College Graduates Over 300 Students On February 1

Graduation exercises for 320 seniors will be held at Schwab Auditorium at 2:30 p. m. on February 1. There will be an academic procession with the students forming at Carnegie Hall and the faculty meeting on the second floor of Old Main.

After the invocation by James Smith, acting chaplain, Ralph Dorn Hetzel, president, will give a brief message to the senior class. Prof. C. E. Bullinger will be graduation marshal.

The School of Liberal Arts will graduate the most students this time with 120 students receiving diplomas. The School of Education is next with 62 graduates, while the School of Agriculture is third with 52 departing seniors.

Forty-seven students will graduate with Engineering diplomas, while 22 will leave the School of Chemistry and Physics. Mineral Industries School graduates 10 and the School of Physical Education and Athletics tails with only seven graduates.

James Sheehan is president of the class which will be the first one to graduate since the College returned to its pre-war two-semester schedule.

Nittany Entries Place at Show

Dr. William L. Henning's Aberdeen-Angus cattle from Nittany Farms won numerous ribbons and awards in competition at the Pennsylvania State Farm Show last week.

Nittany Pride VI carried off the Grand Championship female pennant, after previously winning the junior championship and taking first place in the junior heifer class.

Badenoch Eblinette V took the blue ribbon in the junior yearling heifer class and won Reserve Championship honors in the female division.

Dr. Henning's entry for the "get-of-sire" class of four animals carried off the first prize award. In the "pair-of-calves" class, the same herd carried two awards—the blue ribbon and a fifth place. In a class for three bulls of any age, Nittany Farms won the third prize.

Other ribbons from the College included first place in the aged bull class and the blue ribbons won by the champions in the individual classes. The Grand Championship female, as well as the animals in the other classes, were all locally bred and sired by the Nittany Farms bull.

Clinic Gives Exam Formula To Save Jittery Students

Are you flirting with a nervous breakdown worrying about final exams? Did you buy out the town's supply of "Insomnia" pills for last minute cramming? You didn't? Then you must be one of those lucky students taking Ed 105, a non-credit course teaching how to read and study.

This course is designed primarily to help in reading and studying those who need such aid. Since it is non-accredited, role is not taken and there is no final. The course is being given next semester Tuesday and Thursday at 10, 11, and 1. Registration is open now in 6, Burrows. Enrollment is limited.

Suggestions For Study

Dr. A. E. Monroe, of the Reading Clinic, in discussing this course, gave some general suggestions for studying for final ex-

Final Week Blues Fade; Flashy Cravals Rule At 'Tie Trot'

Tie Trot will break up final week study by providing Pat Patterson and his orchestra for the dancing in White Hall from 9 to 12 Saturday night. Tickets will go on sale tomorrow and Saturday at the Student Union desk in Old Main at $1.80 per couple including tax.

Prizes will be awarded for the most outstanding bow tie and long tie at the dance. The awards were not given for publication since they are to surprise the winner, said Shirley Radbord, IWA president.

The Independent Women's Association is sponsoring the informal dance with Esther Gershan as chairman. Publicity chairman, Shirley Radbord, and ticket chairman, Harriet Kirschner are assisting.

Previous arrangements to have the dance in Rec Hall were changed because of the wrestling matches which are scheduled to last until 10 p. m. Saturday.

WRA Valentine Dance Features Campus Owls

A Valentine theme will be used for WRA's traditional Sweetheart Dance in White Hall, February 15, decoration chairman Suzanne Potter said today. The Campus Owls will furnish the music for the dance, the first semi-formal of the Spring semester.

Tickets for the dance will go on sale at Student Union Monday, February 10, at $1.20 a couple tax included. As in previous years, the dance is a "girl-ask-boy" affair, Miss Potter said.

Students On Vacation To Repair Poor Homes

Students living in and around Philadelphia are invited to spend an unusual weekend painting and repairing poor folks' homes while enjoying the company of other students during between-semester recess.

The Society of American Friends is sponsoring this help program, providing students who find things rather dull between Jan. 31 and Feb. 3 with an opportunity for fun and work.

