

State College Desolate as Students Leave for Home Towns

Imagine the Corner Room—unusual with rows of empty booths. Or the Cathaum theatre with exactly ten people on the main floor on New Year's Day. And the entire campus with only a few secretaries to be seen—the white snow hardly broken by footprints.

This scene of a desolate campus is a picture of conditions during the extended vacation. Under these conditions it is not difficult to understand why those students who live in State College, the foreign students, or those veterans who stayed here in the Pollock Circle Dorms, or at Windcrest, were almost glad that classes were resumed yesterday.

In order to break the monotony, the University club, fraternity houses, the country club and many other buildings were the scene of dances and parties. Teas were given by members of the college set, and informal gatherings became the chief source of amusement.

Many of the local high school classes held reunions. The high school also had quite a crowd when the basketball team won the game from Philipsburg High School by a 45-30 score.

Ice skating at the "Duck Pond," skiing, and tobogganning was a favorite pastime of many of the students marooned here.

Fourth Library Reading

Boalsburg Busses Bog In Blasting Blizzard

Maybe time and tide don't, but three of the 27 busses traveling from Lewistown to State College, Sunday night, would have been found waiting by any man or article that happened to come that way.

Bogged down in the snow for over an hour, two of the three busses were finally forced to disgorge their passengers into two others that had completed the voyage and come back.

The third bus, after much striving and straining, finally pulled itself out of the snow, and amid the wild cheering of all concerned, came into State College under its own power.

Two years ago, according to E. F. McClellan of the Boalsburg Bus Company, a similar transformation of busses into igloos occurred, but this time it wasn't until 5 a.m. of the following morning that the last frost-bitten passenger alighted at the Corner Room.

LONDON—A proposal is before the British Cabinet in London to permit veteran British desert-fighters to launch a full scale offensive against Jewish extremists.

Hartman, Hamilton Repeat As Soccer All-Americans

For the 21st year in a row, Penn State won representation on the 1946 soccer all-America.

Every year since Bill Jeffrey became coach, in 1926, the veteran Scot has produced at least one all-America player.

His 1946 stand-outs both are repeaters. Dean Hartman, captain-elect of the Lion team, first won top honors in 1942. The other choice, Johnny Hamilton, was a 1945 all-American.

Nittany Lion all-Americans now total 47, of which many, like Hartman and Hamilton, are repeaters. A half-dozen Lion greats won all-American recognition three years in a row.

Jeffrey, who still scrimmages

Government surces in London say that the offensive, if approved by the Cabinet, would be the greatest in Palestine's modern history. It would be aimed at smashing the underground groups held responsible by the British for killing and whipping British troops, bombing public buildings and mining Palestine's highways and railroads. Nearly 100,000 Tommies are massed in Palestine and reinforcements are reaching the Holy Land by road and rail.

with his players' even though he was 53 his last birthday, claims one of the most amazing records in intercollegiate soccer. His teams have lost only 16 of 148 games played during the last 21 years, and for 12 of those seasons his teams were undefeated.
