

JAMES H. DUFF

HARRISBURG—Former Attorney General James H. Duff becomes Pennsylvania's 34th governor at noon today. In a simple ceremony, which is steeped in tradition, Chief Justice George W. Maxey, of the State Supreme Court, will administer the oath to Duff at the foot of the capitol steps.

OAKLAND, Calif.—A four-engine Navy transport plane enroute from California to the East Coast crashed and burned yesterday afternoon at Oakland airport. However, all 21 persons aboard are believed to have survived although complete details are still not available. The plane was attempting a radar-controlled landing while making a stop at Oakland in a heavy fog. The flight originated at Moffett Field where West Coast Naval Air Transport Service headquarters is located. All the passengers appear either to have been thrown clear or to have made the safety of the runway. The plane itself burned to a crisp amid exploding gas tanks.

ROTAN, Texas—An Army superfortress crashed nine miles southwest of Rotan, Texas, killing two persons and injuring three others. Three more escaped unharmed although the big plane exploded in the air. The six survivors parachuted to the ground and then set up a security guard around the

(Continued on page four)

IWA Changes Tie Trot Site

Tie Trot, scheduled by IWA for Saturday, has been moved from Rec Hall to White Hall since wrestling matches have been scheduled until 10 p. m. Saturday.

Pat Patterson and his orchestra have been contracted for the dance which will be held from 9 to 12 o'clock Saturday evening. Prizes will be given for the flashiest bow tie and the flashiest long tie.

The dance was scheduled for January 25 in order that students would have some sort of relaxation during final week.

IWA is an organization to which all non-sorority women are considered members regardless of their present activity in the organization. Coeds are not considered active members, however, unless they attend the weekly meetings in the IWA room in Old Main at 7 o'clock Monday evenings.

Dean Weston Invites Senior Women to Tea

All graduating senior women will be entertained at an informal get-together in their honor at the Dean of Women's office from 4 to 5:30 this afternoon by Doctor Pearl E. Weston and her staff.

One hundred five graduates have been asked by invitation to the affair, and it is hoped that they will feel free to drop in. Informality is the key-note, and class-room clothes may be worn to it. The color scheme will be blue and white for the tea which will be the last opportunity for the Dean and her staff to meet and talk with these girls.

Concert Band Plays in Spring

Leader Lists Members; Plans Future Offerings

"Potentially,—it's a good band," Hummel Fishburn, head of the music department, said of the concert Blue Band recently.

"We hope to do two or three concerts in the spring," he added. This band, which continued through the war years, is different from the marching band in personnel, type of music played, and the manner of presentation.

Officers of the band include: William Keefeauver, president; James Beach, manager; Frank Hess, secretary; Robert Manning, librarian.

The following have been accepted for membership to the organization:

- Flute and Piccolo
Conrad Hillpert, Daniel Myers, Edith Murray, and Nancy Sheriff.
- Oboe
Edna Murray, Bengt Pullis, and Esther Thompson.
- Bassoon
Frank Hess, Phil Miller, and Ralph Spiker.
- E Flat Clarinet
Josephine Rotilli
- Alto Clarinet
Peter Dilean's
- Bass Clarinet
James Beach

(Continued on page two)

Student Wins Judging Honor

Robert R. Pennington, a junior in animal husbandry, won the annual livestock judging contest in the College livestock pavilion at Harrisburg Saturday.

Pennington scored 495 of a possible 550 points to lead the field of 45 students vying in the annual event. Swine, horses, sheep and beef cattle were judged individually by the students.

Dr. William L. Henning, coach of the Agriculture School's livestock judging teams, said next year's team to represent the College in intercollegiate competition will be chosen from the seven highest placings in the contest. Dr. Henning was in charge of the horse division.

Pennington piled up his point advantage by leading the field in both the swine and sheep divisions. Robert N. Houston scored a 145 out of a possible 150 points to lead the cattle judging. Pennington and James Work tied with 92 of a possible 100 points in the horse division.

For total scores, the following students placed in the order mentioned: second, Byron A. Hughes; third, Carroll V. Hess; fourth, George H. Swart; fifth, Raymond E. McKinley; sixth, Robert N. Houston; and seventh, Richard E. East.

Recreation Council Plans 'Hobby Lobby' For Students

Is your knitting up to par these days? Or would a knitting club help you to get your knits and purls in the right places?

Are you looking for someone else who collects bottle caps, builds all sorts of things with tooth picks, or spends his vacation albalone spearing?

Members of the committee on hobbies for the Council on Recreation and Welfare would like to help hobbyists start a club, and in case of those who have clubs, would like to aid them in any way possible. Perhaps they can help you to find an adviser, a meeting place, or maybe necessary equipment.

So if you have a hobby and haven't been associated with a

Snow King

Ed Czeka, Penn State griddier, was chosen "King" of the Snow Frolic by coeds attending the dance in Recreation Hall Saturday evening.

The Lion end received a trophy award during intermission, and his date, Marian McElroy, was presented a bouquet.

Critique Plans Opening Issue

Critique, new publication lately conceived to provide the College with a new kind of literary expression, will come of age in a spring charter issue, said Alex Gregory, managing director.

The approach of Critique is revealed in its name. It is to present an intelligent criticism, on behalf of the students, of campus affairs, and also include a Penn State view on national doings.

Critique will strive to give only the best literary interpretations that can be obtained from contributing sources. Humorous articles sans the sex angle will be used, said Gregory.

