Hillel Sponsors Book Forum

Miss Hannah L. Goldberg, New York City, will speak at Hillel, 8 o'clock tonight. Miss Goldberg is the first of four lecturers in a book forum that the Foundation is sponsoring.

The Jewish Resistance Movement being her main topic, she will discuss A. Koestler's current book, "Thieves in the Night," which deals with the clash in Palestine. The forum is open to the general public, and will continue throughout the month of March.

Miss Goldberg, a graduate of Boston University Law School, and interpreter of books, is a staff book reviewer for many newspapers and periodicals.

She is executive secretary of the Jewish Reconstructionist Foundation and national education chairman of Hadassah, a women's Zionist organization of which she was formerly vice-president. She is also a member of the American Zionist Youth Commission.

Book Exchange Saves $500 For 1100 Students

One thousand, one hundred students used Book Exchange facilities this semester, said Jane Weigle, Book Exchange chairman, today. Total business was $1400 and savings of $500 were gained for these students, said Miss Weigle.

Those who have not called for their checks will be notified of their oversight by mail. These mailing notices will be completed by March 18.

A few hard-to-get books are now being stored in preparation for next semester.

Notice of book collection will be made early in May. Chairman Weigle also stated that Book Exchange activities for the summer term are at present undecided.

Total registration at the College has reached 7069, according to William S. Hoffman, registrar. One hundred and twenty have enrolled at Mont Alto.

tice on WMAJ's "Groovology" program, and "Bless You" was dedicated to little number five.

Milt Clark, self-appointed godfather, phoned the "Night Mayor" of Charlotte, N.C.'s radio WBT, and telegraphed station WIP in Philadelphia of the event. Dedications then followed from the deep South and the "City of Brotherly Love."

Now Slinky has the proud tired look of a mother who has done her job well.

The Delts feel she has earned a big steak for her part in breaking a record!
