

Weather

Mostly cloudy. Occasional snow flurries.

The Daily Collegian

In This Issue

Players Page 1
Sports Page 3
With the Ed Page 2

VOL. 45—No. 12

THURSDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 27, 1947—STATE COLLEGE, PA.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Dr. Mendenhall Begins Series

Dr. Thomas C. Mendenhall, assistant to the Provost at Yale University will open the 37th annual Liberal Arts Lecture series in 121 Sparks, at 8 o'clock tonight. Dr. Mendenhall's topic will be "The Yale Plan of Curriculum Revision."

Serving for five years on the Course of Study Committee of Yale College, originator of the "Yale Plan," Dr. Mendenhall is well qualified to speak on that subject, according to Joseph J. Rubin, chairman of the Liberal Arts Lecture committee.

Dr. Mendenhall will bring to the campus plans for curriculums used in other colleges and universities. The L. A. Lecture Series is open to all students and faculty. No admission will be charged.

Council Elects Honig President

Albert Honig was elected president of Pollock Circle Council at a meeting Tuesday night. Other officers include Theodore Petrak, vice-president; William Proctor, secretary; and Austin Ackerman, treasurer.

Returns on officers for dormitories which had not reported previously include:

DORM 2—Austin Ackerman, president; John Green, vice-president; Melvin Lurie, secretary; Richard Neilson, treasurer.

DORM 4—Edward Hinkle, president; Arthur Ward, vice-president and treasurer; Morton Grossman, secretary.

DORM 8—Harry Dunegan, president; Albert Vigilante, vice-president; William Fry, secretary; John Pharr, treasurer.

DORM 9—Edmund Koval, president; Richard Boynton, vice-president; E. Soliday, secretary; Richard Bellis, treasurer.

DORM 11—John Mulhall, president; B. Laughlin, vice-president; Walter Mehlfenber, treasurer; and W. Allwoerden, secretary.

DORM 13—Milton Shapiro, president; Harold Smith, vice-president; Franklin Johnstone, secretary; and Carl Kackenmeister, treasurer.

DORM 14—Albert Honig, president; Walter Bienko, vice-president; Kaleb Morris, secretary; and Robert Barteaux, treasurer.

Mary Lou Gets A Vote

Mrs. Bertha Stern, 217 E. Foster avenue—"This is my idea of a typical All-American Coed—no rouge, paint or powder. Just a plain wholesome American girl with no frills. Do I have someone in mind? Yes, a girl named Mary Lou Harmon who once lived at my house."

Children Invade Players Rehearsal

There are only three, but it seems—as Dagwood Bumstead would say—the place is filled with little people!

The three "little people" are State College children rehearsing at Little Theater and Schwab for their roles as the Helmer children in tonight's Players production of Ibsen's "A Doll's House."

Jane Staus and Richard Frontman will play the parts of Nora and Torvald Helmer in the presentation tonight at 8 o'clock in Schwab Auditorium. Tickets are on sale at the Student Union desk for tonight, tomorrow and Saturday's performances.

Full of pep, dashing around the room, scampering across the stage and behind back drops, William Henning, Florence Yarnall, and Elizabeth Henszey seem to be everywhere at once.

Billy, who takes the part of Bobby Helmer, was just four years old this month. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William L. Henning. Dr. Henning is a professor of animal husbandry at the College.

Scene Stealer
On the stage, Billy is a scene stealer and he ad-libs, takes the other actors lines and prompts his playmates. He is an actor, comedian, and director, all in one.

WILLIAM HENNING

One night there was a pause on stage and Billy shouted to Arthur C. Cloetingh, director of "A Doll's House":

"Hey, Mr. Cloetingh, Krongstad is supposed to be on now!"

A Yellow Face

At another time Billy stopped in the middle of one of his lines and looked puzzled, said to Marina Christman:

"Your face is all yellow. Why is your face yellow?"

Miss Christman had to stop and explain to him that it was because of the yellow lights.

This is not the first time that Billy, who attends the Home Economics Nursery School at the College, has been on the stage. Mr. Cloetingh first spied him at a church Christmas program last year when Billy recited "The Night Before Christmas."

