

Late AP News

Courtesy Radio Station WMAJ

WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court has handed down its decision on the John L. Lewis contempt case. The next question is, will Lewis be willing to accept the decision?

The high tribunal in a seven to two decision held Lewis and his United Mine Workers guilty of contempt in disobeying the Federal Anti-Strike Injunction issued last fall. Today's decision upheld the $10,000 fine against Lewis.

John L. Lewis is keeping his thoughts and his comment to himself. But from the tone of his December message to the miners, the message that ended the strike, it appeared he was willing to accept the high court's decision.

However, the decision has brought a rumble of angry words from some of the miners in the coal fields. One union district official in Pittsburgh called the Supreme Court decision "a rotten deal for labor."

Members of Congress, on the other hand, are applauding the high court decision, and so is a spokesman for the National Soft Coal Association. Industry spokesman John Battle said the ruling should be a warning to all labor leaders that no group in the country can "be allowed to set itself up above the law."

WASHINGTON—Labor Secretary Schwelienbach handed Congress a bill aimed at preventing secondary boycotts, the type in which employees of one company refuse to handle materials produced by another company.

Schwelienbach's plan didn't exactly ring the bell with the Senate Labor Committee. Senator Joseph Ball of Minnesota objected on the grounds the Schwelienbach proposal wasn't tight enough.

WASHINGTON—A settlement has been announced in the CIO maritime strike on the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts. An arbitration award grants 90,000 seamen a six percent wage increase instead of the 15 percent demanded. Settlement was announced by Arbitrator Frank Taylor.

Hat Societies

Tap 19 Seniors

Tapping ceremonies will be held by Parmi Nous and Skull and Bones, senior and junior honoraries, in front of the Lion Shrine at 12:50 today. All actives and tappers are requested to attend.

The following men, all graduating seniors will be tapped by one of the societies: Clyde Bell, Berne Cramer, Frank Davis, William Douglas, Boyd Eiters, Albert Green, Fred Kecker, James Lawther, John F. Floyd, George Locotas, William Masseth

Arthur Miller, Robert Mulligan, Seymour Rosenberg, Raymond Shibley, Stephen Sinichak, Gene Sutherland, Richard Yodes, and Kenneth Yount.

There will be a banquet for all actives and initiates of Skull and Bones at the Anchorage at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

Parmi Nous initiation luncheon will be held at the State College Hotel at Wednesday noon, according to Charles Hurd, president.

Players Stage 'Skylark' Tonight As Arena Show

Players' arena production of "Skylark" will be given tonight for the members of Players, Thespians, and Masquerettes in the main dining room of the State College Hotel.

The affair will be semi-formal and admittance will be by invitation only. Supper will be served after the performance.

Tomorrow night the play will be given for 100 members of the faculty. The next two performances will be open to students on March 22 and 28. Tickets will be available on the Mondays preceding these dates.

Theater parties may be arranged at the dramatics office, and, according to Arthur C. Cloetingh, for every party performance there will be an open night production for students.

Clothing Drive

Alpha, Rho, Omega, Russian honorary, begins clothing drive for European families today. Contributors should contact Pearl Bell at 733 McKee street or phone 3102.

Houck Host to EIBA Boxers

Rec Hall Scene

For 40 Bouts

Leo Houck, coach of the Nittany Lion boxing team for the past 25 years, plays host to the 24th championship tournament of the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Association in Rec Hall tonight and tomorrow.

The preliminary card of 16 bouts will get under way tonight at 8 o'clock. The semi-final 16 bouts will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock with the finals scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Six member schools of the Association will enter teams in the tournament. Only Western Maryland, with seven contestants listed, will not enter a complete team.

DRAWINGS TODAY

Drawings for the preliminary round will be held this morning. Four boxers in each weight will fight tonight. Those drawing byes will be automatically advanced to the semi-finals.

Glen Hawthorne and Captain Jackie Tighe are given the best chances of winning individual titles for the Lions.

Hawthorne will meet his toughest competition from Virginia's Basil Miragliotta while Tighe must get past Army's Harry Ball.

Ball rates as favorite to take his second straight EIBA title although he lost a close decision to Tighe in Rec Hall last month.

