

Artist Series Presents Adler, Draper in Concert

Larry Adler, world-famous harmonica player, and Paul Draper, modern tap dancer, will present a program of solo and duet numbers for the second of the Artist Course series programs in Schwab Auditorium at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

The concert program is made of classical music in the main; however, such compositions as "Rhapsody in Blue" and "Surrey With the Fringe on Top" are included. Draper has become famous for his own form of tap-dancing developed from the classical ballet. Adler has made the harmonica a legitimate musical instrument, capable of playing the finest classics.

One hundred and seventy-five standing room tickets at $2, tax included, will be placed on sale at the box office Schwab Auditorium at 7:15 p.m. the night of the concert.

John Colman will be at the piano.

Opening the program will be Draper, who will dance to "Gavotte" by Thomas, "Intermezzo in E flat minor" by Brahms, and to Rameau's "Theme and Variations."

Adler will make his initial appearance playing the "Nigun" from the "Baal Shem" Suite by Bloch. More than any other work, "Nigun" demonstrates the emotional tonal quality of the harmonica. He follows this with Debussy's "L'Après-midi d'un faune," and his own arrangement of Enesco's "Roumanian Rhapsody No. 1."

Draper returns with the "Malgueña" by Lecuona, a typical Spanish dance; Morillo's "Cancion triste y danza alegre," a very modern Spanish piece; and his own "Dance Without Music."

Both artists appear for the last number of the first part of the program when they make a duet improvisation on a theme.

(Continued on page two)

Late AP News

Courtesy Radio Station WMAJ

LONDON—Government, union and industrial leaders are attempting to bring the trucking and dock strike to as quick an end as possible. Thirty thousand truck drivers and market workers had been striking, and now the stoppage has spread to the docks. The truckers want a shorter work-week, and vacation and overtime improvements. The other workers walked out in support of the truckers when the labor government called on troops to help transport strikebound food supplies. The strike was not authorized by union officials, but has been orderly despite resentment against the troops. But food in Britain is shorter than ever.

CHICAGO—The first and second sections of the Northern Pacific North Coast Limited crashed in a blizzard, causing injuries to at least 36 persons. The rear end collision occurred just as the first section of the train left Perham, Minnesota, en route to the west coast from St. Paul.

WASHINGTON—Chairman Harold Knutson of the House Ways and Means Committee disclosed that the GOP will back quick passage of legislation to continue indefinitely the high wartime taxes on liquors and luxury goods. That will effect pocketbooks. But Knutson feels this will make the way easier for an over-all reduction in income taxes, which would affect paychecks.

WASHINGTON—Our Labor department discloses that a thirty day strike notice has been filed in the steel industry. The government added, however, that it hopes a mutually satisfactory agreement will be completed without government help. At the moment, negotiations for a new contract in the steel industry still have to begin. The CIO United Steel Workers and the United States Steel Corporation postponed negotiations today until next week.

Paul Draper

Night Classes List Typing

Central Extension Office has released the following list of courses to be offered in shorthand and typing beginning Tuesday: Shorthand I, elementary shorthand; Shorthand II, advanced shorthand, continuation of Shorthand I; Typing I, elementary typing; Typing II, advanced typing, continuation of Typing I.

More advanced courses will be offered provided there is sufficient interest among students and townspeople. Registrations are being accepted in 201 Central Extension Office, from 9 a.m. to 12 and 1:30 to 5 p.m. Classes will begin in Sparks at 7 p.m. Tuesday. Classes will meet Tuesday and Thursday nights for a total of 32 hours of instruction. Tuition fee for each course is $15, payable before classes begin. For further information, call 4941, extension 38, during the above mentioned hours.

Miller Speaks To Ag Forum

Dr. Russell C. Miller, research worker in the department of agricultural and biological chemistry, will speak on "Livestock Nutrition Research" in 109 Agriculture at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

This is the second in a series of Ag student-faculty forum programs which are being presented to familiarize both students and faculty with some of the research work done in the experiment station. The speaker tonight will present findings in his own projects and also current aspects of nutrition.