Part of the expenses will be paid by the PSCA. Anyone interested is asked to contact Jim Smith or Betty Farrow in 304 Old Main.

Veterans' Committee To Meet on Sunday

The committee to give the examination to applicants for the position of Director of Veterans Affairs will meet at the American Legion home in State College Sunday afternoon.

According to present arrangements the examination will be given March 1. The place and time will be announced later.

News Briefs

Ski Club

Penns Valley Ski Club will meet in 110 Electrical Engineering at 7:30 o'clock, at which time the movie "Pico Powder," showing skiing at Pico Peak, Vt., will be shown and plans discussed for a trip to the Pittsburgh ski area this weekend.

Cap, Gown Committee

The Senior Cap and Gown Committee will meet on the second floor lounge of Old Main at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, according to Charles E. Hurd, chairman.

Transportation for Meet

Students desiring transportation to attend the meeting of the Centre County Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation in the Bellefonte High School Library at 8 o'clock tonight shall contact Miss Marie Haidt, 101 White Hall, or Charles Stoddart, Jr., 301 Recreation Hall, before 3 o'clock today.

Interrupt Training Forms

Graduating seniors who have not filled out interrupted training forms should do so immediately, at the Veterans Affairs Office, first floor of Old Main.

Ath News Review

The weekly news review in the Southwest lounge of Atherton Hall at 6:15 o'clock will have Dr. John H. Ferguson, head of the political science department, as guest speaker. The news review is sponsored by Common Sense, PSCA, and WSGA, and is open to the public.

ATLANTA—Herman Talmage has lost the first big crisis in his fight for the governorship of Georgia. The Talmage legislative bloc split wide open yesterday over its main plank, The White Primary. And Talmage forces failed to push the measure through in yesterday's session. Action was delayed until Monday.

In the meantime, the anti-Talmage forces are pressing for a speedy court decision on whether Talmage or Lieutenant Governor M. E. Thompson is running the state of Georgia.

LOS ANGELES—Baseball manager Leo "Lippy" Durocher and his actress bride Laraine Day did some fast talking yesterday before an irate Los Angeles judge. But it wasn't fast enough.

Superior Judge George A. Dockweiler ordered the screen star to show cause why her divorce decree against airport executive Ray Hendricks should not be set aside. The decree, granted Monday, forbids remarriage under California law for one year.

The Judge told newsmen that during the conference in his chambers, the actress protested: "Don't you want me to be happy?" He reminded her that this wasn't exactly the issue, and added: "Everyone has a cross to bear."

WASHINGTON—The government may have to pay part of those portal pay claims should the courts uphold the labor suits.

Treasury Secretary John Snyder says the Treasury has ruled that employers may charge off any such payments against their taxes for the years involved.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy W. John Kenney discloses that the Navy might have to foot a bill for as much as nine-hundred-million dollars of the claims. Kenney told a Senate Judiciary Sub-Committee that the Navy is liable for that amount under the back pay suits.

The Senate group is considering legislation to outlaw or restrict the suits to more than four-billion dollars.

This is the final issue of the Daily Collegian for this semester. The next issue will appear on the first registration day, Feb. 7.

Joe College Has No Peter Pan-Like Symptoms

Joe College is growing up. A study of the ages of students enrolled at the College this semester reveals that the ages of the average male student today is 22.3 years as compared to 19.9 in the Fall of 1941.

But while Joe College is more than two years older today than he was five years ago, Betty Coed is 20.1 years of age as compared to 19.4 in 1941. The average student at Penn State is 21.8, while in 1941 the average student was only 19.7 years of age.

Ages in 1931 in all cases were higher than the average ages of 1941. The average male student was 20 and the average coed was 19.6 in 1931, according to figures compiled by Registrar William S. Hoffman.

Students at Penn State this year range in age from 16 to 47. More than 5000 veterans are among the 6136 men currently enrolled at the College.

Book Exchange Opens in Old Main During Finals

Book Exchange will open in 401 Old Main Monday, January 27, through January 31, and February 7 through February 14.

Veterans' book cards will be acceptable at the exchange which will be open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Only text for courses offered during the next semester will be accepted and they will be sold at the prices named by the sellers.