Having Trouble

"He was having a difficult time of it though," said Mr. Cloetingh, "because the little girl beside him insisted on making love to him."

Florence, who takes the part of Barbara Helmer, is six years old. She is the daughter of Mrs. H. E. Yarnall.

At one point in the children's scene, they put their arms around each other. Florence thought it would be fun to play "tug of war," and she did!

"Florence! Let go!" called Mrs. Cloetingh.

(Continued on page four)

Coeds Attend Matrix Dinner

One hundred fifty prominent women on campus will be invited to the 10th annual fromal Matrix Table March 17 at the Nittany Lion Inn, according to Lynette Lundquist, president of Theta Sigma Phi.

Coeds are chosen to attend the banquet by Theta Sigma Phi members on the basis of their campus activities as listed on their W.S.G.A. records.

The dinner, sponsored by the women's national journalism honorary, will celebrate the 75th anniversary of women on campus. The decorations and program will carry out this theme.

The traditional skit will be presented by Theta Sigma Phi members. A prominent woman speaker will be announced shortly.

Dance Features Roye Orchestra

Tickets for the WSGA-sponsored Anniversary Waltz are now on sale at Student Union for $1.20 per couple.

The informal, boy-girl affair will be held in White Hall after the basketball game Saturday, March 1.

Sonny Roye and his Aristocrats will furnish the music, and student novelty entertainers have special arrangements worked up on the anniversary theme.

Decorations chairman, Nan James, stated that the decorations will celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of coeds on campus. Pictures of the Penn State coed of seventy-five years ago and the Penn State coed of today will be featured.

Jane Lyons and Janet Taylor are co-chairmen for the informal waltz. Francine Gittelmacher heads the entertainment committee, and will be Mistress of Ceremonies for the novelty groups.

Belles Lettres Holds Semester's First Meeting

Belles Lettres, College literary club, will hold its first meeting of the semester in the Southeast lounge of Atherton Hall at 3:30 today, stated George Sempeles, president of the club.

Miss Sybil Emerson will talk on "Marcel Proust and Painting." Sempeles added that everyone is invited to this reorganization meeting.

Canal Boats!

Mr. Eugene Musser, manager of a local shoe store said, "I find that the typical American Coed wears a size 7A shoe."

Late AP News

Courtesy Radio Station WMAJ

Russia OK's Request

MOSCOW—Russia has endorsed a United States request for immediate American trusteeship over strategic Japanese-mandated islands in the western Pacific. Japan mounted her attack on Pearl Harbor, Wake and Guam from these islands. Russia's action—and expressions from other Security Council members—indicate that the United States will gain eventual approval of its request.

Reaffirms Attitude

WASHINGTON—A comment has come from the White House on the Palestine debate in the British House of Commons. Foreign Secretary Bevin asserted that President Truman wrecked a chance of settling the issue by his statement calling for immediate immigration of 100,000 Jews into the Holy Land.

But now Presidential Secretary Charles Ross has handed out a statement called the implication of the Palestine debate in Commons "most unfortunate and misleading." The White House added that Mr. Truman had merely reaffirmed the American Government's attitude toward Palestine.

No Sign of Plane

JUNEAU—Search planes are moving westward, scanning the Alaskan Peninsula wilderness for a B-29 Superfortress missing since Monday with a crew of 11. The commanding general of the Alaska Air Command says the plane last reported it was near a pass on the mainland peninsula. The plane vanished on the same day 11 crewmen from another B-29 were rescued from the ice pack on the northwest coast of Greenland.

Wants Free Speech

WASHINGTON—AFL President William Green appeared before the House Labor Committee yesterday. The questioning was hot and heavy. Green continued to oppose nearly all of the labor legislation before Congress. However, he did tell Republican lawmakers that he is willing for Congress to assure free speech for employers and to have unions register and file financial reports.

Steidle Names 42 On MI Dean's List

According to Edward Steidle, dean of the School of Mineral Industries, six students received 3.00 averages for the fall semester. Thirty-six graduates earned 2.50 averages or better.