Miragliotta is one of Virginia's three undefeated boxers. The Cavalier holds a one-point decision over the Lion 130-pounder.

STRONG CONTENDERS

The 175-pound class will see two strong contenders in (Continued on page three)

The Daily Collegian

VOL. 45—No. 17

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 7, 1947—STATE COLLEGE, PA.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

WEATHER

Mostly cloudy with snow flurries and colder.

Thespians Name Musical Revue

"Varsity Sweetheart" is the title of the Thespian Club's Spring revue, according to Richard Frontman, production manager, who with Pepper Birchard has written the book for the musical.

"This will be a musical revue, not a vaudeville show, with the theme being houseparty weekend and college life," pointed out Frontman.

THREE-NIGHT RUN

The production will run three nights, opening on Thursday April 17, and continuing over Interfraternity houseparty weekend, April 18 and 19.

This will be the club's 49th presentation and the third that Frontman has helped to write. Birchard and Frontman also wrote the book for last semester's musical, "No Kick Coming."

With only five more weeks of rehearsing, skit director Portman Paget has completed casting the major leads while the chorus is learning its routine under the direction of Beatrice Stern.

QUARTET, GLEESINGERS

Music director, Ray Fortunato, has been working with the original music for the show and coaching the Varsity Quartet and Glesingers.

Frontman announced that Beatrice Silverstone has been named costume manager and that Jerome Trumper will be house manager for the production.

Fees Due Monday

Spring semester fees will be paid in Rec Hall from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. continuously Monday, announced Bursar Russell E. Clark.

At this time all students will receive AA books. Names of veterans will be posted at special windows where they may obtain their books. Married students may get an extra book by paying the $1.50 tax.

LA Nominations Close Monday

Deadline for nominations of LA students to fill vacancies on the Liberal Arts Student Council will be 4 p.m. Monday.

Candidates must be registered in the office of the Dean of Liberal Arts in Sparks. Students must have a 1.5 all-college average in the School of Liberal Arts to qualify for the council.

Students may be nominated for the vacancies by other students or by self nomination. Nominees' names will appear in Tuesday's Collegian.

Elections will be held in 10 Sparks at 7 p.m. Wednesday. The LA Student Council will continue work in gathering opinions and suggestions from the student body for betterment of the LA School.

Plans for improving the selection of texts and improving teacher and student relationships are the main work for the present semester. Student polls will be taken to find course and teacher ratings. Council members have been given representation on various committees for LA School improvements.

'College Coed Has Edge In National Contest'

Winner of the national contest to name Miss American Coed of 1947 will be, in all probability, a Penn State coed, according to J. Arthur Stober, Froth editor.

Looking over the contestants entered to date, Stober said he had confidence in the College entry's chances in the national contest, which will be judged by John Robert Powers.

Powers stresses natural beauty, according to a letter received from him. The American coed is, in his opinion, a girl of natural charm, intelligence and beauty.

Fifteen coeds will be entered in the contest which is sponsored by Mr. Powers and fifteen leading college humor magazines. Penn State's entry will represent the central eastern states.

Any individual or group may enter a contestant. The girl must be an undergraduate coed, and her picture should be submitted to Student Union desk. The final deadline is this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Judges who will select the Penn State entry are Louis H. Bell and James Coogan, Public Information; Arthur C. Cloetingh, head of the dramatics department, J. Ewing ("Sock") Kennedy, Thespian advisor; Frank S. Neusbaum, in charge of a motion picture and recording studio at the College; Ridge Riley, Alumni Association, and Marion Ross, professor of art.

Sigma Delta Chi Exhibits LIFE News Photographs

In keeping with the 10th anniversary of Life magazine, Sigma Delta Chi, mer's journalism honorary, and the journalism department are sponsoring a display of 64 of the best news photographs taken from Life's files.

The display will be on exhibit in the lobby of the library next week.

Three panels are devoted to each year from 1937 through 1946. The pictures document the national and international events of major importance and unusual interest. The subjects are varied, ranging from the blitzkrieg in Poland to "Gone With the Wind."

This exhibit includes some of the finest work of such leading photographers as Robert Capa, Fritz Goro, Frank Scherschel, and Margaret Bourke-White.