Dean Euwema Says LA Is 'Heart of University'

Dr. Ben Euwema, dean of the School of Liberal Arts, stressed the importance of the Liberal Arts School in a university when he spoke in Schwab Auditorium yesterday afternoon.

"Never forget that far from being an appendage on the campus," Dean Euwema said, "our school is the hub of the wheel around which everything else revolves."

After being introduced by Fred Kecker, chairman of the Liberal Arts Student Council, Dean Euwema made some amusing remarks . . . mostly at his own expense, and then got down to the real business of the convocation.

Maintaining that the revision of a curriculum is a difficult and slow process, and that change just for the sake of change is no guarantee of improvement, he added: "There will undoubtedly

Widerkehr Makes Bid For Title; Backed By Four Groups

William E. Widerkehr seems to be "King" of the Snow Frolic as far as four organizations are concerned, said dance chairman Pearl Biller.

Alpha Xi Delta, Kappa Delta, Alpha Sigma Phi and Alpha Kappa Pi have announced they will sponsor Widerkehr for the title.

Brad Hunt and his orchestra will provide the music for the semi-formal dance in Rec Hall from 9 to 12 p.m. Saturday. Tickets, at $3.00 per couple, are now on sale at Student Union or may be purchased from club members.

Four other candidates will vie for the "King" title. Bob Foote, Ed Czekaj, Paul Holder and Paul Panneton have been entered by Delta Gamma, Delta Upsilon, Irvan Hall and Theta Phi Alpha. Photos of the contestants are now on display in the Athletic Store window.

Groups may still enter a candidate by submitting an 8x10 photo of their nominee to Student Union by Thursday evening. Entry fee is 50 cents.

Winning contestant, to be chosen by the ladies attending the dance, will receive a trophy to be awarded during intermission, and a bouquet will be presented to the "King's" date.

Ag Faculty Assumes Lead

Members of the faculty, research workers and extension personnel of the School of Agriculture will assume prominent roles next week when the Pennsylvania State Farm Show opens. A. H. Imhoff, assistant agronomy professor, said today.

Groups of students and faculty members will attend the exhibits as a part of their class work and faculty members will take part in judging exhibits, speaking at meetings and assisting in numerous activities.

James M. Fry, director of the agricultural extension service, is the secretary of the Farm Show. Commission and H. R. McCulloch is assistant secretary. William R. Gordon, rural sociologist, is the author of the show "Song of the Soil" which will be presented in the main arena Tuesday night.

Dr. Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the School of Agriculture, will make no formal address in his first contact with the Farm Show, but he will serve as toastmaster at the Crop Improvement Association banquet Tuesday evening.

IRC To Meet

The International Relations Club will meet at the Phi Sigma Kappa house at 8 p.m. tonight to discuss "Is Franco's Regime a Threat to Peace?" Refreshments will be served.

College Staff Members Receive Salary Increase

Ralph D. Hetzel

Full-time members of the College staff who were employed on or before July 1, 1946, and who have subsequently had no increase in compensation, will receive annual salary and wage increases ranging from $150 to $300, Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president of the College, announced yesterday.

The action, which was authorized at the last meeting of the Board of Trustees, will provide all eligible members of the administrative and academic staff, $300 per year; eligible employees known as "assistants," $240 per year; eligible technical and common labor, $175 per year; and eligible clerical employees, $150 per year.

Becoming effective January 1, 1947, the increases will be paid in equal monthly installments.

In commenting on the new plan, Dr. Hetzel said:

"The effect of the rise of the cost of living since July has been a matter of concern to the administration, and for several months officers of the College have been studying the income and expenses of the institution to June 30, 1947, to determine whether its resources would permit a further increase in compensation. It now appears that the finances of the College for the remainder of the year will allow the increases stated in this new plan.

