• A survey for a traffic light at the intersection of College avenue and Allen street has been authorized by the State College Borough Council.

The survey will be made by the State Highway Department after which recommendations will be made to borough council.

The recommendation might be made at this time that the survey be put off until the 7000 students at the College return from the between-semester vacation.

State College is a very quiet little town between semesters and they might get the wrong impression of traffic conditions . . . it's so quiet, as a matter of fact, that they might recommend removing existing traffic lights.

• Most students at the College would never dream of "classroom dishonesty" and we do not want to give the impression that we think that any of our readers would care to strain their eyes during final week to be dishonest at any exam but . . . Dean Warnock says that probably the student body should know that during the current semester, students have been dismissed from College for one and in some cases two semesters for dishonesty in classroom tests.

Dean Warnock also said that cases of detected dishonesty in final examinations would be dealt with equally severely.

According to the dean, "When students appear before the College disciplinary committee on charges of dishonesty, they invariably ask for leniency, pleading disgrace to parents, wrecking of their own careers, and similar arguments."

The time for students to think of such consequences is before they yield to temptation, and not after the act has been committed.

We print the dean's advice . . . maybe it will save someone from temptation.

On The March

Which would you rather spend—a dime now or $1,200 later? That is the average cost of medical care and scientific treatment on one case of infantile paralysis. More than 24,000 Americans—mostly children—were stricken with this dread disease last year in the worst epidemic in the history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. As a result the emergency funds are nearly exhausted. More money must be raised and at once.

Regardless of race, color, age or creed, any polio sufferer is provided care and treatment from the funds given in the March of Dimes campaign. Half of all the county collects remains for local use and the other half is sent to national headquarters. This last is saved to be sent out to especially hard-hit states in emergencies.

Polio is not particular in choosing victims. Tomorrow it may be you or your little brother. Give now and often. Join the March of Dimes!

Letters

'No Smoking' Plea Issued

TO THE EDITOR: This letter is offered in the form of a plea to our student body by the varsity sports captains who are interested in seeing that the best possible conditions prevail at all forthcoming sports events.

We firmly believe the efforts of the players would be less impaired and more appreciated by the spectators if the haze created by the smoking in Rec Hall was completely eliminated.

Cooperation in this matter is imperative.

- Jackie Tighe, Boxing captain
- Jack Green, Wrestling captain
- Dave Hornstein, Basketball captain
- Raymond S. Sorensen, Gymnastics captain

TO THE EDITOR: We, the coaches of the Winter Sports Program, do hereby request that all persons attending events at the Rec Hall refrain from smoking while the team's playing is in progress.

Smoking not only interferes with the team's playing, but also creates a haze about the Hall and causes the vision of all spectators to be impaired. Your cooperation in this urgent matter will be greatly appreciated by the teams, coaches, and officials representing Penn State at all the athletic contests.

Let us adopt the slogan, "No smoking, no haze, a better game, more enjoyable to watch."

- Leo Houck, Boxing
- Charles M. Speidel, Wrestling
- John D. Lawther, Basketball
- Gene Wettstone, Gymnastics

The 150 directors expected to attend the music conference will be guests at a banquet, given by the Rotary Club at 1 p. m. Saturday. A tour of the campus, free movies, dancing at the Church Door Canteen, and dinner have also been scheduled for Saturday.

Frances M. Andrews, instructor of music education at the College and teacher in the State College High School, will act as hostess of the festival. Mrs. Gladys Watson, of the high school faculty, is chairman of the housing committee.

Hungarian —

"Ernie Pyle" and bought him an entire new outfit and a railroad ticket to what they thought was his destination.

Prof. DeJuhasz sighed at the end of the tale for although Andy can speak a little Russian, Czech, Yugoslav and Polish, he doesn't even speak Hungarian very well.

Homer and Bob sent a telegram to Andy's father to notify him of his son's arrival and purchased a bus ticket to Pittsburgh for him. They also wrote a note for him to show at the Pittsburgh station to help him further on his way.

Andy has promised to write to Prof. DeJuhasz and Homer and Bob to tell them of his future adventures. He hopes to return to the mines again—this time the iron mines of Hungary.

Upon entering, the first freshman class at the College was divided according to advancement into three-year and four-year students.

'Hamburgers' Are Deadly In Windcrest and Circle

Rat poison in the form of a ball resembling hamburger has been placed by the Altoona Exterminating Company at various points in Windcrest and Pollock Circle, said Mr. William Gross, project manager of the campus veterans' housing.

Despite rumors of deaths of pets, Mr. Gross said yesterday, "I have not received one report of the death of an animal from an owner or anyone else."

The poison has been very effective in disposing of the rats, however.
