4 Coeds to Debate Seton Hill College

Women's Debate Team will enter four delegates in a tournament to be held at Seton Hill College, Greensburg tomorrow. To be discussed is the question: "Resolved, That labor shall have a direct share in the management of industry."

Rose Marie Wagner and Betsy Marshall compose the affirmative squad; the negative team will include Jane Fouracre and Sally Freedly. A member of the speech department will accompany the four representatives to this orthodox debate style tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Conner welcomed the birth of a baby girl, Susan Kay, on Saturday morning, March 8.

Riflewomen Shoot 500 In Intercollegiate Meet

Penn State's riflewomen shot a perfect 500 out of a possible 500 points in their recent telegraphic meet with four colleges. Rifle Club president Wanda Rickard said today.

Shooting perfect scores on the 50-foot White Hall range for the College were Joan Heath, Jean Posey, Miss Rickard, Laura Wiley, and Laurie Zekauskas.

Competing Colleges' Returns

Telegraphic returns from two of the competing colleges listed Rhode Island State College's score at 478 and University of Michigan, 479. Returns from the University of Kansas and University of Hawaii have not yet been received.

The five highest of ten targets are submitted for intercollegiate rating. Besides the perfect scorers, Lovetta Dinius, Polly Goodwin, Jeanne Houtz, Barbara Knoll and Betty Jane Sammons participated in the meet.

The rifle varsity has won six out of eight matches; 11 being scheduled for the season. They lost to Beaver College by one point, to Oklahoma Agriculture and Mechanical College by 3 points.

The riflewomen will compete with Massachusetts State College and the University of Oklahoma tonight.