The exchange not only helps to alleviate the current book shortage, but offers students many of the books they are unable to obtain in the local book stores.

As an outlet for used books, the mart makes available notations and underlinings as aids in covering the courses.

Through the elimination of the middleman, the opportunity is offered to the buyer to obtain books minus the middleman's profit.

Conversely, the elimination of the middleman makes it possible for the sellers to obtain higher prices for their books at a charge of five cents per book sold.

Panhel Revives $50 Scholarship

Panhellenic Council has voted to revive its prewar custom of granting a $50 scholarship each Spring to some woman student of the College, Virginia McCluskey, acting Panhel president, said today.

A scholarship committee will be appointed by the Panhel president to select, together with the Dean of Women's office, a "worthy coed with at least a 1.5 all-college average" to receive the award next semester.

Aldebaron, local Greek group, has been granted council approval to become affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta, national sorority, on May 24.

Panhel president Florence Ratchford, who has been student teaching the past eight weeks, will return to her post next semester.

Gagarin Asks Meeting Before Scheduling Riding

All students who anticipate registering for riding next semester are requested to consult with Captain Gregory A. Gagarin in Recreation Hall on February 7 or 8 before taking their schedules to their advisors for final approval.

Because of limited facilities, the number of students who can schedule riding is restricted, Miss Marie Haidt, head of women's physical education, said today.

Ebert Releases Permanent Sites Of New Buildings

Ground Testing Begins On Six Chosen Areas

Locations for six permanent buildings, or additions to existing structures, previously approved for construction on the campus, were revealed today by George W. Ebert, superintendent of grounds and buildings.

Drilling has begun to determine the sub-soil structure on the building sites. The buildings are a general classroom and laboratory building, mineral industries, military and naval science, mechanical engineering laboratory wings, Recreation Hall wing, and plant industries.

Red Brick, Limestone Trim

The new units will be of red brick construction, trimmed with limestone. In addition to the new buildings, equipment will be installed in the College power plant. The present structure will accommodate this without enlargement, it was explained.

The general classroom and laboratory building will face Pollock road, 75 feet east of the present Mineral Industries building. Its ground floor will be a 130-foot square, topped by three additional U-shaped stories. It is the first unit of a structure that eventually will line the west side of the Mall south from Pollock road.

Rec Hall Wing

The first of the two wings originally planned for Recreation Hall will join its south side. It will be 94 feet wide along Burrows road and extend 215 feet toward Atherton road. It will not be as tall as the present building, but will be constructed of matching material.

The new mineral industries building will lie 75 feet west of the present Mineral Industries, also fronting on Pollock road. It consists of a ground floor and three upper stories each 1175 by 50 feet. A two-story wing will be built behind the east end of the building.

According to the master plan for the campus development, this unit will be the north wing of a structure that will face Burrows road and extend south from Pollock road.

Facing Pollock road, west of Phi Delta Theta house and north of the Service Building, will be a new two-story armory.

Wings will be built north and south of the present Mechanical Engineering Laboratory, the same height as the original structure. They will measure 30 by 80 feet and will project beyond the front and rear of the central unit.

The plant industries building will be south of the Dairy Barn, facing Shortridge road. It will be 204 by 51 feet, and has a ground and three upper floors.

Penn State Swimmers To Meet Cornell

With five of their star performers missing because of final examinations, the Nittany swimmers will meet a strong Cornell team at Ithaca, 2 p. m. Saturday.

The Big Red tankmen whipped Rochester 66-9 in their initial meet and dropped a close decision of a powerful Navy squad, 36-33, last week.

Coach Lenny Diehl, in an effort to balance his lineup because of his losses, will change the former lineup to include Leigh Woehling, Clyde Bell, and Bob Musselman in the 300-yard medley; Dick Wesner and Bob Tscheringer in the 220-yard event; Bill Christy and Woehling in the 50-yard freestyle; Bob Meyer and Woehling in the 150-yard backstroke; Bill Walker and Wesner in the 440-yard event; and use Kucel in the 400-yard relay.