The staff includes David Cummings, editor; Joseph Peters, managing editor; Wayne Shaffer, art and printing director; George Purnell, business manager; Malcolm White, promotion manager; Donald Shaner, advertising manager, and Ruth Hatfield, secretary.

There are still positions to be filled on the staff. Those interested in working for Critique or in submitting articles, may attend a meeting in 5 Carnegie Hall, at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Judicial Grants Coeds Final Week Permissions

Coeds will be given 11 o'clock permissions every night during final week beginning Thursday, according to Lois Apt, Judicial head.

If a woman student forgets to sign out for the vacation period, she is urged to write, wire, or call her dormitory hostess in order to escape any Judicial penalty. Judicial changes in the penalty proposal passed by the WSGA senate last Thursday will be published in the Collegian next semester when the regulations will go into effect.

WSGA has contacted the Aristocrats orchestra for the informal dance to be held in White Hall March 1.

Summer Term Sets Program

Students planning to attend the 1947 Summer Sessions and wishing to arrange their Spring semester schedules in terms of courses offered during the Summer Sessions may obtain a copy of the Preliminary Summer Sessions Time Table at the office of their Dean.

The Time Table, distributed by the Summer Sessions office last week, includes a mimeographed list of changes made since the original schedule was prepared. Department heads have been asked to report immediately to their Dean, any other necessary changes.

In order that the Time Table that appears in the Complete Announcement of the Summer Sessions may be corrected to include changes in time of meeting of classes as originally announced the changes must be reported to the Director of Summer Sessions not later than Saturday.

Ag Paper Makes Debut With Farm Show News

The first issue of "The Ag Hill Breeze" will make its appearance Tuesday and will continue with publication on alternate Mondays, Dr. Russell B. Dickerson, faculty advisor for the paper, said today.

The paper will be distributed at Student Union, the Agricultural Library and Building. Faculty members may pick up their copies at the dean's office.

The eight-page issue will be headed by W. Peter Horen, managing editor; Jane Spiker, faculty news editor; Joan Seltzer, student news editor and Carolyn Y. Graham, circulation manager.

Club news, fraternity items and articles about the current Farm Show and the Grange League Federation will be the main features of the paper.

Final Exams Postpone Night Typing Classes

Due to the pressure of forthcoming finals, the Central Extension Office has postponed the opening date of its night classes in shorthand and typing, Marion Rundle, secretary, said today.

Instead of the classes beginning next Tuesday, they will commence on February 11. In the meantime registrations are being accepted at 201 Central Exchange Office, in the old Beta house. This is the first building on Burrows Road north of the power plant.

Classes will meet Tuesday and Thursday for 32 hours instruction. The tuition fee is $15 for each course payable in advance.

Tri-Delt Joins Campus Greeks

National Heads Present For Charter Ceremonies

Alpha Phi chapter of Delta Delta Delta was installed at the College this past weekend. The official charter was presented at a formal banquet at the State College Hotel, Saturday.

Delta Delta Delta presented the Alpha Phi chapter to the College at a tea in Atherton Hall Sunday. Eleven national officers of Delta Delta Delta were present. Pledged as Spoudecaster

Founded as Spoudecaster, April 28, 1945, the original group had twelve members. The local sorority was pledged to Delta Delta Delta, October 5, 1946. Mrs. Chester D. Dahle, the chapter advisor, has encouraged and aided the group from the beginning.

Officers of the Alpha Phi chapter are Marion Rewbridge, president; Clara McHaffie, vice president; Mary Louise Dorflinger, secretary and Jane Fouracre, treasurer.

Te initiates include Suzanne Braude, Louise Brice, Mary Louise Dorflinger, Miriam Evans, Elsie Federoff, Jane Fouracre, Gene Gilmore, Doris Hamann, Anne Hay, Mary Jane Heine, Jane Helt, Lois Ingram, Betty Kuzman, Josephine Laib, Patricia Lloyd.

Alumni initiates include Betty Herring, Jeanne Thompson, and Elinor Vinson.

Tri Delta pledges include Janet Kurtz, Margaret Landgraf, and Jeane Nye.

New Engineer Features Glass Fabric Article

"Versatile Velon," a feature on glass fabric including its uses and future place in women's fashions, is one of the many articles in the Penn State Engineer which goes on sale tomorrow.

Among the other articles are "Tomorrow's Locomotives," "Guzzlin' Gus," science's latest attempt at perpetual motion, and "Global Map," the final article in a series by Joel Crouch, associate professor of industrial engineering.

There will be details concerning the Slide Rule Ball and the Penn State Engineer Scholarship to be awarded in March. Five photo pages will also be featured.

News Briefs

Advanced ROTC

All students interested in enrolling in the advanced ROTC program at the College, including those who have already applied, must report to the ROTC office, 101 Carnegie, before tomorrow at 4 p. m. to schedule a physical examination.

Comparative Religion

The Rev. Robert H. Eads, pastor of the University Baptist Church, will speak in the third of the series of the lecture-discussions on Comparative Religion at the Hillel Foundation, 133 W. Beaver Avenue, at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Eads will take as his topic, the "Religious Teachings of Protestantism."

Campus Action

The Campus Action Committee of PSCA will meet in 304 Old Main at 6:30 o'clock. Committees are asked to present complete reports at this last meeting of the semester, according to Edith Webb, publicity chairman.

La Vie Art Staff

La Vie art staff will meet in 223 Engineering F at 7 o'clock tonight.

(Continued on page two)