

Larry Joe, who saw brief action in the Navy fray, will be ready to go—providing he can find his helmet which he misplaced several days ago.

Pitt will be especially watchful for Joe because in 1942 it was Little Larry who took the second half kickoff and raced 90 yards to score. The run broke up the ball game and with Bobby Williams' pass to Aldo Cenci, combined to give the Lions a 14 to 6 victory.

TIED TEMPLE

Temple, beaten 26 to 0 by the Nittany Lions, was able to hold the Panthers to a 0 to 0 tie in a pouring rain. Neither team was able to show any offense in the ankle-deep mud.

The Smoky City eleven outplayed and outgained the strong Purdue Boilermakers throughout their game only to lose by a field goal kicked in the last three seconds of play.

Using a 5-4-2 defense, Fesler kept the powerful Ohio State Buckeyes from shaking loose their backs. Outplaying the Ohio team according to the statistics, the Panthers lost the game 20 to 13 because of a weak pass defense.

WELL SCOUTED

Both Penn State and Pitt have been thoroughly scouting each other all season. Fesler and four of his assistants watched the Lions whip Navy last week.

Of Penn State, Fesler said, "There's no question, they are better equipped than we. They're big and fast and it was amazing to watch them beat the daylight out of the Navy line. Higgins has a well-coached team and their timing is good."

Stone, Ashenfelter, Karver Favorites In NCAA Run

Led by Curt Stone, new IC4-A champion who was crowned last week in New York as the Nittany Lion harrier took second place in team competition, Coach Chick Werner and his cross-country team will leave by train tomorrow morning for East Lansing, Michigan, to compete in the eighth annual NCAA cross-country meet, Monday.

Favorites for the NCAA individual crown include three Penn Staters, Karver, Stone, and Ashenfelter as well as Fielor of Drake University, Mitchell of Indiana University, and Michigan State's Dianetti.

The squad will stop-over in Pittsburgh for the Penn State-Pitt grid contest and then will journey to the Michigan State course by sleeper.

Werner will take the same men with him to the Nationals as competed in New York—Horace Ashenfelter, IC4-A third-place winner; Howie Horne; Fred Lennox;

Don Longenecker; Gerry Karver, back in the line-up after the re-occurrence of his heel injury last week; Mitch Williams in addition to Stone.

Thirty-six schools will be competing for National honors over the four-mile course. In addition to the Werner men, favorites from team as well as individual honors, such track powers as Drake, N.Y.U., Wisconsin, Indiana Manhattan and Michigan State will be in the running.

Penn State last took the NCAA's in 1942, running the same squad with the exception of Ashenfelter as will be competing on Monday.

State Is Favored-- But Oh Those Upsets

Let's go back a few years and see how Penn State did in its traditional rivalry with Pitt.

1942

Penn State 14; Pitt 6—Freshman Larry Joe took the second half kickoff and raced 90 yards to score. Bobby Williams passed to Aldo Cenci for the other tally.

1943

Penn State 14; Pitt 0—A wartime Penn State made their string three in a row over a civilian Pitt eleven.

1944

Penn State 0; Pitt 14—The underdog Panthers whipped the Lions with the aid of halfback Bernie Sniscak who took the kickoff and raced 93 yards to score. An interception of Petchel's pass set up the final tally.

1945

Penn State 0; Pitt 7—Pitt's Joe Robinson's 84-yard punt return won a hard-fought battle in which Penn State was again upset.

Old Skis—

Old skis have been found in the moors of some nordic countries and some of these skis are now in the museums of Oslo, Helsinki and Stockholm. These old skis were still fairly well preserved and scientists have judged their age to be from 2,000 to 4,000 years.

Ralph Ricker's record of never having lost an opening game as coach at two high schools and two colleges is still intact. But

Booters Face Tough Temple

Penn State's undefeated soccer squad left for Philadelphia this morning to tangle with an unbeaten Temple eleven.

The Jeffrey men, with six wins and a tie to their credit, will be the final opponent for the Cherry and White booters whose season record shows five wins and a deadlock.

SEEK UNDEFEATED SEASON

Both squads will be fighting to maintain their clean slates—marred only by single ties. The Lions, seeking their first undefeated season since 1940, recently tied Navy 1 to 1. Several weeks ago the Owls fought a strong Army team to a -2 deadlock.

After the Temple tussle, the Lions will complete their schedule against a mighty Penn team which only lost to Cornell in an upset. The contest is scheduled for Thanksgiving in the Quaker City.

STARTING LINE-UP

the former Penn State lineman, now coach at Dickinson, experienced cold chills before his team came from behind in the season's opener to edge Lehigh, 7-6.
