Pied Typer

Most fascinating subject in any coed bull session is who got pinned to whom—and HOW DID SHE DO IT? So we snooped. Say the women, directly quoin':

"Hmmm. Which means more, the pin or me? One of them has to go!"

"That's just what my sweater needs! May I try it on?"

"Tell the guy you're cold and put on his sweater, pin and all—if he has a sweater."

"You could always use a pocket-knife."

Panhel Sets Date for Ball

Suzanne Braude and Zelda Fierman, co-chairmen for the Panhellenic dance, announced to the Council that the Campus Owls have been engaged to play for their "Plantation Ball" to be held in White Hall, January 10.

In conjunction with this announcement, Miss Jean Stiles of the Dean of Women's office requested that the practice of calling for and escorting chaperones to dances be revived.

A special ruling was decided upon to cover the problem of groups who exceed their quota of fifty members because of the return of undergraduate members and transfers. There will be no penalty for surpassing the quota provided the returning members and transfers were unexpected. If the sorority was aware of their coming, it will be requested to get its quota back to normal as soon as the number of graduating seniors permits, and it will not be allowed to rush until the matter is taken care of.

City Panhellenic Council selected Mrs. A. K. Anderson and Mrs. Joseph F. O'Brien as advisors for the campus group. Sigma Tau Delta announced the re-pledging of Shirley Rubin.

Zeta Tau Alpha will entertain 20 children of the community at a Christmas party in the northwest lounge of Atherton tomorrow afternoon.

District President

Mrs. Eugene Raiford, district president of the Phi Mu sorority, was the guest of the chapter for four days last week. During this time she was honored by a tea at the chapter house for which Ann Pfahler, president of the local group, received. She also was present for the group's pledging ceremonies.

Coeds Adopt French Child

All women undergraduate students at the College are new foster mothers of 10-year-old Josiane Macquet, motherless French girl whose father was seriously injured in the war.

Through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, Josiane is supported by the Women's Recreation Association. WRA funds are obtained from fees paid by women students at registration. Josephine Stanley is chairman of the project.

Josiane has an older brother, and a younger brother and sister. The children are with their grandmother, who is financially unable to provide for them. Josiane is a shy child with blue eyes and blonde hair.

Different WRA clubs have been assigned to send a package to Josiane each month. Last month's package was mailed by Modern Dance Club.