"These increases do not and can not be made to correspond to the rise in cost of living but, added to the increases made on July 1, 1946, they represent substantial assistance. They are as liberal as the resources of the College permit."

The Penn State chapter of the American Association of University Professors last month asked for a $500 cost-of-living bonus, an upward adjustment of teaching salaries based on minimum levels, and a cooperative study of College salary schedules.

News Briefs

MI Society Forum

The Penn State Mineral Industries Society will present a forum in the Mineral Industries Art Gallery at 7:15 o'clock tomorrow night. Aluizio Barbosa will speak on "Mineral Deposits of Brazil;" Hsi Nien Chang will discuss "China Today;" Felix du Brevil will speak on France; and Rustum Roy will discuss "Political Situation in India." The public is invited.

EE Lecture

F. J. Chesterman, vice-president of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, will speak to senior engineering students in 110 Electrical Engineering at 4:20 o'clock tomorrow on the subject "Communications Industry."

Fifth Library Reading

Dr. Marion R. Traube, dean of the School of Education, will read from the writings of Marjorie Rawlings in the fifth in the 15th series of Library Readings, in 402 Library at 4:20 o'clock. The public is invited.

Chem Prof Speaks

Dr. J. H. Simons, professor of physical chemistry and director of the flourine laboratories at the College, will address the Central Pennsylvania section of the American Chemical Society in 119 New Physics at 7:30 o'clock tonight. His subject is "A Tool for the Study of Fundamental Chemical Properties." The public is invited.

Relief Boxes, Jobs

Students who are willing to pack overseas relief boxes for the Community Service Commission of PSCA should report to Betty Farrow, 304 Old Main. PSCA also needs volunteers for jobs as assistant receptionist, typists, and general correspondence secretaries. Those interested should see Mrs. Clova Urban, PSCA office secretary.

Sheehan Appoints Eight To Senior Ball Committee

William Deitrich and John Maternas were named co-chairmen of the Senior Ball Committee by James Sheehan, senior president, today.

Other members of the committee are James Duff, Marilyn Jacobson, William Moore, Eleanor Roberts, Stephen Sinichak and Curtis Stone. Senior Ball will be held May 23.

Debaters Meet In Double Event

Affirmative and negative representatives of St. Francis College will be encountered by the Men's Varsity Debate Team in a double debate tonight.

To the question, "Resolved, That labor should have a direct share in the management of industry," the College affirmative squad, represented by John Cohee and James M. Richards, will face the St. Francis negative in 316 Sparks at 7:30 o'clock.

In 304 Sparks, also at 7:30 o'clock, St. Francis affirmative delegates will meet the College negative members, Harold Krauss and Stanley Steinberg.

Traveling to Carlisle, Friday to engage Dickinson College, the oldest intercollegiate rivalry among Pennsylvania colleges will be renewed. This will be the forty-sixth annual contest between the two schools. Fred Chusid and Peter Giesey will represent the College in this cross-examination style debate. The labor-management resolution will be the theme.

In 121 Sparks at 7:30 p.m. Friday, the Temple University negative will be debated. G. Russell Drumm and Charles R. Tanguy will side with the affirmative on the labor-management question.

Malcolm Goldstein and Harris Gilbert will debate in Philadelphia Thursday and Friday, meeting with Temple University affirmative on the former day and University of Pennsylvania on the latter.

Appointments for Photos

Seniors Patricia Bower, Virginia Berrison, Michael Caitanis, Milton Dinowitz, Leonard Freedman, and Mary J. Rorabaugh are requested to make appointments immediately at the Penn State Photo Shop for a picture to appear in the yearbook.

Managers or team captains of all sports are urged to make appointments at the Penn State Photo Shop as soon as possible for a group picture of the team in uniform.

Skating Thaws

The attendance during the Friday night skating spree reached 241 before the mercury soared to 45 degrees and spoiled the fun for Nittany ice enthusiasts. For future prospects in skating, refer to the latest Collegian weather report.