Seniors with 3.00 averages are William L. Frankhouser and Robert F. Swope. Juniors are Earle R. Cressman and Robert W. Hall. George W. Keller was the only sophomore. Doris Bye, special student, was also listed.

Those seniors who were graduated in February with 2.5 averages or higher include David P. Hughes (2.75) and Hugh R. Larson (2.66).

Graduating Seniors

Among the graduating seniors listed are Milton V. Dinowitz (2.62), Charles L. Hosler (2.83), John B. Kebblish (2.57), William B. Leisley (2.50), William H. Love (2.50), Robert H. Miller (2.52), Selma Moses (2.73), Fred M. Nicholas (2.57), Harry G. Shoemaker (2.51), Horace J. Weymer (2.50).

(Continued on page four)

Collegian

There will be a meeting of Collegian editorial sophomore board members and candidates in the news room, Carnegie Hall, at 7 p. m. Attendance is compulsory.

News Briefs

Ath News Review

Mary Jane Wyland, associate professor of education, will speak at the Atherton Hall News Review in the Southwest lounge at 6:15 o'clock.

MI Movies

The Mineral Industries Society will show movies on "The Story of Gasoline" and "The Story of Coal" in 121 Mineral Industries at 7:15 o'clock.

Colloquium

George H. Rowe, III, research assistant in metallurgy, will speak on "Glass-to-Metal Seals" at the Metallurgical Colloquium in 121 Mineral Industries at 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

Added to Dean's List

On the Engineering Dean's list is Marvin Aaron Feigen, with an average of 2.76.

Junior La Vie

All Junior members of La Vie will meet at the Penn State Photo

Shop for a picture at 6:45 o'clock, according to Seymour Rosenberg, editor. This includes junior members of the art staff, he said.

Critique Candidates

Sophomore candidates for the circulation staff of Critique are asked to attend a meeting in the Critique office, 5 Carnegie Hall, at 8 o'clock, according to Fritz Troutman, circulation manager.

Froth

Froth junior editorial and business boards are asked to report for La Vie picture at the Penn State Photo Shop at 7:30 o'clock. Non-graduating members of the Froth senior staff are asked to schedule their own individual appointments at the Photo Shop.

Home Ec 304

All those interested in taking Home Ec 304, the course "Catering for Fraternities," this semester, should see Professor Atkinson in 4 Home Economics.

No Cause For Alarm In Coed Contest, Says Juba

"I'll tell you confidentially, you've got some beautiful, good looking girls here and they should have no trouble in a national contest," ventured John Juba, State College police chief, when informed of the contest for the Miss American Coed of 1947.

The local chief of police said that he thought Proth's Beauty judges should stress naturalness and neatness when making the Penn State selection.

Juba added, "You can talk about these movie stars, but Penn State has the beautiful girls, especially when they're dressed up for church on Sunday. I've been to Pittsburgh and the girls there can't compare."

Artist Series Stars Enesco

Georges Enesco, famous Rumanian conductor, composer and violinist, will appear at the College on March 3, in the third program of the Artists' Course Series.

As his opening selections, Enesco will play "Grave" by Fr. Bach-Kreisler, and an andante, minuet and rondo by Mozart. Schumann's "Sonata No. 2 in D Minor" will include four movements, ziemlich langsam—lebhaft, sehr lebhaft, leise—einfach and bewegt.

Following intermission, he will play "Poene" by Chausson, "Minstrels" by Debussy, "Bagatelle" (in Rumanian style) by Scarlatescu and "Zigeunerweisen" (gypsy airs) by Sarasate.

Sanford Schlusell will accompany Enesco at the piano.

Stage seats for Enesco's program will not be available, Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, chairman of the committee, said.

See What Happens

Fritz Lennox, another engineer, thinks Penn State coeds are too young, inexperienced and childish. "I'm transferring to NYU next semester," he added.

Concert Calendar

Mar. 23...Symphony Orchestra
Mar. 30...College Choir & Orchestra
April 20...Blue Band
April 27...Glee Club
May 4...Phi Mu Alpha
May 11...Symphony Orchestra
May 16...Trebble Singers
May 25...Blue Band (outdoors)