

Three Nittany Lion Stars Take Titles Over Weekend

Boxers Place Third; Cassidy Whips Champ

Glenn Hawthorne and Jackie Tighe won the 130 and 165-pound championships and Jim Cassidy took runner-up in the 145-pound class to give Penn State third place in the Eastern Intercollegiate boxing tourney at Rec Hall Saturday night.

Penn State, with only one victory in seven dual meets, scored 13 points topped only by Syracuse with 18 and Virginia's 16 points.

HAWTHORNE WINS TROPHY
Hawthorne was presented with the Frank J. Goodman Trophy given annually to the outstanding Penn State senior boxer.

Both Penn State champions won all three rounds of their title fights. Hawthorne decisively Virginia's Basil Miragliotta with a two-fisted attack to atone for an earlier one-point decision won by the Virginian. It was Miragliotta's first defeat in ten bouts.

Tighe, protecting a nose cut received in the Michigan State meet, had an easy time in decisioning Jim Rollier of Syracuse. Rollier, who had been awarded a draw against the Penn State captain at Syracuse, fought a purely defensive battle.

Lion Jim Cassidy pulled the upset of the tourney in TKO'ing Clarence Tannel of Coast Guard, last year's champion, in 43 seconds of the second round in the semi-finals.

Cassidy was stopped by a short jab in the finals and lost a knock-out to Virginia's Willie Barnett. Cassidy's victory was the Lion 145-pounder's first knockout of his collegiate career and his second victory this year.

LOSES ON CUT

John Slusser lost to Army's Dick Howell in a decision that could only happen in college boxing. Slusser, after decisioning Hoover Powell of Virginia in the preliminary round, cut Howell's left eye in the first round.

The referee failed to stop the fight until the second round and awarded the fight to Howell. The Army boxer lost to Billy Byrne of Syracuse when his cut was opened again.

'HUMPHREY' WINS

Jerry Sitkin brought laughs from the crowd when he stepped into the ring with Army's six foot five Paul Weaver. Sitkin opened the fight with a hard jab that shook Weaver and the laughs turned to cheers.

Sitkin dropped Weaver, to the canvas in the second round and the Army boxer, just managed to get up at the count of nine. The Lion heavyweight lost a TKO to champion John McArdle in the semi-finals.

Navy's Hoffman set a new world's record of 3.7 seconds in the rope climb for the only other title as Temple took five crowns to lead the competition.

ROSSI SECOND

Lion performer Rossi did a 3.9 climb for second place as teammates Greene and Wirtschafte, followed with hoists of 4:1 and 4.2 seconds.

Stout, a Temple darkhorse, took the horizontal bar, parallel bars, tumbling and all-around crowns to become the outstanding performer of the playoffs.

Greene Wins

the flying ring title with teammate Ackerman placing second, Bonsall, who fell from his hand-stand act, placed third.

Captain Ray Sorensen, who missed tying Stout for the high bar crown by one point, placed second in all-around scoring.

Bonsall took third in the all-around event, trailing the Lion captain by 14 points. The Nittany captain finished third on the side horse and tied for second on the parallel bars with Greene.

Reiff and McKinney, Temple performers, took first and second on the flying rings, with Sorensen placing fourth behind Bonsall.

Billy Meade fell from the mats during his tumbling act and placed third in a competition which saw the first three places decided by one-point margins.

BONSALL 4TH

The Blue and White squad was awarded the Eastern League trophy prior to the competition.

The Weststonemen completed an undefeated season by trouncing the Owls for the league championship in Rec Hall two weeks ago.

Dietterick Sparks Courtmen In 71-68 Defeat of Colgate

Paced by lanky Bruce Dietterick, Coach John Lawther's cagers pulled off another upset when they beat a favored Colgate basketball team 71-68 Saturday night at Hamilton.

Dietterick—playing his last game for Penn State—not only outshone Colgate's two brilliant stars, Vandeweghe and Braun—but set a modern Penn State scoring record of 27 points. He dropped in 12

Ewell Ties Record; Stone Takes Third

The world's indoor 60-yard dash record was equalled for the third time by Nittany sprint-star Barney Ewell Saturday as he clocked the distance in 6.1 seconds to take the dash title at the Knights of Columbus meet in Madison Square Garden.

Curt Stone, Penn State's National AAU champion, ran third in the two-mile event behind Gil Dodds and Forest Efav.

Dodds, by his victory, scored one of the most amazing wins in indoor track history. Early in the evening the "Flying Parson" turned in the second fastest indoor mile in track history and broke the Garden record. His time was 4:07.1.

BACK FOR 2-MILE

One hour later he returned to the boards and, carefully conserving his energy, outpaced Penn State's Stone and Oklahoma's Efav to take the two-mile title in 9:15.5. Stone was beaten out of second place by Efav—the Stillwater, Okla., runner that he had outpaced a week before to capture the National AAU title.

Penn State's two-mile relay team—Gerry Karver, Howie Horne, Mitch Williams, and Bill Shuman—placed fourth in the race won by Manhattan in 7:50. The Wernermen's time was 7:56.

Dodds' dual victory in Saturday's meet marks the first time in indoor track history that a runner has won both the mile and two-mile events, and marked the "Iron Man's" 18th consecutive victory this year.

It is also the fourth time, since his return to trackdom, that the Parson has been clocked under 4:10 for the mile distance.

field goals and made three out of three free throws to eclipse the record of 25 points previously set by Jack Biery against Susquehanna in the opener this season.

After a listless first half in which the Nittany Lions trailed 33-25, the tempo picked up considerably as the teams matched shot for shot in the third quarter.

But in the last Dietterick quarter, the Lawthermen picked up the lost ground and tied it up at 62-62 with two and a half minutes remaining.

Dietterick led the way to another tie at 68-68 with only 35 seconds left. Then Simon was fouled. Biery, who entered the game to replace Simon, who was injured on the play, sank the foul for the winning margin.

GOOD MEASURE

Johnny Rusinko added a field goal for good measure when he dribbled the length of the floor, for a lay-up and two-points as the gun went off.

It was the 10th victory for the Lawthermen as they closed their season with a 10-8 record. And it was the second time this season the team reached a 71-point total, the first being against Carnegie Tech February 12.

America's foremost authority on young people's problems

Somebody's arm must have slipped when they cut you out. You didn't follow the pattern at all. So you wince when you look at yourself in the glass! There couldn't be another forehead in the world like that. There couldn't possibly be another mouth like yours. And why under the sun did you have to be blessed with two cowlicks? Wouldn't one have been enough?

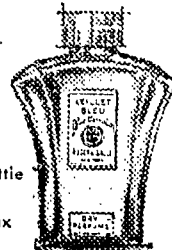

If you could have only been born looking like everybody else! Oh, you have the right number of ears, eyes and nose. But what an assortment! And are you ever stuck with them!

Well, there was a little girl and she had a little curl. There was a horse with a horn on his forehead. If you asked them what they thought about their claims to fame she'd say her curls weren't cute...he'd say his horn was horrid. But everybody knows about that girl and that horse...because they didn't look like everybody else!

So why not make your private thorn your trademark? Emphasize your quirky eyebrow...concentrate on featuring your cowlicks...play up your unusual hairline...sleek yourself to go with slick, straight hair. Instead of trying to camouflage your secret worry...brazen it into a talking point. Play it up...let it do something for you. Everybody's going to see it anyhow...so let them know that you, too, know it's there!

Make it interesting...register it on your audience. Make them remember your featured feature. Should you have two to deal with...and one a real problem...you can flag their eyes into seeing only what you want them to see. And that takes the hurt out of thorns!

Recipe for Really Registering
