

Weekend Free Movies Feature Popular Films

Schwab Auditorium will again be the scene of free movies tonight and tomorrow night, opening with "Foreign Correspondent" tonight at 7:15 and 9:10 o'clock. Tomorrow night's feature, "Trade Winds," opens at 7:15 o'clock with only one show scheduled.

Edward Yewell, chairman of the X-GI Club committee, who is sponsoring the affair, stated that special sound equipment has been secured for both nights as well as selected short subjects to complete the program.

Starring Joel McCrea, tonight's feature was directed by Alfred Hitchcock, director of "Rebecca," "Spellbound," and the "Spiral Staircase." "Foreign Correspondent" is another typical Hitchcock production dealing with suspense, adventure, and intrigue.

The supporting cast includes Laraine Day, Herbert Marshall, George Sanders and the late Robert Benchley. The plot concerns the adventures of an American correspondent in European hot-spots.

"Trade Winds" stars Joan Bennett and Frederic March and is a South Seas adventure story with laughs and romance. Ann Southern, of "Maizie" fame, is in the supporting cast.

Another program of two pictures is planned for next week.

College President Speaks in Chapel

"Rams in the Bushes" is the title of the sermon which will be delivered by Dr. Kenneth T. Brown, president of Denison University, Granville, Ohio, at the Sunday chapel services in Schwab Auditorium, 11 a. m.

Before his present position, Dr. Brown was president of Hiram College for 10 years. He has also taught English at Harvard University and Biblical Literature at Stevens College.

During World War I Dr. Brown served as Ensign in the USNR. He is a member of the board of education of the Northern Baptist Conference and a member of the board of directors of the Association of American Colleges.

Speech Group Appoints O'Brien to Committee Post

Appointment to membership on a discussion preparation committee was recently accorded to Professor Joseph F. O'Brien of the College Speech Department at a convention of the Speech Association of America held in Chicago.

O'Brien will help, as a member of this committee, to prepare a series of discussion articles for the Public Opinion Quarterly of the Speech Association.

LAKE SUCCESS, New York—Full-scale debate broke out at yesterday's meeting of the United Nations Security Council. And during the course of the international give-and-take, Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko accused the United States of seeking to delay the drafting of a world-wide arms reduction program.

Australian Delegate Norman Makin suggested a compromise, hoping to satisfy both the United States and Russia. Both countries have introduced conflicting motions. Russia is seeking to have a commission draft an arms-reducing plan within ninety days. The American delegation wants atomic energy control given priority.

PARIS, France—The French have complained about a recent oil agreement involving two major American oil companies in the Middle East. And the United States has rejected the French complaint.

Skiers Show John Jay Film

"Skis in the Sky," the new John Jay show, critics say, is one of the best film-lecture combinations to be presented to the public in many years. The show will be presented by the Penns Valley Ski Club Monday night at 8 o'clock in Schwab Auditorium.

According to critics in New York where the Jays are currently appearing, skiers and non-skiers will enjoy the excellent views of American winter wonderland. The writers claim Jay has turned out a masterpiece of snow photography and scenic grandeur.

During the war Jay served with the 10th Mountain Infantry and tested cold weather equipment for the quartermaster corps. He and his wife, Lois, have traveled all over the world taking pictures, with the emphasis on action and sports shots.

On returning to this country after the war, Jay began a series of shows which resulted in packed theaters and return engagements throughout Eastern cities.

Jay expects to spend the weekend skiing if snow is available on the Penns Valley Ski Run and he will make his headquarters at the Sigma Pi Fraternity House.

Courts Flooded, Skating Starts

Ice skating will return to the campus tonight when the tennis courts double as a skating rink from 7 to 11 o'clock, Ray Conger, recreational director, said today.

On days when there is ice, the rink will be open from 2 to 5 in the afternoon and 7 to 10 in the evening. Skating hours this weekend will enable students to skate before and after athletic events in Recreation Hall.

The admission price will be 15 cents.

Juniors Give Comp

A complimentary ticket to the Junior Prom will be presented to the person submitting the accepted suggestion for a theme for the annual dance to be held in Recreation Hall, February 21, said Jack Shrum, Prom chairman.

Theme suggestions should be turned in at the Student Union desk in Old Main before noon tomorrow. Shrum added that, should a satisfactory theme be presented, the Junior Prom committee will sponsor a fraternity-sorority lawn display contest during the Big Weekend period.

Club Extends 'King' Deadline

Deadline for submitting entries for "King" of the Snow Frolic has been extended until next Thursday, said Michael Fedak, president of Alpha Rho Omega, sponsor of the semi-formal dance.

All members of the club are urged to attend an important business meeting in 304 Old Main, 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The extension on entries was made after several organizations revealed they could not obtain the required 8x10 photo in time for the contest.

Another nomination—Paul E. Panneton, sponsored by Theta Phi Alpha—brings the candidate list to four contenders. In addition to Panneton, Bob Foote, Ed Czeka and Paul Holder have been entered by Phi Gamma Delta, Delta Upsilon and Irvin Hall.

Any organization may sponsor a student for the title, said chairman Pearl Biller. A trophy will be awarded the winner who will be chosen from ballots cast by the ladies upon entrance to the dance.

Tickets at $3.00 per couple can be purchased from club members or at Student Union beginning Tuesday. The dance is scheduled for Rec Hall from 9 to 12 p. m. January 18.