College Plans New Housing For 1000 Additional Students

Negotiations are under way for the erection of 25 semi-permanent housing units and a cafeteria to accommodate 1000 male students, the Office of the President revealed yesterday.

The development, which will be completed by September 1, will be located south of the poultry barns and east of the new entrance road to the College behind Pollock Circle.

Buildings will contain 20 double rooms and several single rooms for a nominal capacity of between 40 and 42 men each. They will be heated by the College central heating plant and will be of a mass production type of construction.

A cafeteria with a seating capacity of 660 persons has been allocated to the College by the Federal Works Agency under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act. It is presently located at Fort Washington, Maryland.

Players Sponsor Legend Plays

Indian legend plays, originated, written and produced by Mr. Anthony Walsh, will be presented under the auspices of the Penn State Players at the Little Theater at 8 p.m., Monday and Tuesday nights.

The plays are a one-man show. Walsh provides the setting in prologue form and then portrays the parts of all his characters—humans, birds, beasts, and spirits.

Walsh has been prominent in reviving the folklore and art of the Canadian Indian, said Arthur Cloetingh, head of the dramatics department. Of British parentage, he was born in Paris, reared in Ireland, and educated in England.

He came to Canada and began teaching at the Inkameep day school on the Okanagan Indian reserve near Oliver, B. C. It was here that he originated this type of play.

The presentations are being provided mainly for the drama students, but those students interested in Indian folklore and art are urged to attend, according to Mr. Warren S. Smith, instructor in dramatics.

IFC Gets New Advisor Prepares Booklet

John Lloyd, president of the Interfraternity Council, revealed that Prof. Kent Forster has been appointed to succeed Prof. Burke Herrmann as IFC advisor.

IFC is preparing an informational type booklet, explaining how fraternities operate at the College, to be sent to students at the undergraduate centers and other interested persons.

Fraternity representatives were reminded to register their characters for houseparties with the Dean of Women at least a week ahead of time.

FFA Swings Barn Dance

"Swing your partner" will be the call at the second annual barn dance given by the Future Farmers of America in the Stock Pavilion from 9 to 12 o'clock tomorrow, said Dewey Brumbaugh, recently elected FFA president.

Admission is 75 cents per couple and 45 cents per person. The informal dance is open to all students, said Anne Buganich, chairman. There will be an opportunity for beginners to learn the barn dance steps.

Music for the affair will be furnished by Jim Freyeremuth and his Bald Eagle Ramblers. Refreshments will be served between numbers.

The Stock Pavilion which is located on Curtin road between the Dairy and Forestry buildings, will have a real barn dance atmosphere, stated Lee Dymond, decorations chairman. The color scheme will be blue and white, national colors of the Future Farmers.

Committee chairmen for the dance include Robert L. Smith, publicity; Dewey Brumbaugh, tickets; Lorin Weigard, refreshments; Jim Freyeremuth, music.

News Briefs

Lion Coats

Graduating seniors can order their Lion Coats at Student Union this week, Catherine Garrett, chairman, said. The price is $1.90 and tomorrow is the deadline.

Players Tryouts

Tryouts will be held for the next two Players productions, "Barrets of Winpole Street" and "I Remember Mama," in the Little Theater 7 p. m. Monday. Thirty-nine parts are to be cast.

Business Staff

Candidates for the business staff of the Daily Collegian are requested to attend a meeting in 8 Carnegie Hall 7 p. m. Tuesday. The entire business staff will meet at 7:30. Both meetings are compulsory, Rosemary Ghantous, business manager, said.

Bridge Tournament

All teams entered in the bridge tournament at the Hillel Foundation to be held Sunday are asked to report at 1:30.

Critique

Joseph Peters and James R. Frakes have been named managing editor and feature editor, respectively, of Critique, David E. Cummings, editor-in-chief, said yesterday. Bernard Oldsey is assistant managing editor, and Marian Colver, Alan Fisher, John Borne, James L. Fremo, and William L. Brown, Jr., are editorial associates.

La Vie

All seniors who will be graduated in June and who have not filled out La Vie cards are urged to report to 412 Old Main as soon as possible, according to Seymour Rosenberg, editor.