La Vie to Take Group Photos

Group pictures for La Vie will be taken from January 13 through January 24, according to Stephen Sinichak, photo editor.

Presidents or chairmen of fraternities, sororities, and student organizations are requested to make appointments at the Penn State Photo Shop as soon as possible.

In addition to fraternities and sororities, the following organizations will have group photos in the yearbook:

All-College Cabinet, Interclass Finance Committee, Senate, House of Representatives, Judicial, La Vie, Daily Collegian, Froth, Student Handbook, Engineer, Portfolio, and PSCA.

College Symphony Orchestra, Chapel Choir, Glee Club, Male Quartet, Treble Singers, Blue Band, Men's and Women's Debate Teams, Forensic Council, Common Sense Club, X-GI Club, AVC, Athletic Association, Student Union Board, Players, Thespians, College Cooperative Societies, WRIA, WSCGA, Pan Hellenic Council, and IFC.

Owens, Junior Service Board, Mortar Board, Skull and Bones, Parni Nous, Blue Key, Druids, Friars, Scabbard and Blade, Philotes, Penn State Club, Beaver House, IMA, IWA, Independent Student Council, Pollock Circle Council, Winderest Council.

Graduation Invitations

Invitations and announcements for the February graduation will be available all day today to graduating seniors who have them on order at the Student Union desk. Receipts are required.

Panhel Holds Annual Ball

Panhellenic Council will present its "Plantation Ball" in White Hall between 9 and 12 o'clock tonight. The Campus Owls will play for the semi-formal dance which is for sorority women and stray Greeks only.

In cooperation with the Co-ed Coordinating Committee, the Council decided on a policy of no corsages for this, their first dance since 1941. Decorations will carry out the Southern theme with two rose arbors placed in the main gym which will have a mural of hoop-skirted girls. Ruth Wilson, head of the decorations committee, developed these plans.

At intermission time, Mary Lou Callahan will take over as Mistress of Ceremonies for the program planned by Jane Spicher, entertainment chairman. The Panhel Trio, composed of Rebecca Griffin, Jean Wilcox, and Eve Winters, will sing several numbers arranged by their accompanist, Joan Berchtold. Betty Watts will do an acrobatic dance. There will be free checking and refreshments in Room 105, Virginia Babbit, committee head, said.

Co-chairmen for the ball are

Dean Euwema Speaks On LA

"What a Liberal Arts School should be like and how our school is working toward that ideal" is the general topic to be discussed by Dr. Ben Euwema, new dean of the Liberal Arts School, Tuesday at 1:20 p. m. in Schwab Auditorium.

Dean Euwema, before coming to the College, was head of the departments of literature and fine arts and language and literature of the Basic College at Michigan State College.

Under the system at that institution, all students, whether in the School of Engineering, Chemistry, or Agriculture, are required to enroll in the Basic College. After two years of liberal arts study they can then specialize in their major fields.

Dean Euwema extended his congratulations to the number of students who sent in suggestions for improvement of the Liberal Arts School here at the College. He said that special committees, which will include students, are being planned to consider the need, if any, to rearrange courses of study, research, etc.

The committee on entrance requirements, headed by Dr. Brewster of the political science department, has already met and submitted its report.

All liberal arts students, who have no classes at the time, are urged to attend the convocation which is sponsored by the Liberal Arts Student Council.

Treble Singers To Make Music For SS Show

Imagine, a "Sheepskin Serenade" and no bleats, said the Senior Class Social Committee.

When Sheepskin Serenade is presented to Penn State students in Schwab Auditorium, at 2:30, Sunday, the Treble Singers directed by Guy Woods, and accompanied by Ethel Pitman, will be on hand to provide vocal harmony that will be far removed from anything lamb-like, according to Ann Reece Kline, president of the Treble Singers.

This is the third year the Trebles have been lifting their voices in song collectively, and they represent The College's first Canary Collection on the distaff side.

The other parts of the SS program are made up of Dick Berge, his baton and his orchestra and vocalist Benny Alver; Mellot, Pleegeor and Mitchell, their feather, and their optimistic natures; Virgil Neilly, his voice, and imploring hands needed for Community singing, and the Honey Boys, consisting of James Beach, Boyd Bell, Paul Keare, Jack Oyler and William Darey.

Virgil Neilly in addition to leading the community singing will sing his own arrangements of "Lazy River" and "Basin Street Blues."

Lynette Lundquist heads the committee consisting of Murrey Friedman, Rachel Hindenach, Marjorie Stout and John Walker.

AVC To Use Skytop As Clubhouse

The Centre County Chapter of the American Veterans Committee has signed an option to take over Skytop, popular dining and dancing spot, located seven miles west of State College, Earl Kemmler, chairman of the veterans' group, stated last night.

Kemmler stated that preliminary negotiations between the AVC and C. R. Witmer, owner of Skytop, were completed at the Wednesday night meeting. The proposition was put to a vote with the organization agreeing to sign the option.

Skytop will continue to be managed by Witmer and will be open to the public, serving dinners and parties, until the final agreement is completed. It is hoped at that time to convert the building into the local AVC headquarters as well as a clubhouse. Preliminary plans call for the use of buses for transportation to the spot.

Plans were also completed for a membership campaign on campus and in the County with a goal of 1,000 new members from the ranks of World War II veterans. AVC now has approximately 300 members here.
